War In Air Stepping Up Fiercely

. . . INDIA, PAKISTAN BOMB EACH OTHER'S CITIES

New Delhi, India (AP)—India claimed that its air force beat off Pakistani bombers trying to attack New Delhi early Wednesday and shot down one of the raiders.

A defense ministry spokesman said no damage was caused in the Indian capital and made no mention of Indian losses in the aerial skirmish.

Retaliation Expected

Air raid sirens sounded in New Delhi for 10 minutes. The capital had expected a raid in retaliation for an Indian air strike early Tuesday against the airport at Rawalpindi, Pakistan's capital.

The defense ministry spokesman said Pakistani planes attacked Halwara airport in Punjab state twice and dropped paratroopers. He added it was not believed any paratroops were dropped near New Delhi.

Air battles swirled all day up and down India's frontier with West Pakistan and 1,000 miles away along sections of the eastern India-East Pakistan border.

Besides Rawalpindi, bombs fell on Karachi, Pakistan's chief seaport, and on Indian cities in Punjab state, adjacent to long-disputed Kashmir, where the spreading conflict started a month ago.

Jet bombers and streaking fighters sought out each other in combat over wide sections of both countries and with rockets, bombs and machine guns hit at airports, bridges, roads and tanks. Each side charged that the other hit defenseless civilians

A Pakistani spokesman said the Indians were stopped in all three prongs of their drive toward Lahore, a Moslem Holy city 15 miles inside Pakistan.

Pakistani forces also had slowed in their eastward drive across southwestern Kashmir. No new advances were reported since the Pakistanis captured Jaurian, a post about five miles from Akhnur.

The Indians charged that Pakistani planes bombed and strafed civilians in and around the Punjab state cities of Amritsar and Jullundur Unofficial reports said Ferozepore was also bombed and 14 persons were killed.

Pakistani planes made a surprise raid on the Indian air force base at Kalaikunda, near Calcutta in eastern India, and three bombers were shot down in a dog fight, Indian officials said. Another raid hit Kharagpur, 70 miles southwest of Calcutta

A Pakistani spokesman said Indian warplanes indiscriminately bombed civilian areas" in Rawalpindi and Karachi He said six persons were killed in a Rawalpindi suburb Bomb concussion blew out a window at the U S embassy

The spokesman said the bombings in eastern India were in retaliation for Indian air raids on Dacca, East Pakistan capital, the big city of Chittagong, Jessore, Lalmunrhat and Rangpur

"They are forcing us to react, forcing us to take further action to stop this madness in which they are indulging," the spokesman said. "These attacks are going to be met."

Reports from each side indicated both air forces had mixed missions — defeat the enemy in the air hit his airfields and support ground actions by bombing and strafing vehicles roads and bridges

Great Plains

The Indian government took great pains to point out to foreign and Indian newsmen that Indian pilots were shooting down American-made planes.

Pakistan's army and air force is largely equipped with American weapons received under an aid program that began with Pakistan's entry into the U.S-backed SEATO military alliance

The Indian spokesman insisted none of their forces was using any equipment received from any source as military aid.

But it was apparent that neither impoverished nation would be able to continue the present rate of struggle without drawing upon economic or military aid received from the West, primarily the United States.

Amid all the fighting there was no sign in New Delhi of any move toward mediation or a cease-fire

The combat between Moslem Pakistan and predominantly Hindu India was dangerously stirring emotions and hatreds among majority and minority religious groups.

India's newspapers reported Hindus leaving East Pakistan.

All this brought up memories in the subcontinent, scene of bloodbaths in 1947 and 1948 when Moslems and Hindus killed each other by the hundreds of thousands.

Beaver Crossing Lass Has Top Market Steer

By GLENN KREUSCHER
Farm Editor

Mary Beth Wielage, 13, of Beaver Crossing couldn't hold the tears any longer. Big as huge raindrops they tumbled down on the sleek black coat of her Grand Champion Market Steer, a 947-pound Angus named Seymour.

The champion 4-H steer of the 1965 State Fair had just been selected from nearly 350 Angus, Hereford, and Shorthorn steers that had been judged the past two days by Prof. Gerald Parks of Iowa State University.

The final moments found a packed 4-H coliseum with a Hereford named "Jed" shown by Ronny Morgan, 15, of Burwell, and a Shorthorn named "Swede" shown by Jim Aegerter, 12, of Seward joining Mary Beth and Seymour in the arena for the judges' decision that would name the grand champion from the steers previously selected as breed champions.

Mary Beth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wielage, had just completed some strenuous moments before she entered the arena for the grand championship event.

The Angus breed champion that she won just minutes before was in competition with five other class winners, and two of those entries were owned by her brother Eddie, 16.

"I'm happy, but I'm sorry I had to beat Eddie He worked so hard," said Mary Beth

Only one other thought remained in the young lady's mind, "I want some more calves so I can be back next year."

For Jim Aegerter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Aegerter, it was the completion of a championship route that began six years ago when the family decided to start a small cow herd to produce 4-H club show claves

Another calf from the same herd was selected as the top crossbred market steer in the show. Kay Munn, 14, of Waverly, who had purchased this calf from the Aegerters, wasn't on hand Tuesday afternoon for the show. A few hours earlier she made a trip to the hospital for an emergency appendicitis operation.

Quite An Afternoon

The Angus were having quite an afternoon at the state fair as Kathy Geiger of Cozad won the champion market heifer award with her heifer named "Kate" that she had purchased from the Alvin Leisy herd at Alliance.

There was plenty taking place over in the main coliseum where some of the nation's best known Hereford herds were battling for championships.

The long reign Orvil Kuhlmann and Sons of North Platte held on the champion bull of the Nebraska State Fair ended.

It was a Polled Hereford that judge Gene Wiese of Manning, Iowa, selected for champion Hereford bull but this year the owners were Jesse Riffel and Sons of Enterprise, Kan

Consistent

The Riffels have been consistent exhibitors at the Nebraska State Fair and champion PVF Mixer Worth 31st had previously won the reserve championship at the Fort Worth Southwestern Exposition last winter, in addition to having been named champion in three other Kansas shows

Other first places in the Hereford bull show went to: Sutor Hereford Farm Zurich, Kan., Cumming Cattle Co., Amherst, Colo., and Venango, Neb., who also showed the reserve champion and Nebraska champion; Hervale Farms, Wayne; and Adams Bros., Kilgore

Medals in 4-H beef showmanship were won by Eldon Krebs, Neligh, gold; Jean Aegerter, Seward, silver; and Marilyn Jakub, Brainard, bronze.

Thousands Watch Tractors Compete

By JOHN DeCAMP
Star Staff Writer

A grand champion steer, a crowd-drawing tractor pull contest, and a midway filled with children were Tuesday's State Fair features

Mary Beth Wielage, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wielage of Beaver Crossing, was the happiest girl in the Fairgrounds when the judges named her steer, Seymour, the grand champion in the 4-H market steer competition.

The tractor pulling contest, a first for the State Fair, surprised everyone in its crowd-drawing ability. Several thousand paid the fifty cent admission fee and sat in the chilly grandstand to watch tractors of all sizes and classes pull a sled load of men along the track.

Estimate Revised

Fair Manager Henry Brandt made an early morning estimate that 20,000 would attend the fair Tuesday, but as children kept pouring in to the grounds it became necessary to revise the figures. Brandt's final figure was revised upward to 40,000, 6,000 above last year's 34,000 on Tuesday.

Total attendance at the '65 fair has now reached 370,000. This is only 3,000 below last year's all time record high of 373,000. The fair still has two days to shatter the 400,000 attendance goal set by Brandt.

Late Tuesday afternoon Brandt said that "if it doesn't snow and if the water pipes in the buildings don't freeze, we should still be able to reach the 400,000 goal. I am real satisfied with this fair except for that tragedy we had Sunday."

Man Dead On Arrival

A wailing siren at the fairgrounds Tuesday morning sent chills into fairgoers still jumpy from Sunday's accident. Donald E. Hamer, a Kansas City, Mo., man who has operated a concession stand at the grounds for several years, was dead on arrival at a Lincoln hospital. He collased on the grounds afer apparently being stricken by a heart attack.

In other activities Tuesday National Hereford Association and Nebraska Hereford Association officials met with the Fair Board to plan for the 1966 National Hereford Show to be held at the 1966 State Fair.

The Joie Chitwood Thrill Show will be seen Wednesday night in front of the grandstand. It will fill the spot the George Gobel show has had for the past five nights.

Starting at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday will be time trials and semi-modified auto car racing in front of the grandstand.

Judging of livestock will be nearly completed Wednesday when Poland Chinas, Chesterwhites, Spotted Swine and Yorkshires are done

4-Hers will have a meat judging and identification contest at the Agriculture College at 8 a.m. Wednesday.

The 4-H lamb sale will start at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday in the 4-H barn arena. The most awaited 4-H event, the beef sale, will be Thursday at 1 p.m in the 4-H arena.

Ordinances For Downtown Mall, 1-Way Streets Asked

By BOB SCHNEPF
Star Staff Writer

City Council members Tuesday directed city departments to prepare ordinances creating an improvement district in relation to the proposed downtown mall and setting up a one-way traffic system.

The decision followed a which-comes-first debate over whether re-doing the downtown traffic pattern should receive primary emphasis, or if there is a prior need to find out whether the public wants a mall at all.

The council indicated that public opinion could best be judged at the ordinances' public hearings. They said the ordinances would be introduced as soon as the departments can prepare them.

Councilman John Comstock said that the improvement district ordinance "wouldn't have to specify what type of mall" would be built. The measure would set the limits of the district and list the properties to be assessed, he said.

Earlier this summer the architectural firm of Clark and Enersen, Olsson, Burroughs and Thomsen gave a presentation to city officials and businessmen showing detailed plans for three types of malls with cost estimates included.

On the basis of this, Comstock added, the question of what type of mall would be built could be decided at a later date.

Mason said he favored making P and Q and M and N one-way pairs, and particularly mentioned making P an eastbound one-way and Q westbound.

Attention Needed

The majority of the council agreed that both projects needed immediate attention and said that public hearings, especially in connection with businesses effected by the proposed mall, would give a good indication of public opinion.

Mayor Dean Petersen also agreed, saying that previous attempts to learn how businessmen felt about the mall produced "only three or four letters."

The council emphasized that action on both ordinances does not have to be taken at the time of third reading and can be withheld until final plans are developed.

Both projects, according to council members, hinge on a long-awaited origin-destination study.

The council decided to press for the completion and presentation of the study, variously reported due last April, in August or in October or November.

In Two Years?

"Maybe we'll get it in the next two years," Comstock commented.

Council members also called for

—A written report on the $4,200 mall study undertaken by Clark and Enersen. The council authorized payment for the study Tuesday

—An over-all look at the downtown lighting system.

Two Sky Ride Crash Victims Still 'Critical'

Two victims of the Sky Ride tragedy Sunday at the Nebraska State Fair are still listed in critical condition by local hospitals.

Mrs. Mary Stevens of Preston and Mrs. James Perrie of Hastings are the only victims remaining on the critical list. Mrs. Bert (Carol) Wells of Greenwood was removed from the critical list at St Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday

The other 13 victims of the midway ride still hospitalized are listed in either good or fair condition.

Underwater Blast Kills At Least 7

Trois-Rivieres, Que (AP)—At least seven men died in an explosion on an underwater construction project Tuesday, civil protection authorities reported.

There were 31 men working on bridge pilings in an air-pressured cell under the St. Lawrence River when the blast occurred. Authorities said several men were reported missing

The men, housed in a caisson, were said to have been wearing lifejackets.

Grace Co., State End Crop Stimulant Talks

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The W. R. Grace Co. of New York and the State Agriculture Department have mutually terminated negotiations for licensing the plant growth stimulator developed by Nebraska's Agresearch Program

Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan announced this action following a meeting Tuesday with the Agresearch advisory committee.

Grace had offered $300,000 advanced royalties for the growth stimulator in a conditional bid more than a year ago and had been field testing the stimulator

Conditions

The Grace bid was conditioned upon the company being able to secure a satisfactory agreement on basic patents held by Universal Oil Products Co. and upon approval of the Grace's board of directors

Finigan said neither of these conditions has been met and there's "little prospect" they will be in the near future.

As neither Grace nor Nebraska desires "open end commitments outstanding for any longer period of time," he said, "it is therefore in the best interests of Grace and Nebraska to terminate the proposed arrangement."

Future Interest

Finigan said Grace officials indicated future interest should circumstances permit the possibility of agreements.

Finigan and the advisory committee said any new arrangements for the disposition of the growth stimulator will include provisions to insure its availability to every Nebraska seedman on an equal basis.

The committee and its business consultants are considering how to best commercialize the growth stimulator, with one plan being to make the chemical open to all companies on a non-exclusive basis.

U.S. Cuts Arms Aid; China Warning Ominous

From Press Reports

Washington — U S. authorities said Tuesday there will be no deliveries of U S military aid to India and Pakistan while the two counties are fighting

Whether economic aid will be continued, they said, it is too early to say

They said the Chinese appear to have laid the political basis for intervening in the Indian-Pakistani war over Kashmir, should Peking decide on such a fateful step.

Fantastic Complications

If the Asian conflict should erupt in this manner, there would be fantastic complications, they said

This was the U S interpretation of Communist China's strong declaration of support for Pakistan against what Peking described as "aggression" on India's part

As for the broader aspects of the conflict, U.S. officials said they had no reliable information, on possible Chinese moves on the ground along the disputed northern frontier of India. This is where Peking's forces in 1962 ousted the Indians from positions which the Chinese claimed belonged to them.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said meanwhile that open warfare between India and Pakistan could mean not only "great loss of life" but also "ruin" for the subcontinent's economy.

Rusk said the United States had "very large stakes in the peace of the subcontinent."

Rusk is expected to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday and outline the U.S government position on aid to the warring Asian neighbors.

The United States through its diplomatic contacts is emphasizing to both countries that they would face a grim road ahead if either country sought to win a war of conquest

U.S. government officials have been informed by India that three groups of Pakistani paratroopers were dropped near American-supplied radar stations in the Patiala and Pathankot regions of East Punjab. The paratroopers were not in uniform.

The radars were being used to keep track of Chinese Communist air activity on the Tibetan border.

US officials said that if Communist China should take action with Pakistan against India it would require some major U.S. policy judgments.

Congress And Aid

A State Department spokesman declined to anticipate what effect the outbreak of full-scale warfare would have on Congress, where appropriations for the foreign aid bill must still be voted on. Congress authorized $3.3 billion for the worldwide aid program but appropriations are usually less than the amount authorized.

In the fiscal year ending last June 30, the United States extended $349.3 million in aid to Pakistan and $725 million to India, including sizable shipments of wheat and other grains.

Technically no aid funds have yet been committed to either country for the current year because Congress has not yet appropriated the funds

Ordinances For Downtown Mall, 1-Way Streets Asked

City Council members Tuesday directed city departments to prepare ordinances creating an improvement district in relation to the proposed downtown mall and setting up a one-way traffic system.

"Maybe we'll get it in the next two years," Comstock commented.

Council members also called for:

—A written report on the $4,200 mall study undertaken by Clark and Enersen. The council authorized payment for the study Tuesday.

Two Sky Ride Crash Victims Still 'Critical'

Two victims of the Sky Ride tragedy Sunday at the Nebraska State Fair are still listed in critical condition by local hospitals.

Mrs. Mary Stevens of Preston and Mrs. James Perrie of Hastings are the only victims remaining on the critical list. Mrs. Bert (Carol) Wells of Greenwood was removed from the critical list at St. Elizabeth Hospital Tuesday.

The other 13 victims of the midway ride still hospitalized are listed in either good or fair condition.

Underwater Blast Kills At Least 7

Trois-Rivieres, Que. (AP)—At least seven men died in an explosion on an underwater construction project Tuesday, civil protection authorities reported.

There were 31 men working on bridge pilings in an air-pressured cell under the St. Lawrence River when the blast occurred. Authorities said several men were reported missing.

The men, housed in a caisson, were said to have been wearing lifejackets.

Grace Co., State End Crop Stimulant Talks

By VIRGIL FALLOON
Star Staff Writer

The W. R. Grace Co. of New York and the State Agriculture Department have mutually terminated negotiations for licensing the plant growth stimulator developed by Nebraska's Agresearch Program.

Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan announced this action following a meeting Tuesday with the Agresearch advisory committee.

Grace had offered $300,000 advanced royalties for the growth stimulator in a conditional bid more than a year ago and had been field testing the stimulator.

Conditions

The Grace bid was conditioned upon the company being able to secure a satisfactory agreement on basic patents held by Universal Oil Products Co. and upon approval of the Grace's board of directors.

Finigan said neither of these conditions has been met and there's "little prospect" they will be in the near future.

As neither Grace nor Nebraska desires "open end committments outstanding for any longer period of time," he said, "it is therefore in the best interests of Grace and Nebraska to terminate the proposed arrangement."

Future Interest

Finigan said Grace officials indicated future interest should circumstances permit the possibility of agreements.

Finigan and the advisory committee said any new arrangements for the disposition of the growth stimulator will include provisions to insure its availability to every Nebraska seedman on an equal basis.

The committee and its business consultants are considering how to best commercialize the growth stimulator, with one plan being to make the chemical open to all companies on a non-exclusive basis.

U.S. Cuts Arms Aid; China Warning Ominous

From Press Reports

Washington — U.S. authorities said Tuesday there will be no deliveries of U.S. military aid to India and Pakistan while the two counties are fighting.

Whether economic aid will be continued, they said, it is too early to say.

They said the Chinese appear to have laid the political basis for intervening in the Indian-Pakistani war over Kashmir, should Peking decide on such a fateful step.

Fantastic Complications

This was the U.S. interpretation of Communist China's strong declaration of support for Pakistan against what Peking described as "aggression" on India's part.

As for the broader aspects of the conflict, U.S. officials said they had no reliable information, on possible Chinese moves on the ground along the disputed northern frontier of India. This is where Peking's forces in 1962 ousted the Indians from positions which the Chinese claimed belonged to them.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk said meanwhile that open warfare between India and Pakistan could mean not only "great loss of life" but also "ruin" for the subcontinent's economy.

Rusk said the United States had "very large stakes in the peace of the subcontinent."

Rusk is expected to appear before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday and outline the U.S. government position on aid to the warring Asian neighbors.

The United States through its diplomatic contacts is emphasizing to both countries that they would face a grim road ahead if either country sought to win a war of conquest.

U.S. government officials have been informed by India that three groups of Pakistani paratroopers were dropped near American-supplied radar stations in the Patiala and Pathankot regions of East Punjab. The paratroopers were not in uniform.

The radars were being used to keep track of Chinese Communist air activity on the Tibetan border.

U.S. officials said that if Communist China should take action with Pakistan against India it would require some major U.S. policy judgments.

Congress And Aid

A State Department spokesman declined to anticipate what effect the outbreak of full-scale warfare would have on Congress, where appropriations for the foreign aid bill must still be voted on. Congress authorized $3.3 billion for the worldwide aid program but appropriations are usually less than the amount authorized.

In the fiscal year ending last June 30, the United States extended $349.3 million in aid to Pakistan and $725 million to India, including sizable shipments of wheat and other grains.

Technically no aid funds have yet been committed to either country for the current year because Congress has not yet appropriated the funds.

International Money Urged

Washington (AP)—Creation of an international currency to reduce the heavy reliance on the dollar as a country-to-country medium of exchange was proposed Tuesday night by a former high U S treasury official.

Robert V. Roosa, undersecretary of the treasury for monetary affairs from 1961 until early this year, proposed that a group of major countries join in contributing to such a pool to be administered by the International Monetary Fund.

It would be designed to meet a shortage of money and credit between nations expected to develop if the United States succeeds in shutting off the stream of dollars abroad by bringing its international accounts into balance

Loan To British

Roosa also recommended a long-term loan to Great Britain, to be extended jointly by several major countries, to ease that nation's monetary difficulties.

In offering his plan for an international currency, Roosa took note that agreement on machinery for such a fund would take time but he added:

"There is ample time for deliberation, but not for procrastination. Governments must recognize that uncertainty over the future path of monetary evolution can in itself, if it continues long, become a disruptive force."

Roosa emphasized at a news conference explaining his plans that he no longer holds a government position. However, his views are expected to have great influence on administration thinking

Panel For Advice

He is a member of a committee, headed by former Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, which was appointed by the present secretary, Henry H. Fowler, to offer advice on the possibility of devising new means for increasing the international money supply

Fowler is now visiting European capitals trying to gain support for an international conference on the subject

In a book published Tuesday, "Monetary Reform for the World Economy," Roosa put forth his proposal that several major countries contribute their currencies to a special pool which would be set up in the IMF. This pool would provide backing for the new currency, which would be distributed to the participating countries in proportion to their pool contribution.

The new currency, or "fund units," could be readily exchanged for gold, and each of the participating countries would agree that its own currency could be exchanged for gold at any time

Dollar Only One Now

At present, the dollar is the only currency which is fully backed by gold pledge and it is the most widely used unit in international transactions

During the long period of negotiation for setting up such a fund, Roosa said, more conventional means, such as enlarging drawing rights in the IMF, could be used to provide liquidity.

He said major powers also could make long-term loans to countries facing a shortage of reserves. As an example, Roosa suggested that the United States and other countries could extend a loan of about $2.5 billion, running 10 to 20 years, to Great Britain.

This would wipe out the debts which Britain has incurred over the past two years in supporting its troubled currency. The debts, most of which are owed to the IMF, are repayable in three to five years.

Pakistan Asks Turkish Help

Istanbul, Turkey (AP) — Pakistan, invoking the Central Treaty Organization (CENTO) pact, Tuesday formally requested Turkish aid in its struggle with India over Kashmir.

The request was relayed by the Pakistani ambassador during a meeting with Turkish Foreign Minister Hasan Ishik.

Besides Pakistan and Turkey, CENTO nations are Britain and Iran. The United States is represented by observers at council meetings and is a member of some committees.

Exactly what kind of aid Pakistan is asking for was not immediately learned.

But Ankara appeared cool about offering its CENTO ally anything more than moral support.

Foreign ministry sources said that while the pact foresees cooperation between member states, it leaves to individual nations under bipartisan agreements to determine exactly how this would be carried out.

"Anyway we understand the spirit of the pact is against communist aggression," the sources said.

China Sides With Pakistan; Russia Takes Neutral Stand

Tokyo (AP)—Communist China sided with Pakistan Tuesday but Peking's ideological enemy, the Soviet Union, took a neutral position in the Indian-Pakistani fighting.

A Chinese government statement said India launched a sudden attack against Pakistan in a "crude violation of all principles guiding international relations."

Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin urged "restraint on both sides" and said the Soviet Union was ready to help in any way to settle the conflict, said Ikbal Athar, Pakistani ambassador to Moscow.

Peking Radio said Red China was strengthening its defenses and alerting its soldiers along the Indian-China border where the two nations fought an undeclared war over disputed territory in 1962.

The statement said that in Kashmir, where the fighting began, "India once pledged solemnly with Pakistan to grant the Kashmiri people the right of self-determination."

"But far from honoring its pledge," the statement continued, "it has brazenly declared that Kashmir is an integral part of India and subjected the Kashmiri people to brutal national oppression."

Athar Sees Kosygin

In Moscow, Athar met with Kosygin to hand him a message from President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan replying to a message from the premier two weeks ago urging both sides to use restraint.

Athar quoted Kosygin as saying the Soviet Union wanted the fighting stopped and "would like to see us settle the problem between ourselves."

The Soviet Union has good relations with India. Recently it has been trying to improve relations with Pakistan, which had been drifting closer to Red China.

Indian Ambassador T. N. Kaul, emerging from a meeting with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, said: "The Soviet Union fully appreciates India's position. It would like to see a peaceful end to the present conflict."

Thant Leaves On Mission 'With No Illusions'

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant took off Tuesday night on a peace mission to Pakistan and India after last-minute conferences with U S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, Security Council president for September.

Thant told airport reporters he will do his very best to end the conflict over Kashmir.

"I have no illusions about this mission," he said.

"Kashmir has posed a baffling problem for the United Nations for 17 years I need say only that I will do my very best and hope my mission will prove helpful."

Thant will arrive in Rawalpindi, the Pakistan capital, Thursday, then proceed to New Delhi. A U.N. spokesman said he had been assured by both Moslem Pakistan and mainly Hindu India that he would be welcome. He is a Buddhist from Burma.

Thant met late in the day also with Mohamed Ali Currim Chagla, minister of education for India, who arrived in New York to take part in any further Security Council debate on Kashmir.

Kansas-Size Kashmir Rich In Resources

By The Associated Press

Ever since Britain ended two centuries of imperial rule over the Asian subcontinent, India and Pakistan have regarded each other with hatred and suspicion. This has now exploded into war.

They started fighting over Kashmir, which is a little bigger than Kansas and has a population of little more than 4 million of whom 75% are Moslems with ties to Pakistan.

The conflict is wrapped up in conflict between Moslems and Hindus. As Britain was withdrawing 18 years ago, this boiled up into bloody communal rioting which killed hundreds of thousands.

India and Pakistan became independent in 1947 and immediately clashed over ownership of Kashmir — a storied land rich in resources with a poverty-stricken population ruled by a Hindu maharajah.

Pakistani troops invaded Kashmir and India responded with military action. There was bitter fighting and heavy loss of life.

The Hindu maharajah acceded to India but Pakistan rejected this and demanded a plebiscite. India refused that. The fighting continued until the United Nations arranged a cease-fire and, on New Year's Day of 1949, drew a truce line putting India in control of two-thirds of the state. This solution did little to quell the bitterness on the two sides.

Saigon Viet Nam (AP) — Twelve U S B52 Superfortress jet bombers pounded a suspected communist stronghold less than 25 miles northwest of Saigon Wednesday while thousands of American Marines and Vietnamese troops engaged the Viet Cong on the Bantangan Peninsula on the central coast

Operation Piranha, named after the deadly South American fish, picked up steam Wednesday on the Batangan Peninsula 330 miles north of Saigon after the communist force reported there appeared Tuesday to elude the Marines and Vietnamese troops.

A U S spokesman said 44 Viet Cong had been killed in the massive sweep

A U S spokesman, meanwhile disclosed that a Marine unit used tear gas Sunday as the most humane way of removing women and children from tunnels and caves suspected of being a Viet Cong lair

He said a battalion commander, on his own authority, ordered the gas as the "most harmless method" of dislodging the people. The spokesman said the civilians suffered nothing more than crying.

The allied offensive on Batangan Peninsula began at dawn as the troops stormed into the area by land, air and sea.

Chinese To Help Nepal On Roads

Tokyo (AP)—Communist China has agreed to help Nepal build new highways, and a Chinese delegation soon will leave for Katmandu to examine the possibilities of helping build a hydroelectric station "as well as other projects," it was announced Wednesday in a press communique by Nepal and Communist China in Peking

Sirens Credited For Averting Casualties After Omaha Deluge Brings Flash Flood

Omaha (AP) — A near-record rainfall brought flash flooding in suburban Omaha early Tuesday, but police, Civil Defense workers and beleaguered residents reacted quickly and there was no loss of life.

A decision to blast a warning with the city's 25 Civil Defense sirens — installed for use in event of air raids— may have been a major factor in averting casualties.

"We learned by experience, and we didn't hesitate at all to use the sirens," said H. G. Reed, assistant Omaha Civil Defense co-ordinator.

In June, 1964, similar flash flooding in the same area took seven lives. Reed said no one thought of the sirens then.

The sirens prompted a flood of calls that jammed Police and Fire Department switchboards, but Reed said they saved many lives.

While there were no deaths attributed to the flood, a power district linesman, repairing damage from the electrical storm which accompanied the rains, was electrocuted Tuesday. He was Mervin J. Stangl, 34, of Papillion.

350,000 In Area

John Neuberger, manager of the Papio Watershed Board, said some 350,000 persons live in the basins of the Big and Little Papio Creeks which run southerly courses through the thickly populated areas of West Omaha and its suburbs. A large part of them were roused by the wail of the sirens.

Neuberger flew the length of the two creeks after the flood subsided Tuesday. He reported that principal damage appeared to be to construction projects, highways and homes immediately adjacent to the two creeks.

Both he and Reed, who inspected the area from the ground, guessed damage would be less than the $5 million tag put on the 1964 flood.

The rain began about 9 p.m. Monday. Shortly after midnight the U.S. Weather Bureau advised evacuation of the creek basins. By the time the rain ended Tuesday morning 7.88 inches had fallen at the North Omaha Weather Station. At Eppley Airfield the 6.35 rainfall was just short of the all-time 24-hour record.

300 Sought Shelter

A check of churches, schools hotels and other evacuation centers showed at least 300 persons sought their shelter. Many others took refuge in homes of friends and relatives.

Civil Defense authorities said a call for flat-bottom boats for use in evacuations quickly brought more than 50 of the small craft.

Neuberger described heavy crop and fence damage north of Omaha along the Little Papio. South of the city, he said water was breaking through dikes and flooding farm land as far as state highway 370. From 370 to the Missouri River, he said, the dikes appeared to be holding.

The creeks, which combined into a single channel at the southern edge of Omaha, appeared to be pretty well contained at Millard and Papillion by mid-morning, Neuberger reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Orland Jurgenson who lost their trailer home in the 1964 flood got the word again early Tuesday to evacuate.

"Oh no, not again," exclaimed Mrs. Jurgenson.

However, she took her three children to Millard Central Grade School gymnasium to wait out the flood and hope for the best for the trailer which the family bought to replace the one lost 15 months ago.

In Omaha, Tuesday was the first day of school in the city and district 66 systems. In both officials decided to hold classes for those who could make it.

FISH WORMS . . . if you can find them.

Fish Bait Business Delayed

By JOHN LEE
Outstate Nebraska Bureau

Ralston — According to the sign, fish worms—"The best in the land" — could be purchased on the honor system at the M. J. Minduska residence on the edge of Ralston Tuesday.

They could, that is, if you could find them.

Presumably the bait, along with everything else around the place, was submerged in a couple feet of Big Papio Creek overflow Tuesday.

The family had left, as had many others in the area, in the middle of the night to escape the flood caused by rains of up to eight inches.

Lowlands all along the creek were covered with water, and at least two Sarpy County farm families were forced out, according to Sheriff Richard D. Whitted Jr.

A half mile of Highway 370 between Papillion and Bellevue resembled a long bridge as pools of water stood on both sides just below the junction of the Big Papio and the West Branch.

The highway itself remained dry, but county roads were closed by the flood.

The West Branch, which was dealt severe destruction in the flood of June, 1964, escaped most of the wrath of Tuesday's high water.

"We watched the creek all night long, but it didn't go over the banks here in Papillion," said Whitted. Water lapped at the bottom of the main street bridge, he noted.

Firemen kept an eye on the rising river, and some business houses were sandbagged, but it was not necessary to sound a general alarm.

Upstream in Millard, the fire department roused 50 to 60 families in a low-lying trailer court that had been inundated last year.

The river less than 200 feet away "just started over the edge," said a relieved Dich Shalla. He had had four feet of water running through his trailer home 15 months before.

Omaha Urged To Give Flood Control Plans 'Top Priority'

Gov. Frank Morrison and the secretary of the Nebraska Soil and Water Conservation Commission said Tuesday the city of Omaha should give flood control projects top priority until the threat of floods in the metropolitan area is erased.

"Flood control planning in the Papio Creek Watershed is 30 years behind times," the governor said at a news conference. "Buildings and homes should not have been built in the watershed plain until there was adequate flood protection."

Warren Fairchild, executive secretary of the commission, said Tuesday morning's flooding, the second major flood in the Papio Watershed in 15 months, "shows that people in Omaha just can't let their guard down."

Ironically, he said, ground breaking ceremonies will be held Friday for Papio watershed levee improvement work by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. At the same time, a comprehensive flood control plan for Washington, Douglas and Sarpy Counties will be completed and released early next year.

'Real Problem'

Despite an acceleration of planning since the June 16, 1964, flood which killed seven persons, Fairchild said, flood protection for metropolitan Omaha is still six to eight years away.

"There's no doubt Omaha has a real flood problem, and until it's eliminated, industry and business will be reluctant to develop in the area. Flood control is extremely important for the future development of the city, and it should be given top priority by city officials."

Fairchild called for full cooperation between city, county and watershed improvement district officials to implement a comprehensive flood control program.

"With complete co-operation, Omaha could be adequately protected from floods in six to eight years," he said.

Electrical Shock Kills Lineman, 34

Omaha (AP) — A lineman was electrocuted in Omaha Tuesday while he was repairing damage caused by lightning.

Mervin J. Stangl, 34, of Papillion died at the Douglas County Hospital. He had been an employe of the Omaha Public Power District for 11 years.

An OPPD spokesman said Stangl was working on an 8,000 volt single phase line at 91st and Meadow Drive when he suffered the electrical shock. He was on a pole at the time.

BETSY BELTS FLORIDA COAST

Miami, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Betsy slammed into southeast Florida with enormous force Tuesday night, mauling a vast, populous area with 100-mile-an-hour plus winds.

But the worst was still to come.

Leading winds of the mighty tempest — measuring 600 miles from edge to edge — struck dozens of cities along a broad stretch of coastline.

Battered and slashed by sustained winds of more than hurricane force of 75 M.P.H. were the resort meccas of Miami, Miami Beach and Fort Lauderdale and, farther to the south, Key Largo.

But those blasts were only the hurricane's opening guns in what the Weather Bureau said would be an onslaught of much greater fury continuing through most of Wednesday. The storm's highest winds were estimated at 140 miles an hour, accompanied by towering tides and torrential rains.

With its center still well offshore, Betsy already was wreaking havoc along the Florida coast from Fort Pierce nearly 300 miles south to the tip of the Keys.

Power lines were down throughout the area and transformers popped like firecrackers, leaving thousands of homeowners with only candles, lanterns and flashlights for illumination.

Large, unprotected display winndows on many businesses were blown out but most store owners had taken the precaution of boarding up their shops.

There were unconfirmed reports of waves towering to 20 feet crashing across the beaches into roads, homes and near Fort Lauderdale.

Causeways Closed

Some causeways across Biscayne Bay between Miami and Miami Beach were closed by high water. Fallen trees and power lines closed other roads. Highest forecast tides of up to 10 feet and huge waves were expected to slam ashore from Fort Lauderdale to the upper Keys around daybreak.

The Weather Bureau said Betsy would drop between five and 10 inches of rain on the tip of the peninsula, and there was a possibility it would send tornadoes spinning out from its whirling winds Wednesday.

The hurricane marched westward across the Gulf Stream toward south Florida after pounding and slashing the famed resort city of Nassau in the Bahamas for more than 12 hours.

The Bahamian capital, a city of 50,000 on small New Providence Island, was heavily damaged, without power, its streets flooded and buildings ripped apart.

The 12 emergency hurricane shelters in the Fort Lauderdale area were packed with residents, and officials at Miami Beach opened the city's vast convention hall to relieve overcrowding at regular shelters.

Betsy's wild winds forced a helicopter back to land after it took off to rescue nine persons, including one child, reported on two houseboats near Ragged Key, about 25 miles south of Miami.

Health Board Seeking Tighter Garbage Laws

By WAYNE KREUSCHER
Star Staff Writer

The City-County Health Board Tuesday called for a study of present garbage ordinances and disposal problems in Lincoln.

The board passed a resolution which asks the City Council to request the city legal department to study the ordinances to find out how they can be improved.

Dr. George Underwood, department director, said the problem was not with garbage service or with where to put it, but with individuals who do not cooperate with the garbage services provided.

Refuse To Pay

He explained that many individuals in some areas of town refuse to pay the garbage men and thus leave garbage piling up behind the house or refuse to take any responsibility for getting rid of their garbage themselves.

Underwood suggested that some means be found which will make penalties for letting garbage pile up tougher and more efficient. He said that now people who won't pay a garbage man or who won't haul it away themselves are only fined $5 or $10 and nothing is done about the problem.

The board approved a request that L. A. Sanger, health department employe, attend a solid wastes symposium in Columbus, Ohio.

All Phases

Underwood pointed out that this meeting would include all phases of the garbage problem.

The board also discussed a recent survey of restaurants in Lincoln which rated the establishments in comparison with national health qualifications.

Underwood said that only two eating places in Lincoln received 100% scores.

"The problem with most of these restaurants," he siad, "isn't the equipment, but the sloppy handling of food and housekeeping, the human element."

He said that a full report on the survey would be made later.

Investment Down

New Delhi (AP) — Private foreign investment in India fell off in 1964, Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari told parliament. He said foreigners invested $61 million last year compared to $67 million in 1963.

Sirens Credited For Averting Casualties After Omaha Deluge Brings Flash Flood

Omaha (AP) — A near-record rainfall brought flash flooding in suburban Omaha early Tuesday, but police, Civil Defense workers and beleaguered residents reacted quickly and there was no loss of life.

A decision to blast a warning with the city's 25 Civil Defense sirens — installed for use in event of air raids— may have been a major factor in averting casualties.

"We're pretty whistle-shy out here," said a fleeing householder.

"We learned by experience, and we didn't hesitate at all to use the sirens," said H. G. Reed, assistant Omaha Civil Defense co-ordinator.

In June, 1964, similar flash flooding in the same area took seven lives. Reed said no one thought of the sirens then.

The sirens prompted a flood of calls that jammed Police and Fire Department switchboards, but Reed said they saved many lives.

While there were no deaths attributed to the flood, a power district linesman, repairing damage from the electrical storm which accompanied the rains, was electrocuted Tuesday. He was Mervin J. Stangl, 34, of Papillion.

350,000 In Area

John Neuberger, manager of the Papio Watershed Board, said some 350,000 persons live in the basins of the Big and Little Papio Creeks which run southerly courses through the thickly populated areas of West Omaha and its suburbs. A large part of them were roused by the wail of the sirens.

Neuberger flew the length of the two creeks after the flood subsided Tuesday. He reported that principal damage appeared to be to construction projects, highways and homes immediately adjacent to the two creeks.

Both he and Reed, who inspected the area from the ground, guessed damage would be less than the $5 million tag put on the 1964 flood.

The rain began about 9 p.m. Monday. Shortly after midnight the U.S. Weather Bureau advised evacuation of the creek basins. By the time the rain ended Tuesday morning 7.88 inches had fallen at the North Omaha Weather Station. At Eppley Airfield the 6.35 rainfall was just short of the all-time 24-hour record.

The board also discussed a recent survey of restaurants in Lincoln which rated the establishments in comparison with national health qualifications.

Underwood said that only two eating places in Lincoln received 100% scores.

"The problem with most of these restaurants," he siad, "isn't the equipment, but the sloppy handling of food and housekeeping, the human element."

He said that a full report on the survey would be made later.

Investment Down

New Delhi (AP) — Private foreign investment in India fell off in 1964, Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari told parliament. He said foreigners invested $61 million last year compared to $67 million in 1963.

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms....ugly parasites that medical experts say infest 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

State Fair Tragedy

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

One wishes it were only a bad dream but the tragedy at the Nebraska State Fair that has claimed two lives and left many injured is only too real. Nothing can soften the blow for the families of the two victims, John Stevens Jr. of Falls City and James Perrie of Hastings. Every citizen of the state extends his sympathy to the families and friends of these two victims of a collapsed ride at the fair.

But as in every such disaster, thoughts are turning now to the cause of the fatal accident. No one is particularly interested in finding anyone on whom to place blame.

Negligence Ruled Out

As the affair is analyzed, it appears that negligence was not much, if any, of a factor. The rides on the midway at the fair are all inspected by qualified representatives of the insurance carrier on the W. T. Collins show. Significantly, a team of Lincoln architects has given a clean bill of health to all other rides on the midway. If carelessness were a part of the midway operation, it would have shown up in the examination by the Lincoln architects.

Obviously, something went wrong but not because anyone did less than was expected of him. The accident happened as many other kinds of accidents happen, because human beings simply cannot foresee all possibilities in the future. If the future could be told, there would be no accidents of any kind but this is asking too much.

This is not to say that there is nothing to learn from our unfortunate experience. The cause of the State Fair accident needs to be and is being determined. Perhaps this will be known by the time this article appears in print. But a finding of negligence would be most surprising.

From study of the accident, things will be learned that will give the people added protection in the future. The accident should serve to alert the Fair Board as well as the owner of the midway to the dangers that exist with the large numbers of people who congregate at the fair. Fair Board officials point out that safety is always a prime consideration with them. They note, too, that the fairgrounds and facilities come under inspection from appropriate state officials. Thus, it would seem to be going a little far to say that the board has in any way shirked its responsibilities. But there are few things in this world that cannot be improved. It might well be in order for the board to consider the hiring of a safety engineer in advance of and during State Fair Week. The board ought to examine, too, its safety position in regard to all other facilities at the fairgrounds.

There will never be any guarantee against accidents but the board would be subject to criticism if it neglected to take another look at its facilities at this time. If nothing else, it should make sure that no danger points exist that could be eliminated. If the board finds nothing it can do to improve safety conditions, that would be fine but such a determination should be made in view of the accident that occurred. The fair offers a unique opportunity for mishaps to occur. With car racing, the midway, many animals on the grounds and thousands of people gathered together in a relatively small area, the potential for accidents is quite heavy. Thus, safety becomes a factor that cannot be over-emphasized.

Some other things in connection with the Sky Ride tragedy are also worthy of comment. The many individuals and agencies that had a part in the rescue and treatment of people at the disaster scene did an outstanding job. Assistance was rendered to the injured at top speed as a result of good work at the fairgrounds and good work at Lincoln's three hospitals.

Many people on the scene did what they could for those who were hurt. Unfortunately, some people took advantage of the situation by stealing wallets and pocketbooks that were lost in the accident. How anyone could do this is beyond comprehension but there always seems to be this kind of person around. We can only be thankful that they are very much in the minority.

Of course, it is unfortunate that this had to happen in the first year of new Fair Manager Henry Brandt. Brandt has done an outstanding job in continuing the fair in the same fine tradition that has marked its past history. Record exhibits are in place at the fair and the crowds coming to the fair continue to set new attendance figures. The midway accident marred what would otherwise have been another in a long line of always better fairs. The accident has no real effect on the rest of the fair but it certainly dampens the spirit that generally prevails there.

New Manager For Fair

The midway tragedy surely will blacken forever the record of the State Fair but we should profit from our experience. Finding a scapegoat will not help us but we can improve things by looking realistically at what has happened.

MARQUIS CHILDS

14-B Looms As Political Issue

WASHINGTON—That restless, post-Labor Day feeling is already beginning to grip the Congress just as the most controversial administration proposal is about to come up. This is repeal of section 14-B of the National Labor Relations Act which permits states to adopt so-called right-to-work laws.

Repeal pledged by President Johnson in his campaign a year ago is charged with the deepest political emotions. Conservative groups throughout the country are laying down a barrage of propaganda. The prospect is for prolonged debate — a filibuster that could delay adjournment beyond the end-of-September deadline.

The vote will be close and it could turn on a growing discontent with what many senators feel are the dictates of the trade unions. Farm state senators are indignant over the demand enforced by George Meany of the AFL-CIO that 50 percent of all wheat shipped to Soviet-bloc nations move in American ships. The Soviet Union, which has been buying millions of tons of wheat from Canada, Australia, Argentina and France, will not pay the extra 21 cents a bushel for shipment from the United States to Russia's Black Sea ports.

Democrats from the farm belt who might otherwise vote for repeal of 14-B are wavering. Sen. George McGovern (D., S.D.), whose state is more completely dependent on agriculture than any other in the union, says he is not sure whether he will support repeal. Two other Democrats from wheat states, Walter Mondale of Minnesota and Lee Metcalf of Montana, are pledged for repeal. But they are both unhappy about it.

Two or three votes could swing the balance on 14-B when the debate finally ends. If President Johnson should persuade Meany to give up the 50 percent requirement so that American wheat could be sold to communist nations it could provide the razor-thin margin of difference.

The President can by executive order abolish the 50 percent requirement and, according to recent reports, he was about to act. But Meany is said to be resolutely set against relaxing what is in effect a ban. The 71-year-old head of the labor movement is influenced by his principal foreign affairs adviser, Jay Lovestone, whose impassioned anti-communism comes out of an intimate background in the radical movement.

Resentment over the wheat ban is only one source of the grumbling in the cloakrooms over what normally sympathetic senators feel is an effort by big unions to hold their monopoly position and to dictate in areas quite outside labor relations. Longshoremen on the East Coast have refused to unload cargoes from communist countries.

There is a growing awareness of the squeeze of high profits and high wages in key industries. This has been brought to a focus in the steel negotiations as steel wages and steel prices threaten to break through the guidelines set up by the administration. The Teamsters have announced that they do not intend to be bound by the guidelines.

The Maritime unions angered by McGovern and other critics of the wheat ban reply with statements about "greedy grain dealers." Thomas W. Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, sent a telegram to President Johnson calling on him not to bow to the "blackmail" of foreign interests, including the Soviet-bloc nations. His union was one of the chief initiators of the 50 percent wheat requirement.

Gleason is chairman of an across-the-board group of maritime unions. Feuding between the maritime unions was one reason for the long and costly shipping strike this summer. An earlier Longshoremen's strike meant that ships were tied up at the docks for many weeks, and one consequence was that wheat destined for hungry India did not move and the gap in shipments is thought to have contributed to the recent hunger riots.

The belief is that in the showdown 14-B will be repealed and right-to-work laws in 19 states will be invalid. But this will be in spite of a deep disaffection with union practices and union attitudes. Organized labor will not in the future be able to count on getting what it wants with the same ease as in the past when large Democratic majorities were almost always ready to go along. The House has already repealed the clause Labor hates so by a vote of 221 to 203.

Between the upper millstone of the farm bloc and the nether millstone of organized labor the economy is distorted, the consumer squeezed and Congress hears a prolonged bleat of protest from John Q. Citizen. The threat of the second biggest wheat crop in history means more and more surpluses, higher and higher storage costs and more pressure to cut down acreage while a two percent subsidy is tacked onto each loaf of bread. With the repeal of 14-B the unions will have new authority in large areas. Whether this will advance their cause with the public for the long pull is a question.

Republicans Play Against And For

WASHINGTON — Jerry Ford, the handsome, likeable Republican congressman from Grand Rapids, is doing as clever a job of selling Republican leadership to the nation as his home town has done in selling furniture.

But like the veneer on some furniture, Jerry has put a very deceptive front on Republican policy.

He has made it appear that the Republicans were supporting the President on major national policy, though actually he has done his best to cut LBJ's legislative throat.

For Ford has done this through the technique of "recommital." This is a motion to send a bill back to committee on the ground that it needs revision or further study. This puts the Republican who votes to recommit in the position of favoring scholarly reappraisal, not outright opposition — though in actual fact it's the kiss of death.

Time after time Congressman Ford has adopted this strategy. Here is the roll call of key bills which Jerry Ford tried to bury:

Medical care for the Elderly—96 per cent of the Republicans voted to recommit, including their leader Jerry Ford. This was rejected, thanks to the heavy Democratic majority, 236 to 191. Later the majority of Republicans voted for final passage of the Medicare bill.

The housing bill—97 per cent of the Republicans voted to recommit, including Ford. This was aimed at deleting the rent subsidy. The motion was rejected 208 to 202.

Foreign aid authorization—89 per cent of the Republicans, including Ford, voted to recommit on the issue of reducing the very important development loans. The motion was rejected 219 to 178. Later most Republicans voted for foreign aid.

Appalachia—68 per cent of the Republicans voted to recommit, including Ford. This was defeated 323 to 100.

Inter-American development bank—92 per cent of the Republicans voted to recommit in order to reduce the authorization from $750 million. They were defeated 237 to 142. Again Ford was on the losing side.

The antipoverty bill—90 per cent of the Republicans lined up with the South and voted to recommit on the issue of giving governors the right to veto antipoverty projects. Southern governors wanted the right to block integrated antipoverty projects. However, Republicans teamed up with Southern Democrats for a total of 178 votes against the policies of Abraham Lincoln. LBJ managed to mobilize 227 votes against them and won.

The department of housing and urban development—This was to establish a new cabinet post to study and remedy the problems of big cities, such as that which led to the Los Angeles riots. Republicans voted 96 per cent to recommit the bill and kill it. Ford helped lead the strategy. They lost 259 to 141.

The Big Merger

The recently proposed merger of two great solvent railroads, namely the Chesapeake and Ohio and Norfolk and Western together with two or three small loser railways, points up the present day economy of bigness. But it is still not a clean cut disclaimer of the old spirit of all out competition.

There was always one difficulty in all out competition. It spawned a great many businesses, caused overlapping of services and failures and thus did not represent the best in economy. It was a rather costly way of preventing monopoly. Perhaps what was lacking at the outset was a public regulatory commission such as we now have.

All in all, the country can exect consolidations to continue. But they too are not clean-cut improvements.

There is no gainsaying the fact that the desirability of this latest merger lies in the fact that the loser railroads have built up hundreds of millions in tax exemptions which the merger should be able to use. That is a windfall of large proportions, but it is only useable once. It is doubtful that these loser railroads would figure in the consolidation if it were not for their tax position.

So it is a mixed question and the fate of many involved communities will hang the merger's ability to maintain present service after the tax benefits are used up. Perhaps after all this is only a facing up to fact and taking a loss that already exists with the least hurt to the general economy.

But it certainly illustrates that we are not living as we once lived and we must face the fact that competition is a great thing within reason. After that it provokes great losses and cannot justify itself.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer

Dr. Albert Schweitzer has finished his course and now lies forever in the damp red soil of Africa not far from the hospital he built and served for so many years.

He brought the modern science of healing to African tribesmen and in return he received the love and protection from an incalculable number of them. He raised the image of the good white man to new heights and the world applauded him.

He was a curiously gifted man, this Dr. Schweitzer. At least two lustrous careers were his before his sense of humanitarianism caused him to select medicine as a third career and then sent him to Africa where he worked so long and did so much good. His work will go on by those trained by him. But his name will be remembered a long while both in Africa and in the outside world.

But we doubt that fame meant much to him beyond the fact that it raised the value of the charities he performed and thus set a pattern for others. He lived humbly and gave no thought to personal greatness or wealth or power. He mainly believed in maintaining life and giving it more noble meaning.

The world which is devoted to parochial philosophies and political ideologies found him difficult. His views did not coincide with any ideology but his own. He was neither socialist, capitalist, communist nor nihilist, although his actions spelled out something of each. In fact he was not interested in politics or government. This is a sense of constructive independence one seldom finds in an individual. But it is one reason why every country lamented his passing. He belonged to humanity—all humanity.

He was more of a doer than a teacher, but a great doer. His life was difficult. But it was brimming with fulfillment.

Kashmir A Thorn

Fine garments or rugs might be the thought in people's minds as they see the state of Kashmir in the headlines. But Kashmir is in the headlines not because of any such commercial interest as that. It is in the headlines because it is the focal point of an undeclared war between India and Pakistan.

While the war is undeclared officially, both India and Pakistan have referred to the fact that they are at war. The United States, unfortunately, is right in the middle of the conflict, having an interest in both Pakistan and India as at least independent nations if not allies.

This nation has given foreign aid, including military assistance, to both nations. The military weapons given by us to both countries are now being used by each in an effort to establish control over Kashmir. This is not what the United States intended but it should serve to tell us that what we intend and what comes to pass will very often be two different things.

In view of the Kashmir dispute, it would be appropriate for this nation to examine its military assistance program. It is not to the best interest of the U.S. to continue giving military aid to nations so situated as Pakistan and India. This is one of those areas in which our foreign aid program is in need of alteration.

One hopeful sign in the Kashmir dispute is the fact that it has not involved other nations. Prior to World War II, such a development as we have there might have already plunged the world into a major war. But even as things stand today both Pakistan and India are fighting on their own soils as well as Kashmir and the conflict is a powder keg that laces a heavy burden upon the United Nations. It is an opportunity for the U.N. to regain some of its lost prestige but it also could be another and fatal blow to the world organization.

BOB CONSIDINE

You Can't Argue With A Computer

NEW YORK—Am the first to hail and genuflect before scientific miracles. Still don't quite know why the light goes on when a button on a wall is pushed. Will never understand how color can be shot through the air at 186,000 miles a second into a TV tube.

But am all for destroying the new machines which keep tabs on income tax payers. Paid a tax bill to Uncle Sam not long ago that will leave me limp for years to come, and was relieved to be able to do it. After all, it only involved trifling sacrifices: The sale of our house, car, silver cups I won as a tennis player during the Hoover administration, one arm, and two of the children.

In time—let's say 13 minutes—the Internal Revenue Service cashed the check, which is not only well and good but meek and just. Then, my number, not unlike that which adorns the bottom of a photograph of a fellow at Sing Sing, was fed into the IRS computer, which apparently was scheduled to play patriotic marches and call me up with a singing telegram of thanks.

Alas, something had gone awry with the fourth transistor connected to a widget that activates and agitates the wadget. Suffice it to say I received a notice written in that strange square type that computers employ—saying in effect, "Pay up now, Buster, or else!" It was pretty frightening. Only then could I understand why President Johnson fled to the nearest bank to borrow money to pay his tax. You just can't fight the IRS machine, even when it has blown its stack.

It was nicer in the bad old old days before computers. You'd get a note, actually signed by a human being, suggesting that you drop by the tax office and have a chat about such little items as "Hertz Zepplin Rental—$9,578,403.01 — for interviewing new sources. No news developed."

☆ ☆ ☆

There would be this real, live breathing human being to explain the item to, not a clanking Univac or IBM. It was always illuminating, and instructive. For example, a fine spinster-type lady examiner once confronted me with what she considered a transparent fraud. She triumphantly waggled two checks at me and said. "Both these checks are made out on the same date—one to "21" and one to Toots Shor's. Explain that, if you can."

"I guess I went to both places that night," I said.

She shook her head.

"Nobody goes two places on the same night," she said and fined me $12.

I wish it had taught me a lesson.

Judge Grant

I had an occasion last week to be in City Traffic Court for the first time. Judge Donald Grant was the acting judge. The way in which he made each person feel at ease with his patient and kind attitude impressed me very favorably.

The city of Lincoln can be proud of such judges.

Finnish Harbor

Lincoln, Neb.

We read in The Star about the Russian secret drive for an ice-free harbor in the very northern part of West Europe. Is that the reason why the Reds got the Petsamo region from Finland after the Finnish Russian war? I would like to quote some words from the book, "Finland," published in 1936 by Agnes Rothery.

"This northern port is accessible the year around by boat. The mystery of why Finland wanted the Petsamo area is solved."

Space Heroes

Lincoln, Neb.

The exploration of space has done something more than turn all of us into hero worshippers again. Once the initial elements of danger have been overcome, humanity will ready itself for discovery.

In connection with discovery, there are two words which are full of meaning. These words are "life" and "dominion." It is with these concepts that our race in space may eventually concern itself.

Discovery of life on any planet anywhere will not be the ultimate in satisfaction. When sufficient time has elapsed for the excitement to fade and die, a new desire will be born. The exploring mind, the mind with a continual desire for inquiry, will want to examine, bisect, analyze and classify everything. It is man who seeks dominion over other forms of life.

Always and ever there is the possibility that we may meet a race of beings who is superior in intelligence to mankind. If this should be some creation which has found a better way of settling differences than by war and conquest, we may be still more indebted to the heroes of the space age.

But the problem will be one of communication. We already have astronauts and aquanuats. We could do with a few linguinauts who are able to absorb a new language and means of communication.

If we can find no linguinauts who are able to get the job done, then we should go with linger-nots and tell the boys to be back home for supper.

War On Crime

Lincoln, Neb.

In the government lately, there has been lots of talk about the rising crime wave in the United States. It seems to me that Congress should investigate everyone working for the government who has a question about his character, and then weed out those who are undesirable. Then maybe there should be a thorough investigation of the Bobby Baker case, checking everyone who is involved.

By setting an example like this, the government would certainly be able to wage an all-out war on organized crime and so-called juvenile delinquency.

The Laborers

Lincoln, Neb.

On behalf of trade union people with whom I am associated, we want to thank all the editors, columnists and commentators for all the wonderful things they have said and written extolling the men and women of organized labor during our special labor holiday.

We also wish to sincerely thank elected public officials for consideration shown for the problems of little people who work for hourly wages.

Probably no one paid us a higher compliment than our own Lincoln mayor, Dean Petersen, when he issued his official proclamation proclaiming September 6-12 as "Union Label Week." This proclamation with the mayor's seal affixed will be preserved and admired by working men and women of Lincoln for a long time.

Blocked Crossing

Lincoln, Neb.

My own children haven't started to public school yet, but there is a situation that is very provoking for others. About the time school children must report, a freight train keeps them from getting there. Brakemen used to take the cars apart and let folks through, but they don't even have the courtesy to do that, any more.

If the pupils are late for school, it isn't their fault or their parents' when they have to stand all the way from 10 to 20 minutes because a freight is standing still. I live a little over a block from the railroad tracks and have seen this with my own eyes.

Someone told me once that they can block a road for only 10 minutes, but I have seen it happen for longer times and when it is a long freight, naturally it takes quite a while to get clear through.

State Fair Tragedy

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

One wishes it were only a bad dream but the tragedy at the Nebraska State Fair that has claimed two lives and left many injured is only too real. Nothing can soften the blow for the families of the two victims, John Stevens Jr. of Falls City and James Perrie of Hastings. Every citizen of the state extends his sympathy to the families and friends of these two victims of a collapsed ride at the fair.

But as in every such disaster, thoughts are turning now to the cause of the fatal accident. No one is particularly interested in finding anyone on whom to place blame. As the affair is analyzed, it appears that negligence was not much, if any, of a factor. The rides on the midway at the fair are all inspected by qualified representatives of the insurance carrier on the W. T. Collins show. Significantly, a team of Lincoln architects has given a clean bill of health to all other rides on the midway. If carelessness were a part of the midway operation, it would have shown up in the examination by the Lincoln architects.

Negligence Ruled Out

Obviously, something went wrong but not because anyone did less than was expected of him. The accident happened as many other kinds of accidents happen, because human beings simply cannot foresee all possibilities in the future. If the future could be told, there would be no accidents of any kind but this is asking too much.

This is not to say that there is nothing to learn from our unfortunate experience. The cause of the State Fair accident needs to be and is being determined. Perhaps this will be known by the time this article appears in print. But a finding of negligence would be most surprising.

From study of the accident, things will be learned that will give the people added protection in the future. The accident should serve to alert the Fair Board as well as the owner of the midway to the dangers that exist with the large numbers of people who congregate at the fair. Fair Board officials point out that safety is always a prime consideration with them. They note, too, that the fairgrounds and facilities come under inspection from appropriate state officials. Thus, it would seem to be going a little far to say that the board has in any way shirked its responsibilities. But there are few things in this world that cannot be improved. It might well be in order for the board to consider the hiring of a safety engineer in advance of and during State Fair Week. The board ought to examine, too, its safety position in regard to all other facilities at the fairgrounds.

There will never be any guarantee against accidents but the board would be subject to criticism if it neglected to take another look at its facilities at this time. If nothing else, it should make sure that no danger points exist that could be eliminated. If the board finds nothing it can do to improve safety conditions, that would be fine but such a determination should be made in view of the accident that occurred. The fair offers a unique opportunity for mishaps to occur. With car racing, the midway, many animals on the grounds and thousands of people gathered together in a relatively small area, the potential for accidents is quite heavy. Thus, safety becomes a factor that cannot be over-emphasized.

Some other things in connection with the Sky Ride tragedy are also worthy of comment. The many individuals and agencies that had a part in the rescue and treatment of people at the disaster scene did an outstanding job. Assistance was rendered to the injured at top speed as a result of good work at the fairgrounds and good work at Lincoln's three hospitals.

Many people on the scene did what they could for those who were hurt. Unfortunately, some people took advantage of the situation by stealing wallets and pocketbooks that were lost in the accident. How anyone could do this is beyond comprehension but there always seems to be this kind of person around. We can only be thankful that they are very much in the minority.

Of course, it is unfortunate that this had to happen in the first year of new Fair Manager Henry Brandt. Brandt has done an outstanding job in continuing the fair in the same fine tradition that has marked its past history. Record exhibits are in place at the fair and the crowds coming to the fair continue to set new attendance figures. The midway accident marred what would otherwise have been another in a long line of always better fairs. The accident has no real effect on the rest of the fair but it certainly dampens the spirit that generally prevails there.

New Manager For Fair

The midway tragedy surely will blacken forever the record of the State Fair but we should profit from our experience. Finding a scapegoat will not help us but we can improve things by looking realistically at what has happened.

MARQUIS CHILDS

14-B Looms As Political Issue

WASHINGTON—That restless, post-Labor Day feeling is already beginning to grip the Congress just as the most controversial administration proposal is about to come up. This is repeal of section 14-B of the National Labor Relations Act which permits states to adopt so-called right-to-work laws.

Repeal pledged by President Johnson in his campaign a year ago is charged with the deepest political emotions. Conservative groups throughout the country are laying down a barrage of propaganda. The prospect is for prolonged debate — a filibuster that could delay adjournment beyond the end-of-September deadline.

The vote will be close and it could turn on a growing discontent with what many senators feel are the dictates of the trade unions. Farm state senators are indignant over the demand enforced by George Meany of the AFL-CIO that 50 percent of all wheat shipped to Soviet-bloc nations move in American ships. The Soviet Union, which has been buying millions of tons of wheat from Canada, Australia, Argentina and France, will not pay the extra 21 cents a bushel for shipment from the United States to Russia's Black Sea ports.

Democrats from the farm belt who might otherwise vote for repeal of 14-B are wavering. Sen. George McGovern (D., S.D.), whose state is more completely dependent on agriculture than any other in the union, says he is not sure whether he will support repeal. Two other Democrats from wheat states, Walter Mondale of Minnesota and Lee Metcalf of Montana, are pledged for repeal. But they are both unhappy about it.

Two or three votes could swing the balance on 14-B when the debate finally ends. If President Johnson should persuade Meany to give up the 50 percent requirement so that American wheat could be sold to communist nations it could provide the razor-thin margin of difference.

The President can by executive order abolish the 50 percent requirement and, according to recent reports, he was about to act. But Meany is said to be resolutely set against relaxing what is in effect a ban. The 71-year-old head of the labor movement is influenced by his principal foreign affairs adviser, Jay Lovestone, whose impassioned anti-communism comes out of an intimate background in the radical movement.

Resentment over the wheat ban is only one source of the grumbling in the cloakrooms over what normally sympathetic senators feel is an effort by big unions to hold their monopoly position and to dictate in areas quite outside labor relations. Longshoremen on the East Coast have refused to unload cargoes from communist countries.

There is a growing awareness of the squeeze of high profits and high wages in key industries. This has been brought to a focus in the steel negotiations as steel wages and steel prices threaten to break through the guidelines set up by the administration. The Teamsters have announced that they do not intend to be bound by the guidelines.

The Maritime unions angered by McGovern and other critics of the wheat ban reply with statements about "greedy grain dealers." Thomas W. Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Association, sent a telegram to President Johnson calling on him not to bow to the "blackmail" of foreign interests, including the Soviet-bloc nations. His union was one of the chief initiators of the 50 percent wheat requirement.

Gleason is chairman of an across-the-board group of maritime unions. Feuding between the maritime unions was one reason for the long and costly shipping strike this summer. An earlier Longshoremen's strike meant that ships were tied up at the docks for many weeks, and one consequence was that wheat destined for hungry India did not move and the gap in shipments is thought to have contributed to the recent hunger riots.

The belief is that in the showdown 14-B will be repealed and right-to-work laws in 19 states will be invalid. But this will be in spite of a deep disaffection with union practices and union attitudes. Organized labor will not in the future be able to count on getting what it wants with the same ease as in the past when large Democratic majorities were almost always ready to go along. The House has already repealed the clause Labor hates so by a vote of 221 to 203.

Between the upper millstone of the farm bloc and the nether millstone of organized labor the economy is distorted, the consumer squeezed and Congress hears a prolonged bleat of protest from John Q. Citizen. The threat of the second biggest wheat crop in history means more and more surpluses, higher and higher storage costs and more pressure to cut down acreage while a two percent subsidy is tacked onto each loaf of bread. With the repeal of 14-B the unions will have new authority in large areas. Whether this will advance their cause with the public for the long pull is a question.

Republicans Play Against And For

WASHINGTON — Jerry Ford, the handsome, likeable Republican congressman from Grand Rapids, is doing as clever a job of selling Republican leadership to the nation as his home town has done in selling furniture.

But like the veneer on some furniture, Jerry has put a very deceptive front on Republican policy.

He has made it appear that the Republicans were supporting the President on major national policy, though actually he has done his best to cut LBJ's legislative throat.

For Ford has done this through the technique of "recommital." This is a motion to send a bill back to committee on the ground that it needs revision or further study. This puts the Republican who votes to recommit in the position of favoring scholarly reappraisal, not outright opposition — though in actual fact it's the kiss of death.

Time after time Congressman Ford has adopted this strategy. Here is the roll call of key bills which Jerry Ford tried to bury:

Medical care for the Elderly—96 per cent of the Republicans voted to recommit, including their leader Jerry Ford. This was rejected, thanks to the heavy Democratic majority, 236 to 191. Later the majority of Republicans voted for final passage of the Medicare bill.

The housing bill—97 per cent of the Republicans voted to recommit, including Ford. This was aimed at defeating the rent subsidy. The motion was rejected 208 to 202.

Foreign aid authorization—89 per cent of the Republicans, including Ford, voted to recommit on the issue of reducing the very important development loans. The motion was rejected 219 to 178. Later most Republicans voted for foreign aid.

Appalachia—68 per cent of the Republicans voted to recommit, including Ford. This was defeated 323 to 100.

Inter-American development bank—92 per cent of the Republicans voted to recommit in order to reduce the authorization from $750 million. They were defeated 237 to 142. Again Ford was on the losing side.

The antipoverty bill—90 per cent of the Republicans lined up with the South and voted to recommit on the issue of giving governors the right to veto antipoverty projects. Southern governors wanted the right to block integrated antipoverty projects. However, Republicans teamed up with Southern Democrats for a total of 178 votes against the policies of Abraham Lincoln. LBJ managed to mobilize 227 votes against them and won.

The department of housing and urban development—This was to establish a new cabinet post to study and remedy the problems of big cities, such as that which led to the Los Angeles riots. Republicans voted 96 per cent to recommit the bill and kill it. Ford helped lead the strategy. They lost 259 to 141.

Judge Grant

Lincoln, Neb.

I had an occasion last week to be in City Traffic Court for the first time. Judge Donald Grant was the acting judge. The way in which he made each person feel at ease with his patient and kind attitude impressed me very favorably.

The city of Lincoln can be proud of such judges.

Lincoln, Neb.

We read in The Star about the Russian secret drive for an ice-free harbor in the very northern part of West Europe. Is that the reason why the Reds got the Petsamo region from Finland after the Finnish Russian war? I would like to quote some words from the book, "Finland," published in 1936 by Agnes Rothery.

"This northern port is accessible the year around by boat. The mystery of why Finland wanted the Petsamo area is solved."

Space Heroes

Lincoln, Neb.

The exploration of space has done something more than turn all of us into hero worshippers again. Once the initial elements of danger have been overcome, humanity will ready itself for discovery.

In connection with discovery, there are two words which are full of meaning. These words are "life" and "dominion." It is with these concepts that our race in space may eventually concern itself.

Discovery of life on any planet anywhere will not be the ultimate in satisfaction. When sufficient time has elapsed for the excitement to fade and die, a new desire will be born. The exploring mind, the mind with a continual desire for inquiry, will want to examine, bisect, analyze and classify everything. It is man who seeks dominion over other forms of life.

Always and ever there is the possibility that we may meet a race of beings who is superior in intelligence to mankind. If this should be some creation which has found a better way of settling differences than by war and conquest, we may be still more indebted to the heroes of the space age.

But the problem will be one of communication. We already have astronauts and aquanuats. We could do with a few linguinauts who are able to absorb a new language and means of communication.

If we can find no linguinauts who are able to get the job done, then we should go with linger-nots and tell the boys to be back home for supper.

Lincoln, Neb.

In the government lately, there has been lots of talk about the rising crime wave in the United States. It seems to me that Congress should investigate everyone working for the government who has a question about his character, and then weed out those who are undesirable. Then maybe there should be a thorough investigation of the Bobby Baker case, checking everyone who is involved.

By setting an example like this, the government would certainly be able to wage an all-out war on organized crime and so-called juvenile delinquency.

On behalf of trade union people with whom I am associated, we want to thank all the editors, columnists and commentators for all the wonderful things they have said and written extolling the men and women of organized labor during our special labor holiday.

We also wish to sincerely thank elected public officials for consideration shown for the problems of little people who work for hourly wages.

Probably no one paid us a higher compliment than our own Lincoln mayor, Dean Petersen, when he issued his official proclamation proclaiming September 6-12 as "Union Label Week." This proclamation with the mayor's seal affixed will be preserved and admired by working men and women of Lincoln for a long time.

Blocked Crossing

Lincoln, Neb.

My own children haven't started to public school yet, but there is a situation that is very provoking for others. About the time school children must report, a freight train keeps them from getting there. Brakemen used to take the cars apart and let folks through, but they don't even have the courtesy to do that, any more.

If the pupils are late for school, it isn't their fault or their parents' when they have to stand all the way from 10 to 20 minutes because a freight is standing still. I live a little over a block from the railroad tracks and have seen this with my own eyes.

Someone told me once that they can block a road for only 10 minutes, but I have seen it happen for longer times and when it is a long freight, naturally it takes quite a while to get clear through.

MOTHER

The Big Merger

The recently proposed merger of two great solvent railroads, namely the Chesapeake and Ohio and Norfolk and Western together with two or three small loser railways, points up the present day economy of bigness. But it is still not a clean cut disclaimer of the old spirit of all out competition.

There was always one difficulty in all out competition. It spawned a great many businesses, caused overlapping of services and failures and thus did not represent the best in economy. It was a rather costly way of preventing monopoly. Perhaps what was lacking at the outset was a public regulatory commission such as we now have.

All in all, the country can exect consolidations to continue. But they too are not clean-cut improvements.

There is no gainsaying the fact that the desirability of this latest merger lies in the fact that the loser railroads have built up hundreds of millions in tax exemptions which the merger should be able to use. That is a windfall of large proportions, but it is only useable once. It is doubtful that these loser railroads would figure in the consolidation if it were not for their tax position.

So it is a mixed question and the fate of many involved communities will hang the merger's ability to maintain present service after the tax benefits are used up. Perhaps after all this is only a facing up to fact and taking a loss that already exists with the least hurt to the general economy.

But it certainly illustrates that we are not living as we once lived and we must face the fact that competition is a great thing within reason. After that it provokes great losses and cannot justify itself.

Dr. Albert Schweitzer

Dr. Albert Schweitzer has finished his course and now lies forever in the damp red soil of Africa not far from the hospital he built and served for so many years.

He brought the modern science of healing to African tribesmen and in return he received the love and protection from an incalculable number of them. He raised the image of the good white man to new heights and the world applauded him.

He was a curiously gifted man, this Dr. Schweitzer. At least two lustrous careers were his before his sense of humanitarianism caused him to select medicine as a third career and then sent him to Africa where he worked so long and did so much good. His work will go on by those trained by him. But his name will be remembered a long while both in Africa and in the outside world.

But we doubt that fame meant much to him beyond the fact that it raised the value of the charities he performed and thus set a pattern for others. He lived humbly and gave no thought to personal greatness or wealth or power. He mainly believed in maintaining life and giving it more noble meaning.

The world which is devoted to parochial philosophies and political ideologies found him difficult. His views did not coincide with any ideology but his own. He was neither socialist, capitalist, communist nor nihilist, although his actions spelled out something of each. In fact he was not interested in politics or government. This is a sense of constructive independence one seldom finds in an individual. But it is one reason why every country lamented his passing. He belonged to humanity—all humanity.

He was more of a doer than a teacher, but a great doer. His life was difficult. But it was brimming with fulfillment.

Kashmir A Thorn

Fine garments or rugs might be the thought in people's minds as they see the state of Kashmir in the headlines. But Kashmir is in the headlines not because of any such commercial interest as that. It is in the headlines because it is the focal point of an undeclared war between India and Pakistan.

While the war is undeclared officially, both India and Pakistan have referred to the fact that they are at war. The United States, unfortunately, is right in the middle of the conflict, haying an interest in both Pakistan and India as at least independent nations if not allies.

This nation has given foreign aid, including military assistance, to both nations. The military weapons given by us to both countries are now being used by each in an effort to establish control over Kashmir. This is not what the United States intended but it should serve to tell us that what we intend and what comes to pass will very often be two different things.

In view of the Kashmir dispute, it would be appropriate for this nation to examine its military assistance program. It is not to the best interest of the U.S. to continue giving military aid to nations so situated as Pakistan and India. This is one of those areas in which our foreign aid program is in need of alteration.

One hopeful sign in the Kashmir dispute is the fact that it has not involved other nations. Prior to World War II, such a development as we have there might have already plunged the world into a major war. But even as things stand today, both Pakistan and India are fighting on their own soils as well as Kashmir and the conflict is a powder keg that laces a heavy burden upon the United Nations. It is an opportunity for the U.N. to regain some of its lost prestige but it also could be another and fatal blow to the world organization.

BOB CONSIDINE

You Can't Argue With A Computer

NEW YORK—Am the first to hail and genuflect before scientific miracles. Still don't quite know why the light goes on when a button on a wall is pushed. Will never understand how color can be shot through the air at 186,000 miles a second into a TV tube.

But am all for destroying the new machines which keep tabs on income tax payers. Paid a tax bill to Uncle Sam not long ago that will leave me limp for years to come, and was relieved to be able to do it. After all, it only involved trifling sacrifices: The sale of our house, car, silver cups I won as a tennis player during the Hoover administration, one arm, and two of the children.

In time—let's say 13 minutes—the Internal Revenue Service cashed the check, which is not only well and good but meek and just. Then, my number, not unlike that which adorns the bottom of a photograph of a fellow at Sing Sing, was fed into the IRS computer, which apparently was scheduled to play patriotic marches and call me up with a singing telegram of thanks.

Alas, something had gone awry with the fourth transistor connected to a widget that activates and agitates the wadget. Suffice it to say I received a notice--written in that strange square type that computers employ—saying in effect, "Pay up now, Buster, or else!" It was pretty frightening. Only then could I understand why President Johnson fled to the nearest bank to borrow money to pay his tax. You just can't fight the IRS machine, even when it has blown its stack.

It was nicer in the bad old old days before computers. You'd get a note, actually signed by a human being, suggesting that you drop by the tax office and have a chat about such little items as "Hertz Zepplin Rental—$9,578,403.01 — for interviewing new sources. No news developed."

☆ ☆ ☆

There would be this real, live breathing human being to explain the item to, not a clanking Univac or IBM. It was always illuminating, and instructive. For example, a fine spinster-type lady examiner once confronted me with what she considered a transparent fraud. She triumphantly waggled two checks at me and said, "Both these checks are made out on the same date—one to "21" and one to Toots Shor's. Explain that, if you can."

"I guess I went to both places that night," I said.

She shook her head.

"Nobody goes two places on the same night," she said and fined me $12.

I wish it had taught me a lesson.

OK For $6.9 Million Hallam Job Sought

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Consumers Public Power District Tuesday requested Nebraska Power Review Board approval for $6.9 million in construction to make full use of its two turbine generators at Hallam.

Involved in the project is purchase and installation of a second boiler and modification of the plant's first generator, boosting its capacity to 105,000 kilowatts.

Waivers Sought

Waivers will be sought from Loup River Public Power District, Platte Valley Public Power and Irrigation District, Omaha Public Power District and the Nebraska Electric Generation and Transmission Cooperative.

CPPD is now constructing a 115,000 kilowatt turbine generator at Hallam, which will be completed next spring.

When the new generator is ready, the boiler which now operates the first 85,000-KW generator will be used to operate the new and larger unit.

Modification

The first unit will then be modified and put back into operation after completion of the second boiler.

Original plans had called for operation of the first unit by the experimental sodium graphite nuclear reactor which has been shut down for a year due to technical problems.

The nuclear reactor had been capable of producing 75,000 kilowatts. Future use of the reactor remains questionable.

To Be Reimbursed

Consumers will be reimbursed by the federal government for its $5.7 million in costs associated with construction of the reactor in cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission, and that money will be used to help pay the costs of he new boiler.

CPPD General Manager Durwood Hill of Columbus said Consumers will be "fully reimbursed" by the AEC for costs of providing an operable unit to replace the reactor even if they exceed the $5.7 million figure.

Operations Director Don Schaufelberger noted that some of the costs involved in the Power Board application will go to increase the energy capacity beyond that supplied through the nuclear unit.

CPPD's application notes that the construction will provide energy for all Consumers customers and help boost the firm capacity for Nebraska's electric grid system.

Nick Adams Is In Divorce Suit

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Carol Adams, wife of actor Nick Adams, filed a divorce suit in Santa Monica Superior Court Tuesday, charging Adams with "extreme cruelty."

She asked for custody of their two children, a daughter, Allyson Lee, 5, and a son, Jeb Stuart, 4. Mrs. Adams, 25, said a property settlement has been completed.

The Adamses were married May 10, 1959 in Las Vegas, Nev.

Adams, 33, told a television audience last January he and his wife were planning a divorce, but a week later they announced a reconciliation.

Monk Sad With World

Bangkok, Thailand (AP) — A Buddhist monk burned himself to death in western Thailand because of dissatisfaction over the condition of the world, Tahi newspapers reported. The reports said the monk, Rien Orabhakdi, 47, wrapped himself in a kerosene-soaked blanket and burned himself in Kanchanaburi province, where the famed River Kwai is located.

To Be Reimbursed

Consumers will be reimbursed by the federal government for its $5.7 million in costs associated with construction of the reactor in cooperation with the Atomic Energy Commission, and that money will be used to help pay the costs of he new boiler.

CPPD General Manager Durwood Hill of Columbus said Consumers will be "fully reimbursed" by the AEC for costs of providing an operable unit to replace the reactor even if they exceed the $5.7 million figure.

Operations Director Don Schaufelberger noted that some of the costs involved in the Power Board application will go to increase the energy capacity beyond that supplied through the nuclear unit.

CPPD's application notes that the construction will provide energy for all Consumers customers and help boost the firm capacity for Nebraska's electric grid system.

Nick Adams Is In Divorce Suit

Santa Monica, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. Carol Adams, wife of actor Nick Adams, filed a divorce suit in Santa Monica Superior Court Tuesday, charging Adams with "extreme cruelty."

She asked for custody of their two children, a daughter, Allyson Lee, 5, and a son, Jeb Stuart, 4. Mrs. Adams, 25, said a property settlement has been completed.

The Adamses were married May 10, 1959 in Las Vegas, Nev.

Adams, 33, told a television audience last January he and his wife were planning a divorce, but a week later they announced a reconciliation.

Monk Sad With World

Bangkok, Thailand (AP) — A Buddhist monk burned himself to death in western Thailand because of dissatisfaction over the condition of the world, Tahi newspapers reported. The reports said the monk, Rien Orabhakdi, 47, wrapped himself in a kerosene-soaked blanket and burned himself in Kanchanaburi province, where the famed River Kwai is located.

EXERCYCLE®

Your body needs exercise, just as it needs food. Nobody can do it for you. You yourself have to give flabby muscles a workout, stimulate circulation. And Exercycle is a realistic way to get active exercise, scientifically graduated to individual needs. Yet you can use Exercycle only 15 minutes daily in your home. Sold only through your local accredited representative, who will tell you more about Exercycle without obligation.

State Fair Facilities Have To Be In Mass Quantities

Not only do the water fountains quench the thirst of four people at a time, but six parties can telephone from one portable booth.

Merle Sherman of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported that some 42 public telephones are available at the Fair, installed in the last two or three weeks.

The State Fair annually requires numerous extra private lines on the fairgrounds for the Fair departments at the site of their exhibits, commercial exhibitors, concessions and temporary hospital and fire department facilities. Seventy-five additional lines were added this year for these purposes, Sherman said.

State Fair's Tractor Pulling Contest Big Success; 4,000 Watch Event

The Nebraska State Fair's first tractor pulling contest was termed "a real success" Tuesday as more than 4,000 persons turned out to witness the battle.

The tractor and driver that went the greatest distance with the biggest load was the winner.

"We are not trying to prove which make of tractor is best, but the operator's ability does make a lot of difference and it is a show that people like. Just look at the crowd," a show official said.

Winners by weight divisions were:

Mediumweight, 5500 to 7500 lbs.: (1) Charlie Timm, Nickerson, (2) Larry Hadan, Omaha; (3) Clarence J. Celka, Valparaiso, (4) Verdell Stork, Arlington.

Light Heavyweight, 7500 to 10,500 lbs.: (1) Lawrence Timm, Nickerson, (2) Franklin Timm, Nickerson, (3) Gordon Ehlers, Gretna, (4) Melvin Gieselmann, Arlington.

Heavyweight—10,500 to 15,000: (1) David D. Sickel, Falls City, (2) Howard Overton, Colon, (3) Dyral Dunklau, Arlington, (4) Nagel Brieker, Greenwood.

Youngsters Admit Theft Of $1,000 In Bills, Coins

Three Lincoln boys, ages 14 and 15, have admitted to police the theft of some $1,000 in bills and coins from the home of Dr. Earl L. Lampshire, 1324 Aldrich, police said.

$529,000 Loan OKd

Sidney (UPI) — Sens. Roman Hruska and Carl Curtis and Rep. Dave Martin, all Republicans, advised that the Rural Electrification Administration has approved a $529,000 loan to the Wheat Belt Public Power District of Sidney. The money will be used to build 24 miles of new lines which will serve 59 new customers; for building five miles of transmission lines; and for construction of four substations and other improvements.

Iowa Pilot Dies As Jet Crashes

The F100 fighter crashed Monday on a routine training flight 26 miles from Buckley Field, where Gallagher's plane and two others were making a landing approach.

An Air Force spokesman said the cause of the crash was being investigated. The spokesman said the other two pilots apparently did not see Gallagher's plane go down.

State Fair Facilities Have To Be In Mass Quantities

Not only do the water fountains quench the thirst of four people at a time, but six parties can telephone from one portable booth.

Merle Sherman of the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported that some 42 public telephones are available at the Fair, installed in the last two or three weeks.

The State Fair annually requires numerous extra private lines on the fairgrounds for the Fair departments at the site of their exhibits, commercial exhibitors, concessions and temporary hospital and fire department facilities. Seventy-five additional lines were added this year for these purposes, Sherman said.

The Nebraska State Fair's first tractor pulling contest was termed "a real success" Tuesday as more than 4,000 persons turned out to witness the battle.

The tractor and driver that went the greatest distance with the biggest load was the winner.

"We are not trying to prove which make of tractor is best, but the operator's ability does make a lot of difference and it is a show that people like. Just look at the crowd," a show official said.

Winners by weight divisions were:

Mediumweight, 5500 to 7500 lbs.: (1) Charlie Timm, Nickerson; (2) Larry Hadan, Omaha; (3) Clarence J. Cejka, Valparaiso, (4) Verdell Stork, Arlington.

Light Heavyweight, 7500 to 10,500 lbs.: (1) Lawrence Timm, Nickerson, (2) Franklin Timm, Nickerson, (3) Gordon Ehlers, Gretna, (4) Melvin Gieselmann, Arlington.

Heavyweight—10,500 to 15,000: (1) David D. Sickel, Falls City, (2) Howard Overton, Colon, (3) Dyral Dunklau, Arlington, (4) Nagel Brieker, Greenwood.

Three Lincoln boys, ages 14 and 15, have admitted to police the theft of some $1,000 in bills and coins from the home of Dr. Earl L. Lampshire, 1324 Aldrich, police said.

Iowa Pilot Dies As Jet Crashes

The F100 fighter crashed Monday on a routine training flight 26 miles from Buckley Field, where Gallagher's plane and two others were making a landing approach.

An Air Force spokesman said the cause of the crash was being investigated. The spokesman said the other two pilots apparently did not see Gallagher's plane go down.

GUESTS

descendants of former governor

Ninety years ago Silas Garber became Governor of Nebraska — an office that he held for four years. That, if you're good at subtracting, was back in 1875.

We doubt if the name Garber has been bandied about much during the past 65 years. And, for that matter, it is quite possible that no one gave it much thought—until last Monday.

Last weekend Gov. Frank Morrison was in Red Cloud for the dedication of a museum to honor pioneers. Following the dedication Gov. Morrison was introduced to Mrs. Lynn Davis and her daughter, Miss Lynn Davis, of Hollywood, Calif., and during the conversation the Governor discovered that Mrs. Davis is the granddaughter of the late Gov. Garber.

The Garbers, in case you didn't know — and you probably didn't — were residents of Red Cloud — a town in a state that Mrs. Davis never had visited. But, she said, while she was growing up she had heard so much about Red Cloud and Nebraska that this summer she decided to bring her daughter and visit the mid-west. Then, too, she had cousins in Red Cloud and she thought it was about time she met them.

Gov. Morrison had a thought too. He thought it was about time Mrs. Davis and her daughter saw the Governor's Mansion and the Capitol. So, he brought them back to Lincoln where they were the guests of Gov. and Mrs. Morrison until Monday evening.

We might also add that 'Lynn' is something of a family name — it belonged to Mrs. Davis' grandmother at whose portrait Mrs. Davis and her daughter were gazing when we found them at the Governor's Mansion.

NEWS

of suburban areas

Monday will be the day when the school doors will reopen for another year — so, many homes in Suburbia are busy with last minute laundering, pressing and mending.

Before the classes do begin and the evening homework problems are brought before one or both of the parents, there are a few parties and vacations to tell you about this morning, and then there are the newcomers who made it to their new home just in time to get settled before the school bells ring.

COTNER TERRACE

Two families just returned from a vacation trip through Colorado. We are referring to Mr. and Mrs. James Schlegelmilch and their sons Scott and Todd, and Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Karr and their daughters Lori and Shari. The traveling eightsome spent a week and a half around the Denver, Colo. area. The trip included fishing at Travers Lake and a night out on the town in Denver when the eight dined at a Paul Bunyan restaurant and ate really BIG—so we hear.

There are guests to mention in the Cotner Terrace area and at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kruse. The guests, who are Mrs. Kruse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lanz, and her brother Mickey were Sunday arrivals at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kruse. The three will spend a week in Lincoln before returning to their home in Bassett.

A family has left our midst to reside in Milford. We are speaking of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilke who are former residents at 6500 Fremont.

Lost a family but also gained another. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murphy moved their belongings last week to 6700 Fremont after residing in Topeka, Kan. for some time. The couple's four children include Mike, Tere, Kim and young Jack Jr. and the three older ones arrived in Lincoln just in time to begin their next school term at Persning Elementary School. As for Mr. and Mrs. Murphy, we can tell you that Mr. Murphy is public relations supervisor for Cushman Motors and Mrs. Murphy will be carrying on her sewing hobby in addition to keeping the Murphy home in perfect shape —it all adds up to another busy little family in the Suburban areas.

BERLENE HEIGHTS

Just back from a long vaction trip to the west coast are Mr. and Mrs. William Albers. They were the house guests of Mrs. Albers sister, Mrs. W. R. Franklin of Portland, Ore., during part of their stay on the coast, but the month's vacation also included stays at Cannon Beach, Newport and Cues Bay, Ore.

Now that the couple is back in Lincoln and settled down to ordinary life they tell us they are ready for the social world again. It seems that the twosome is anxiously awaiting this afternoon's arrival of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Denham, formerly of London, England, now of Oxford, Miss. Also coming to Lincoln for a first visit with her grandparents will be Mr. and Mrs. Denham's very young daughter, Ian Trevor. Ian's mother might be more familiarily remembered as the former Francis Albers, Delta Zeta at Nebraska Wesleyan. The guest threesome plans a week's stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albers.

BRIDES

at church ceremonies

The wedding of Miss Joan Meredith Hietbrink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hietbrink, and Galen Wayne TeSelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan TeSelle, all of Firth, took place Friday evening, Aug. 27, at the Holland Reformed Church. The Rev. D. J. Kolenbrander read the lines of the 8 o'clock service.

Wearing long-skirted frocks of satin in the antique green shade and carrying nosegays of yellow roses were Mrs. Douglas Liesveld of Hays, Kan., the matron of honor; Miss Terri Hietbrink, Adams, the maid of honor; and the bridesmatrons, Mrs. Paul Kolenbrander, Madison, Wis.; Mrs. Wayne DeBoer and Mrs. Jean Whicker, Lincoln.

Gary DeBoer of Firth served as best man, and the ushers were Douglas Liesveld, Hays, Kan.; Paul Kolenbrander, Madison, Wis.; Jim Liesveld, Firth; and Wayne DeBoer, Lincoln.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace and satin. The fitted bodice of lace was designed with a rounding neckline and elbow sleeves, and the sheath skirt of satin was completed by a detachable train continuing to chapel length. A Dior bow of the satin held to the head her shoulder-length veil of illusion.

Mr. and Mrs. TeSelle will live in Lincoln, at 5321 Holdrege. The bridegroom is a senior at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Blossoms in shades of pink and white decorated the altar of the First Presbyterian Church at North Platte, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 29, for the wedding of Miss Jean Ann Vavrina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerold J. Vavrina, North Platte, and William B. Rees, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rees of Waverly. The ceremony was solemnized at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Robert Mays.

Frocked in sheaths of azalea pink silk crepe were Miss Kathleen Kuchar of Meadow Grove, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Bredehoeft, Denver.

Serving as best man was Robert Sorenson of Denver, and seating the guests were Brian McMillan, Denver; Dave Collier, Colorado Springs; and Ted Forke, Lincoln.

The bride's period gown was fashioned of satin in the candlelight tone. The sculptured bodice was patterned with Alencon lace, and the wide skirt was draped into back fullness and extended into a chapel train. Her illusion veil was held by a pillbox cap of jeweled lace and satin.

Mr. and Mrs. Rees will live in Denver. A member of Kappa Pi honor society, she is a graduate of Kearney State College and attended Denver University. Mr. Rees is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Theta Xi fraternity.

TALK

There is news of an attractive bride-elect this morning — and we have in mind Miss Emmagene Dunham whose marriage to William Roper will take place on Saturday evening.

Today Miss Dunham makes announcement of the bridal entourage, and in addition to that we'll try to catch up with some of the past courtesies.

But first the attendants — For her matron of honor Miss Dunham has chosen her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tad Dunham, and her maid of honor will be Miss Mary Margaret Holtmeier. The bridesmaid threesome will include Mrs. Wilbur Andreson, Mrs. Harold Madsen and Mrs. Joel Meier. The candles will be lighted by Miss Barbara Clifford and Miss Dianne Michel.

Redge K. Roper will serve his brother as best man, and the groomsmen will be Louis Roper, also a brother of the bridegroom; Charles H. Roper, his cousin; Tad Dunham and Richard Schmoker of Minneapolis. Ed Taber, Jr., of Whittier, Calif., and Steven North will be the ushers.

* * *

Among the recent courtesies for Miss Dunham and Mr. Roper was a dinner for which Dr. and Mrs. John Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Johns, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ruppert were hosts and hostesses at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Curry.

Then there was the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Giles Henkle were host and hostess at their home when they entertained the members of the families in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Dunham and Mr. Roper.

* * *

There is a tradition that has been followed for a number of years by one of Lincoln's golf groups which, in this instance, includes Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dobson, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Walt, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Carveth, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. 'Tippy' Dye, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson — and Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper.

But at a party last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Roper were not among the hosts and hostesses—but were included in a six some of honorees. That is where the tradition enters the picture. When there is a wedding in one of the families it is the custom of the group to honor the parents as well as the bride-elect and her fiance—or vice versa.

So, last Saturday evening Miss Dunham, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dunham; Mr. Roper, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper were complimented at dinner at the Lincoln Country Club.

Evening Service

Miss Judith Grace Neben, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Neben of Platte Center, became the bride of Leslie Lavern Korte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Korte of Leigh, at a 6:30 o'clock evening service, Sunday, Sept. 5. The ceremony was solemnized at Grace Lutheran Church in Platte Center, by the Rev. Mr. Neben, father of the bride.

The attendants, who wore sheaths of ice blue satin, were Miss Myrna Stienike, Wood River, the maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Amy Sandberg, Alliance; Miss Phyllis Stutzman, Wood River; and Miss Sandra Korte, Leigh.

Serving as best man was Warren Korte of Leigh, and the ushers were Myron Inselman, Hank Bus and Gayle Loseke, Columbus; Ron Neben, Ft. Worth, Tex.; and George Dinse, Norborne, Mo.

Appliques of Alencon lace trimmed the bride's gown of white peau de soie. The lace framed the cameo neckline of the Empire basque, and the slim skirt was completed by a panel train of the silk.

The couple will live in Lincoln, at 1691 Burr. Mrs. Korte is a graduate of Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing, and the bridegroom, a former student at Midland College, Fremont, is a junior at the University of Nebraska.

Meeting

Opening a new year of programs and projects are the members of the Lincoln Mrs. JayCees, who will hold their September meeting Wednesday evening at the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. JayCees president, Mrs. James Miller, will preside at the 8 o'clock meeting.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last week my husband and I gave a housewarming party in our first new home. We sent out invitations to 16 couples saying it was a housewarming. Everyone came, but only one couple brought a gift. I was so hurt and embarrassed I didn't know what to think. Yesterday one of my friends told me she would have brought a gift, but one of the other invited guests took it upon herself to call up everybody and spread the word that it's not etiquette for people to give a housewarming party for themselves, and therefore it wasn't proper to bring a gift. She said a "real" housewarming party, where a gift is in order, is one that is given by friends for the new home owners. Abby, if we had known this we never would have given that party. We went to a lot of expense entertaining those people with drinks and food. That girl sure had her nerve. But was she right?

NOT UP ON ETIQUETTE

DEAR NOT UP: "Etiquette" is a matter of common sense. When friends call on a couple in their new home for the first time, it's customary to bring a gift. Your friend, the self-appointed authority on etiquette, could use some pointers on what's proper. However, if you gave the party only to harvest the gifts, the crop failure was just.

Series Scheduled

The Great Books Council of Lincoln has announced the organization of a new first year group, which will hold its opening meeting Thursday,Sept. 23, at the South Branch Library.

Under the leadership of Mrs. F. M. Tuttle and Mrs. Ralph Ulrich, the group will begin its discussion series with the Declaration of Independence, copies of which will be provided.

The series, which is open to the public, is sponsored by the Lincoln City Libraries and the Lincoln newspapers in cooperation with the national Great Books Foundation.

Dr. Howard W. Ottoson, president of the Lincoln Great Books Council, also has announced the schedule for advanced discussion groups.

Also scheduled to meet at the South Branch Library will be the second year group, which will open its fall series Sept. 14. Meeting Sept. 16, at the Bethany Branch Library, will be the third year group; and the advanced fifth year group will begin the year Sept. 22, in the east seminar room of the University of Nebraska library.

BERLENE HEIGHTS

Just back from a long vaction trip to the west coast are Mr. and Mrs. William Albers. They were the house guests of Mrs. Albers sister, Mrs. W. R. Franklin of Portland, Ore., during part of their stay on the coast, but the month's vacation also included stays at Cannon Beach, Newport and Cues Bay, Ore.

Now that the couple is back in Lincoln and settled down to ordinary life they tell us they are ready for the social world again. It seems that the twosome is anxiously awaiting this afternoon's arrival of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow W. Denham, formerly of London, England, now of Oxford, Miss. Also coming to Lincoln for a first visit with her grandparents will be Mr. and Mrs. Denham's very young daughter, Ian Trevor. Ian's mother might be more familiarily remembered as the former Francis Albers, Delta Zeta at Nebraska Wesleyan. The guest threesome plans a week's stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albers.

Evening Service

Miss Judith Grace Neben, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Neben of Platte Center, became the bride of Leslie Lavern Korte, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Korte of Leigh, at a 6:30 o'clock evening service, Sunday, Sept. 5. The ceremony was solemnized at Grace Lutheran Church in Platte Center, by the Rev. Mr. Neben, father of the bride.

The attendants, who wore sheaths of ice blue satin, were Miss Myrna Stienike, Wood River, the maid of honor; and the bridesmaids, Miss Amy Sandberg, Alliance; Miss Phyllis Stutzman, Wood River; and Miss Sandra Korte, Leigh.

Serving as best man was Warren Korte of Leigh, and the ushers were Myron Inselman, Hank Bus and Gayle Loseke, Columbus; Ron Neben, Ft. Worth, Tex.; and George Dinse, Norborne, Mo.

Appliques of Alencon lace trimmed the bride's gown of white peau de soie. The lace framed the cameo neckline of the Empire basque, and the slim skirt was completed by a panel train of the silk.

The couple will live in Lincoln, at 1691 Burr. Mrs. Korte is a graduate of Lincoln General Hospital School of Nursing, and the bridegroom, a former student at Midland College, Fremont, is a junior at the University of Nebraska.

Meeting

Opening a new year of programs and projects are the members of the Lincoln Mrs. JayCees, who will hold their September meeting Wednesday evening at the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. JayCees president, Mrs. James Miller, will preside at the 8 o'clock meeting.

TALK

There is news of an attractive bride-elect this morning — and we have in mind Miss Emmagene Dunham whose marriage to William Roper will take place on Saturday evening.

Today Miss Dunham makes announcement of the bridal entourage, and in addition to that we'll try to catch up with some of the past courtesies.

But first the attendants — For her matron of honor Miss Dunham has chosen her sister-in-law, Mrs. Tad Dunham, and her maid of honor will be Miss Mary Margaret Holtmeier. The bridesmaid threesome will include Mrs. Wilbur Andreson, Mrs. Harold Madsen and Mrs. Joel Meier. The candles will be lighted by Miss Barbara Clifford and Miss Dianne Michel.

Redge K. Roper will serve his brother as best man, and the groomsmen will be Louis Roper, also a brother of the bridegroom; Charles H. Roper, his cousin; Tad Dunham and Richard Schmoker of Minneapolis. Ed Taber, Jr., of Whittier, Calif., and Steven North will be the ushers.

* * *

Among the recent courtesies for Miss Dunham and Mr. Roper was a dinner for which Dr. and Mrs. John Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Johns, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ruppert were hosts and hostesses at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Curry.

Then there was the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. Giles Henkle were host and hostess at their home when they entertained the members of the families in prenuptial courtesy to Miss Dunham and Mr. Roper.

* * *

There is a tradition that has been followed for a number of years by one of Lincoln's golf groups which, in this instance, includes Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dobson, Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Walt, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Carveth, Dr. and Mrs. Norman Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. 'Tippy' Dye, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Olson — and Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper.

But at a party last Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. Roper were not among the hosts and hostesses—but were included in a six some of honorees. That is where the tradition enters the picture. When there is a wedding in one of the families it is the custom of the group to honor the parents as well as the bride-elect and her fiance—or vice versa.

So, last Saturday evening Miss Dunham, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dunham; Mr. Roper, and Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper were complimented at dinner at the Lincoln Country Club.

BRIDES

The wedding of Miss Joan Meredith Hietbrink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hietbrink, and Galen Wayne TeSelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan TeSelle, all of Firth, took place Friday evening, Aug. 27, at the Holland Reformed Church. The Rev. D. J. Kolenbrander read the lines of the 8 o'clock service.

Wearing long-skirted frocks of satin in the antique green shade and carrying nosegays of yellow roses were Mrs. Douglas Liesveld of Hays, Kan., the matron of honor; Miss Terri Hietbrink, Adams, the maid of honor; and the bridesmatrons, Mrs. Paul Kolenbrander, Madison, Wis.; Mrs. Wayne DeBoer and Mrs. Jean Whicker, Lincoln.

Gary DeBoer of Firth served as best man, and the ushers were Douglas Liesveld, Hays, Kan.; Paul Kolenbrander, Madison, Wis.; Jim Liesveld, Firth; and Wayne DeBoer, Lincoln.

The bride appeared in a gown of white lace and satin. The fitted bodice of lace was designed with a rounding neckline and elbow sleeves, and the sheath skirt of satin was completed by a detachable train continuing to chapel length. A Dior bow of the satin held to the head her shoulder-length veil of illusion.

Mr. and Mrs. TeSelle will live in Lincoln, at 5321 Holdrege. The bridegroom is a senior at Nebraska Wesleyan University.

Blossoms in shades of pink and white decorated the altar of the First Presbyterian Church at North Platte, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 29, for the wedding of Miss Jean Ann Vavrina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerold J. Vavrina, North Platte, and William B. Rees, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rees of Waverly. The ceremony was solemnized at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Robert Mays.

Frocked in sheaths of azalea pink silk crepe were Miss Kathleen Kuchar of Meadow Grove, the maid of honor, and the bridesmaid, Miss Shirley Bredehoeft, Denver.

Serving as best man was Robert Sorenson of Denver, and seating the guests were Brian McMillan, Denver; Dave Collier, Colorado Springs; and Ted Forke, Lincoln.

The bride's period gown was fashioned of satin in the candlelight tone. The sculptured bodice was patterned with Alencon lace, and the wide skirt was draped into back fullness and extended into a chapel train. Her illusion veil was held by a pillbox cap of jeweled lace and satin.

Mr. and Mrs. Rees will live in Denver. A member of Kappa Pi honor society, she is a graduate of Kearney State College and attended Denver University. Mr. Rees is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and a member of Theta Xi fraternity.

DEAR ABBY

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last week my husband and I gave a housewarming party in our first new home. We sent out invitations to 16 couples saying it was a housewarming. Everyone came, but only one couple brought a gift. I was so hurt and embarrassed I didn't know what to think. Yesterday one of my friends told me she would have brought a gift, but one of the other invited guests took it upon herself to call up everybody and spread the word that it's not etiquette for people to give a housewarming party for themselves, and therefore it wasn't proper to bring a gift. She said a "real' housewarming party, where a gift is in order, is one that is given by friends for the new home owners. Abby, if we had known this we never would have given that party. We went to a lot of expense entertaining those people with drinks and food. That girl sure had her nerve. But was she right?

NOT UP ON ETIQUETTE

DEAR NOT UP: "Etiquette" is a matter of common sense. When friends call on a couple in their new home for the first time, it's customary to bring a gift. Your friend, the self-appointed authority on etiquette, could use some pointers on what's proper. However, if you gave the party only to harvest the gifts, the crop failure was just.

Series Scheduled

The Great Books Council of Lincoln has announced the organization of a new first year group, which will hold its opening meeting Thursday,Sept. 23, at the South Branch Library.

Under the leadership of Mrs. F. M. Tuttle and Mrs. Ralph Ulrich, the group will begin its discussion series with the Declaration of Independence, copies of which will be provided.

The series, which is open to the public, is sponsored by the Lincoln City Libraries and the Lincoln newspapers in cooperation with the national Great Books Foundation.

Dr. Howard W. Ottoson, president of the Lincoln Great Books Council, also has announced the schedule for advanced discussion groups.

Also scheduled to meet at the South Branch Library will be the second year group, which will open its fall series Sept. 14. Meeting Sept. 16, at the Bethany Branch Library, will be the third year group; and the advanced fifth year group will begin the year Sept. 22, in the east seminar room of the University of Nebraska library.

A TRIO
of guests from the east coast

A popular guest threesome in town this week are Mrs. Frank Chapman and the two small Chapmans—Betsy and Robert, who arrived several days ago from New Haven, Conn., and who are the house guests of Mrs. Chapman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faulkner.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman and their children spent a weekend in Lincoln before going to Grand Island for a 10-day visit with Mr. Chapman's parents. Upon the family's return to Lincoln Mr. Chapman who, as you may remember, is an architect, flew back to New Haven. But Mrs. Chapman, Miss Betsy — the lady with the hair bow, and Robert remained here for a longer visit.

Chapter Officers

New officers of the Nebraska Alpha Chapter of Delta Theta Chi, national philanthropic and educational sorority, were installed Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Irving Schneider.

Directing the chapter activities for the year will be Mrs. Schneider, president; Mrs. Charles Lindgren, vice president; Mrs. Clarence E. Mitchell, Jr., educational director; Miss Margaret Evers recording secretary; Mrs. Ralph Cole, corresponding secretary; Mrs. D. W. Baird, treasurer; and Miss Elfriede Muennich, sergeant-at-arms.

Appointed to office were Miss Norma Hanse, courtesy; Mrs. Cole, scrapbook; and Miss Agnes van Ackeren, publicity. Mrs. Schneider and Mrs. Lindgren were named delegates to the province meeting to be held Oct. 15 to 17, at Wichita.

Marriage Announced

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Duane Walen of the marriage of her daughter, Miss Barbara Huck, to Thomas Blackstock, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Blackstock of Tulsa, Okla. The service was solemnized by the Rev. Robert Audd of Tulsa, July 24, in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends.

Attending the couple were Miss Barbara Blackstock, sister of the bridegroom, and Pat Quinn, both of Tulsa.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackstock, who will make their home in Tulsa, were honored at a reception at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Opening lead — king of diamonds.

Declarer frequently finds that one opponent is more dangerous to have in the lead than the other. It is therefore not uncommon for declarer to shape his play so as to keep the dangerous opponent out of the lead if it is possible to do so.

Here is a sample of the theory at work. Let's say that West leads the king of diamonds and continues with the ace. If South makes the mistake of ruffing the ace, he eventually goes down one.

South's proper play is to discard a heart instead. If he does this, he eventually makes the contract by ruffing two of dummy's low hearts and thus establishing the 7-6 as tricks on which he can discard two clubs.

South has no assurance that his heart discard will make the contract for him — he needs the hearts to be divided 3-3 — but it costs him nothing to lose two diamond tricks right away in place of the normal diamond and a heart.

The heart discard also preserves the chance of East's having the ace of clubs, in which case the contract will be made even though the hearts turn out to be divided unfavorably.

Observe what happens if South ruffs the diamond at trick two. He now finds it impossible to establish dummy's hearts without letting East into the lead, and, when he attempts this method of play, East returns a club to defeat the contract one trick.

It is also interesting to note that West can defeat the contract by playing a heart or a trump instead of a diamond at trick two.

Perhaps West should be clever enough to diagnose the situation and abandon further diamond plays. If he does not, South should take advantage of the opportunity to increase the chances of making the contract. The substitution of a diamond loser for a heart loser may quite easily prove to be equivalent to the substitution of victory for defeat.

COATS — SECOND FLOOR

This has been a fatter summer than you think. All hands around here are on a diet.

One slice Melba toast. Half grapefruit. One cup black coffee, that is breakfast. Home on the ever-fattening range.

"How can you tell?" I asked. "Especially since the bathroom scales are broken."

The bathroom scales stopped at 170 pounds. That is exactly what I should weigh. Exactly what the doctor likes to see me weigh.

I can step on that scale any old time and feel good.

That is the way to keep a scale weighing—just like you are supposed to be. Never mind these changeable scales that can't make up their minds.

Well, this will surprise you. They know how much they weigh by the way their clothes fit them!

"I can feel the white dress around my waist."

This is considered very scientific by ladies. They do not weigh. They feel how the dress fits.

Then we got the scales fixed—showing everything was all right. Then we suddenly remembered that the tight dress was the one we had taken in a month ago. Only we forgot.

"Isn't that killing?" she said. And she never said anything truer. I was half dead.

The diets come out of ladies' magazines—the Infantry Officers' Manual in the war of Women vs. Men.

"How I lost Fifteen Pounds And Saved My Marriage."

That is where we draw our diets from. Save the marriage and throw the man away.

Beer is fattening. Not to me. But apparently it is fattening to anybody who watches me drink beer.

No beer with lunch. For lunch we have: Two slices tomato without dressing. Small piece of lean beef broiled. Tablespoon cottage cheese. One peeled fresh pear. Glass diet-slim milk.

We sit and eat this light doffer and spin the old calorie counter. Do you realize one martini has 60 calories? True. Sad but true.

I said: "For the love of—I mean all my clothes fit all right. I have no diet problems."

She said: "Don't make it difficult for me. How do you know since the bathroom scales are broken?"

I said: "How do you know since the scales are broken?"

She said: "It's my job to keep you in good health. I was reading just the other day in the Ladies' Home etc. etc."

This has been a fatter summer than you think. All hands around here are on a diet.

One slice Melba toast. Half grapefruit. One cup black coffee, that is breakfast. Home on the ever-fattening range.

"How can you tell?" I asked. "Especially since the bathroom scales are broken."

The bathroom scales stopped at 170 pounds. That is exactly what I should weigh. Exactly what the doctor likes to see me weigh.

I can step on that scale any old time and feel good.

That is the way to keep a scale weighing—just like you are supposed to be. Never mind these changeable scales that can't make up their minds.

Well, this will surprise you. They know how much they weigh by the way their clothes fit them!

"I can feel the white dress around my waist."

This is considered very scientific by ladies. They do not weigh. They feel how the dress fits.

A year ago, we went on a fearful diet—I mean nobody could eat.

Then we got the scales fixed—showing everything was all right. Then we suddenly remembered that the tight dress was the one we had taken in a month ago. Only we forgot.

"Isn't that killing?" she said. And she never said anything truer. I was half dead.

The diets come out of ladies' magazines—the Infantry Officers' Manual in the war of Women vs. Men.

"How I lost Fifteen Pounds And Saved My Marriage."

That is where we draw our diets from. Save the marriage and throw the man away.

Beer is fattening. Not to me. But apparently it is fattening to anybody who watches me drink beer.

No beer with lunch. For lunch we have: Two slices tomato without dressing. Small piece of lean beef broiled. Tablespoon cottage cheese. One peeled fresh pear. Glass diet-slim milk.

We sit and eat this light doffer and spin the old calorie counter. Do you realize one martini has 60 calories? True. Sad but true.

I said: "For the love of—I mean all my clothes fit all right. I have no diet problems."

She said: "Don't make it difficult for me. How do you know since the bathroom scales are broken?"

I said: "How do you know since the scales are broken?"

She said: "It's my job to keep you in good health. I was reading just the other day in the Ladies' Home etc. etc."

Martin Favors Farm Price Support Hike

Washington — Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb., said he favors a higher basic support price for both wheat and feed grains, and hopes the farm bill approved by the House will be amended to result in higher net income for farmers.

The farm bill is now being considered in the Senate, and "substantial changes" may be forthcoming from the Senate Agriculture Committee, Martin said.

The Third District Republican said he also hopes the final draft of the bill will "allow more freedom of operation to our farmers."

Martin said he favors an increase in the 105% of the loan rate at which the secretary of agriculture can dump surplus wheat.

Wrecking Crew Tactic Changes Bogalusa Klan

New Orleans (AP) — The former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in the Bogalusa area told Tuesday of a Klan "wrecking crew" that checks out complaints.

Charles H. Christmas of Amite cited the activities of the wrecking crew as one of the reasons why his Klan organization was disbanded four months ago and reorganized under another name.

His testimony came on the opening day of a federal court-hearing on a Justice Department suit seeking to enjoin the Klan from harassment and intimidation of civil rights workers in the Bogalusa area. The Klan and 38 of its members are listed as defendants.

A three-judge court was convened under the 1964 civil rights act which specifically authorizes such courts to hear cases involving alleged harassment and threats against civil rights workers. Normally, a three-judge court deals with constitutional matters.

No Longer Exists

This was the first use of the 1964 act against the Klan, although the law has been used against individuals in other instances.

Christmas told the court the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan no longer exists in the 6th Congressional District of which Bogalusa is a part.

He said he presided over the transition of the Klan "into the Anti-Communist Christian Association."

Asked by District Judge Herbert W. Christenberry if this wasn't just a change in name only, Christmas answered:

"It was more than just a name change. The Anti-Communist Christian Association is a replacement for the Ku Klux Klan. It is not necessarily in conjunction with the Klan."

Wrecking Crew

Asked by Justice Department lawyer Robert Owens of Washington, D.C., if he had heard of a wrecking crew in the Klan, Christmas said he had.

"But I don't know about it," he added. "I've never been with them . . . I suppose they are the peace keepers. They check out complaints . . . general complaints, I suppose.

"We felt it (the wrecking crew) was one of the big reasons for change . . . you could call it a semi-police force. And we feel that things like that should be left in the hands of the regularly constituted law officers."

Lawn Lifted In Broad Daylight

Whittier, Calif. (UPI) — An apartment house owner Tuesday reported to police that his front lawn had been stolen—and in broad daylight.

Two thieves dug up and made off with 75 flats of mundo grass, which had been put in recently by a nursery.

Ask U.S.-Registered Voters Kept Off Rolls

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson asked Mississippi courts Tuesday to keep off the voting rolls persons registered by federal examiners under the new voting rights law.

Patterson filed the suits in the chancery courts of Leflore, Madison and Jefferson Davis Counties. He said a similar suit would be filed in Jones County Wednesday. These are the four Mississippi counties to which federal registrars have been assigned.

Filing of the suits sets the stage for a legal showdown on conflicting federal and state requirements for voting.

In the suits, Patterson said the federal law ignored the state voting requirements and required the county registrars to act in a manner contrary to state law.

"The clerks are on the horns of a dilemma," Patterson told the Associated Press. "They are put in the position of accepting these people registered by federal registrars and violating state law, or refusing to list the names compiled by the federal registrars and violating federal law."

Informed sources said the state apparently would launch its court challenge of the federal voting rights act in this manner, rather than file suit directly challenging the act itself.

"This is the kickoff," was Patterson's only comment.

Peron Well-Informed

Madrid (AP) — Juan D. Peron, the exiled Argentine dictator, says he keeps so well informed about his homeland he probably knows more "than most people living there." Now 69, Peron told friends he takes plenty of exercise "to stay as young as I can."

Soviets Accept, U.S. Rejects Big Underground Tests Ban

Geneva (UPI) — The Soviet Union Tuesday accepted—and the United States rejected—a proposal by neutral nations for an unverified ban on large underground nuclear tests.

The plan also called for a ban on smaller tests.

The United States turned down the proposal on familiar grounds. It said such a plan would involve an international treaty based on good faith—without on-site inspections to prevent cheating.

The last time there was a moratorium on nuclear tests, American spokesmen said, Russia broke its word and secretly prepared and then conducted its bigger-ever series of test explosions.

Egypt suggested formal extension of the 1963 limited test ban to underground explosions above the threshold of 4.75 on the seismic scale, roughly the size of the Hiroshima bomb, or 20 kilotons.

A moratorium should be placed on the smaller tests, Egypt said.

While Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K.Tsarapkin said Moscow would sign such a pact "without delay." American negotiator Wlliam C. Foster said such "half-way measures may create suspicions."

HOUSE OKS NOTICE FOR BASE CLOSINGS

Washington (AP) — With some grumbling, the House approved 347 to 0 Tuesday a watered-down plan requiring the Pentagon to give Congress 30 days notice of any military base closings.

But a move to override President Johnson's veto of a stiffer check on the Pentagon —requiring a 120-day notice— was smothered 320 to 19.

The compromise provision accepted is in a $1.78 billion military construction authorization bill which the House sent to the Senate, where quick approval is expected. There were no changes in hundreds of authorizations for construction at U.S. bases around the world from the bill Johnson vetoed.

The battle for acceptance of the compromise base-closing provision was led by Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee.

It was he who led a revolt when Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced elimination of 95 bases last November first without consulting members of Congress whose local constituents were involved. Congress was not in session at the time.

Rivers noted Johnson's Aug. 21 veto message acknowledged that "Congress is a partner in national security matters."

"I hope," Rivers said, "that the secretary of defense is also equally convinced that Congress is a partner, and that from here on out there'll be no need for stronger language to maintain this position."

European Trade Up

Leipzig (AP) — East German trade with West European nations, particularly France and Belgium, has risen considerably, Deputy Trade Minister Gerhard Beil says. Exchange of products between his Communist nation and West Europe was 18% higher in the firstsix months of 1965 than the same period last year, Beil reported.

Wrecking Crew Tactic Changes Bogalusa Klan

New Orleans (AP) — The former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in the Bogalusa area told Tuesday of a Klan "wrecking crew" that checks out complaints.

Charles H. Christmas of Amite cited the activities of the wrecking crew as one of the reasons why his Klan organization was disbanded four months ago and reorganized under another name.

His testimony came on the opening day of a federal court-hearing on a Justice Department suit seeking to enjoin the Klan from harassment and intimidation of civil rights workers in the Bogalusa area. The Klan and 38 of its members are listed as defendants.

A three-judge court was convened under the 1964 civil rights act which specifically authorizes such courts to hear cases involving alleged harassment and threats against civil rights workers. Normally, a three-judge court deals with constitutional matters.

No Longer Exists

This was the first use of the 1964 act against the Klan, although the law has been used against individuals in other instances.

He said he presided over the transition of the Klan "into the Anti-Communist Christian Association."

Asked by District Judge Herbert W. Christenberry if this wasn't just a change in name only, Christmas answered:

"It was more than just a name change. The Anti-Communist Christian Association is a replacement for the Ku Klux Klan. It is not necessarily in conjunction with the Klan."

Wrecking Crew

Asked by Justice Department lawyer Robert Owens of Washington, D.C., if he had heard of a wrecking crew in the Klan, Christmas said he had.

"But I don't know about it," he added. "I've never been with them . . . I suppose they are the peace keepers. They check out complaints . . . general complaints, I suppose.

"We felt it (the wrecking crew) was one of the big reasons for change . . . you could call it a semi-police force. And we feel that things like that should be left in the hands of the regularly constituted law officers."

Lawn Lifted In Broad Daylight

Whittier, Calif. (UPI) — An apartment house owner Tuesday reported to police that his front lawn had been stolen—and in broad daylight.

Two thieves dug up and made off with 75 flats of mundo grass, which had been put in recently by a nursery.

Ask U.S.-Registered Voters Kept Off Rolls

Jackson, Miss. (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Joe Patterson asked Mississippi courts Tuesday to keep off the voting rolls persons registered by federal examiners under the new voting rights law.

Patterson filed the suits in the chancery courts of Leflore, Madison and Jefferson Davis Counties. He said a similar suit would be filed in Jones County Wednesday. These are the four Mississippi counties to which federal registrars have been assigned.

Filing of the suits sets the stage for a legal showdown on conflicting federal and state requirements for voting.

In the suits, Patterson said the federal law ignored the state voting requirements and required the county registrars to act in a manner contrary to state law.

"The clerks are on the horns of a dilemma," Patterson told the Associated Press. "They are put in the position of accepting these people registered by federal registrars and violating state law, or refusing to list the names compiled by the federal registrars and violating federal law."

Informed sources said the state apparently would launch its court challenge of the federal voting rights act in this manner, rather than file suit directly challenging the act itself.

"This is the kickoff," was Patterson's only comment.

Peron Well-Informed

Madrid (AP) — Juan D. Peron, the exiled Argentine dictator, says he keeps so well informed about his homeland he probably knows more "than most people living there." Now 69, Peron told friends he takes plenty of exercise "to stay as young as I can."

Soviets Accept, U.S. Rejects Big Underground Tests Ban

Geneva (UPI) — The Soviet Union Tuesday accepted—and the United States rejected—a proposal by neutral nations for an unverified ban on large underground nuclear tests.

The plan also called for a ban on smaller tests.

The United States turned down the proposal on familiar grounds. It said such a plan would involve an international treaty based on good faith—without on-site inspections to prevent cheating.

The last time there was a moratorium on nuclear tests, American spokesmen said, Russia broke its word and secretly prepared and then conducted its bigger-ever series of test explosions.

Egypt suggested formal extension of the 1963 limited test ban to underground explosions above the threshold of 4.75 on the seismic scale, roughly the size of the Hiroshima bomb, or 20 kilotons.

A moratorium should be placed on the smaller tests, Egypt said.

While Soviet disarmament negotiator Semyon K.Tsarapkin said Moscow would sign such a pact "without delay," American negotiator William C. Foster said such "half-way measures may create suspicions."

HOUSE OKS NOTICE FOR BASE CLOSINGS

Washington (AP) — With some grumbling, the House approved 347 to 0 Tuesday a watered-down plan requiring the Pentagon to give Congress 30 days notice of any military base closings.

But a move to override President Johnson's veto of a stiffer check on the Pentagon—requiring a 120-day notice—was smothered 320 to 19.

The compromise provision accepted is in a $1.78 billion military construction authorization bill which the House sent to the Senate, where quick approval is expected. There were no changes in hundreds of authorizations for construction at U.S. bases around the world from the bill Johnson vetoed.

The battle for acceptance of the compromise base-closing provision was led by Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the House Armed Services Committee.

It was he who led a revolt when Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced elimination of 95 bases last November first without consulting members of Congress whose local constituents were involved. Congress was not in session at the time.

Rivers noted Johnson's Aug. 21 veto message acknowledged that "Congress is a partner in national security matters."

"I hope," Rivers said, "that the secretary of defense is also equally convinced that Congress is a partner, and that from here on out there'll be no need for stronger language to maintain this position."

European Trade Up

Leipzig (AP) — East German trade with West European nations, particularly France and Belgium, has risen considerably. Deputy Trade Minister Gerhard Beil says. Exchange of products between his Communist nation and West Europe was 18% higher in the firstsix months of 1965 than the same period last year, Beil reported.

Public Teen-Age Dances Proposed

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

City Councilman John Mason introduced an ordinance Tuesday which would allow public dances restricted to teen-agers between the ages of fourteen and eighteen.

The proposed ordinance does not affect public dances for adults authorized under the old law and offers a distinction between teen-age public dances and dances sponsored by organizations, such as Keen Time, and existing teen-age membership clubs.

Mason said he favors the proposed ordinance because he doesn't like the atmosphere prevailing in existing clubs and because it would allow 14 to 18-year-olds to attend dances without membership restrictions.

Must Be Accompanied

Also, Mason pointed out, the existing ordinances do not permit youngsters under 18 to attend public dances unless they are accompanied by their parents or legal guardian.

The proposed ordinance would allow persons to apply for a permit to hold teen-age public dances who comply with all the requirements relating to other public dances.

In addition, the permit holder would have to admit only those from 14 to 18, exclude the general public and provide adult supervision approved by the city before the issuance of the permit.

The ordinance was read for the first time and is up for public hearing and final action in two weeks.

In other action, council members John Comstock and Lloyd Hinkley cast the only dissenting votes on a motion that the council direct the city legal department to appeal the State Liquor Commission's decision to grant a bottle club license to Eddie Gold.

The motion passed 5-2.

The commission had ruled in favor of Gold's application and said it would issue the license as soon as his building at 4750 O is remodeled.

The council had previously recommended denial of the application.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson said the purpose of the city's appeal to the district court is to have the court decide the meaning of the state statue referring to the classes of people to whom no license can be granted.

Gold has been convicted of several misdemeanors, some growing out of illeged gambling incidents. His last conviction was in 1942.

The council also passed, 5-2, a motion to reconsider last week's denial of a change of zone at 70th and Havelock Ave.

Nash-Finch Co. had applied for an extended business zoning designation on the southwest corner of the intersection to enable them to build a shopping center.

'More Information'

Councilman D. L. Tyrrell, who last week voted to deny, said he had not changed his mind on the matter but moved to reconsider it "to gather more information."

The change of zone ordinance will be put on the council pending list.

Journal-Star Gift For Wagon Brings Thanks

The City Council Tuesday unanimously passed a resolution commending the Journal-Star Printing Co. for its $5,000 gift to the city to purchase a show wagon.

The gift will enable the city recreation department to take the show wagon, a truck-van vehicle, to Lincoln playground areas so that youngsters will have the opportunity to improve their entertainment talents.

The wagon will have a portable stage, piano, sound system and spotlights.

Funds had been included in the 1965-66 parks and recreation budget for the show wagon, but the amount was cut during budget hearings.

Council Agrees To Leave Water Testing To NU

City Council members have informally agreed that the University of Nebraska continue to test the city water supply.

There reportedly had been talk among city officials that the arrangement with the University be stopped after Sept. 1 in favor of using the facilities of the City-County Health Department.

Tuesday, Lee Blocker, acting director of public utilities, recommended that "we stay the way we are" and the majority of the council agreed.

G. E. Green, Businessman, Dies At 89

G. Edwin Green, 89, 5100 Leighton, chairman of the board of directors and former president of Green Furnace & Plumbing Co., died Tuesday.

Mr. Green was the first president of the University Place Lions Club; past president of the University Place Businessmen's Association, and past master of DeWitt Lodge A.F.&A.M. affiliated with North Star 227 A.F.&A.M.

Funeral services will be held 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Methodist Church, 50th and St. Paul.

Born in DeWitt, Mr. Green received a 50-year Mason pin and was a past patron of the University Place chapter of Eastern Star.

He was a member of the Scottish Rite and Sesostris Temple; a past member of the DeWitt City Council; University Place City Council; Sons of the American Revolution; Nebraska Sons and Daughters; Nebraska Historical Society; past president of the University Place Campfire Council; Methodist 1000 Club; World War I Food Distributing Committee of Saline County.

Mr. Green's wife, Bertha, also active in church and club affairs, died in 1961 at 82.

Survivors include his son, Everett of Lincoln; daughters, Mrs. Mildred Goth and Mrs. Eleanor Weblemoe, both of Lincoln; nine grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

CAUSE OF FAIR TRAGEDY STILL UNKNOWN

Officials gave no further information Tuesday on the cause of Sunday's State Fair tragedy in which two were killed and scores injured.

The accident occurred late Sunday morning when a carnival ride collapsed, crushing and maiming passengers and bystanders.

Fair Manager Henry Brandt and Gov. Frank Morrison met at the Fairgrounds Tuesday morning to discuss the accident.

Brandt said the meeting was to coordinate investigations being carried out by the Fair Board and by representatives of the State Labor Department appointed by the governor to make an investigation.

Brandt said Morrison told him the investigation by the labor department safety inspectors was complete. Brandt emphasized, however, that no release on the official cause of the accident would be made by himself, the Fair Board or the governor until all could coordinate and until the engineers making the investigation for the Fair Board and insurance companies involved could complete their investigation.

Republican River Flood Study Set

Gov. Frank Morrison Tuesday ordered a study of flood threat conditions in the Republican River Valley to determine if a greater emphasis can be put on recreation at the Harlan County Reservoir.

State Game Commission Director Mel Steen and representatives of the Alma Chamber of Commerce urged the governor in a special meeting to call for greater recreational use of the giant reservoir.

They told Morrison that six dams on tributaries above the reservoir and more extensive flood control measures throughout the valley lessen the role of the reservoir in flood control.

The reservoir, when built by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in the 1940's, was designed for flood control and irrigation purposes. It was planned that the reservoir would always have 900,000 acre-feet of storage space ready in case of floods.

However, the governor was told that six dams built subsequently have flood storage space totaling 400,000 acre-feet. He was asked to recommend that the reserve flood storage requirement at the Harlan reservoir be reduced to provide for maximum recreational development of the lake.

The study will determine "the extent the flood picture has been modified by these further flood control measures,' the governor said. "It would appear we can increase the depth of the reservoir without endangering our flood control program."

Morrison said he will hold a meeting soon with representatives of the Republican Valley Conservation Association to discuss the matter.

Liquor Unit OK's Gold Application For Club License

The State Liquor Control Commission reported Tuesday approval of the application of Eddie Gold for a bottle club license at 4750 O.

The City Council had recommended against the requested license. The property is now operated as a drive-in restaurant.

Leo J. and Carol M. Mahon, for a retail class C liquor license in South Sioux City.

The commission suspended seven license holders and reprimanded two others for violations of state liquor laws.

Suspended for five days, with name of license holder, type of license and charge, were:

Suspended for 15 days was Dorothy Bowman of Wilber, holder of a retail class C license. She was charged with delinquent credit

Betty J. Boeshart of Dixon, holder of a retail package liquor and retail on and off sale beer license, was suspended for seven days on a delinquent credit charge.

The commission reprimanded:

20 Are Dead In Mexican Bus Accident

Teloloapan Mexico (AP) — A bus with 40 persons aboard careened off a rural road, plunged down a 100-foot embankment and burst into flames. Twenty persons were killed and 20 injured, police said.

Police said most of the victims were peasants from small villages in the area, an isolated section of southern Mexico's Guerrero state.

Cause of the accident was undetermined, but police said it may have been due to the slippery road conditions.

Complexion Beautifier

The complexion takes on new beauty through the use of a tropical moist oil that checks dryness of the skin's surface cells. Being isotonic in action, it revitalizes the plasma colloids (the skin's water carriers) and the complexion takes on a glorious, youthful bloom. Smoothed over the face and neck before make-up is applied this moist oil of Olay makes the complexion youthfully clear, and lovely.

Surveys On State School Land Begin

Field surveys are under way on part of the 1.6 million acres of state school land the Legislature decreed should be sold, the secretary of the State Board of Educational Lands and Funds said Tuesday.

John P. Olson said it will be 30 to 60 days before board fieldmen "can draw any conclusion" from the appraisal work.

He said lands thought to be representative of the 294 tracts scheduled to be sold after the end of this year were picked for appraisals so that any problems that might be encountered could be discovered early.

Ready By September

Olson said appraisals on about 50 tracts should be ready for presentation to the board in December.

He expected some of the land could be offered for sale early next year, possibly in January.

The law calling for selling the land, LB234, specified that land on which leases expire must be offered for sale before it can be re-leased. It cannot, however, be sold for less than the appraised value.

On Dec. 31 of this year, Olson said, 294 leases involving almost 70,000 acres expire.

218 More Expire

Olson said it may take a year and a half to offer all the leases that expire this year at public auction. And about 218 more leases expire at the end of 1966, he noted.

He said preliminary work on the representative tracts began last week, but that fieldmen could not "Really get rolling" on the appraisal work until Tuesday.

Regular State Staff Won't Defend Remap

Atty. Gen. Clarence Meyer said Tuesday special counsel outside his regular staff will defend the 1965 Legislature's second reapportionment bill which has been challenged in the State Supreme Court.

Meyer said counsel acceptable to the executive board of the Legislative Council will be hired to defend the bill, LB925.

The reapportionment plans retains a 49-member body but crosses county lines in seven instances to reduce population disparity between districts.

Meyer has held that such crossing of county lines is unconstitutional, and he said it would therefore be inappropriate for himself or anyone on his regular staff to defend the bill.

Scottsbluff Sen. Terry Carpenter last week filed a petition in the Supreme Court, asking that LB925 be declared unconstitutional, primarily because of the county lines provision.

Lutheran Schools' Enrollment 375; Pius X Has 574

Calvary Lutheran reported 104 in kindergarten through sixth grades; Trinity Lutheran reported 143 in kindergarten through sixth, and Lincoln Lutheran Junior High reported 128 for grades 7, 8, and 9.

Pius X Catholic High School announced an enrollment of 574 for grades 10 through 12. Classes began there last Wednesday at the same time the other six Catholic schools in Lincoln started, reporting a total enrollment of 2,349.

Powder Puffs For KU

Columbia, Mo. — Rounding up notes collected while skipping through the Big Eight and starting with a possible explanation of why Kansas fought extra hard against Nebraska last fall.

"We received a box of powder puffs on the Wednesday before that game," KU quarterback Bob Skahan recalls. "It was addressed to the girls at KU and I don't remember for sure how it was signed but it said something like NU coaches and boys. It certainly created a lot of enthusiasm when we got that."

Also speaking of Nebraska, Skahan points out, "We had some players who were scared to death of Nebraska because they had been on the team that was beaten so badly by Nebraska two years before. But all of them are gone now."

Warning To Kicker

Oklahoma State's Walt Garrison, recalling some of the funnier incidents that have occurred on the football field, remembered the Nebraska game of 1963.

"I remember that was the year Nebraska had that big Bob Brown, and Bob Howard, our lineman who was blocking in front of Brown, told Charles Durkee (O-State's kicker), he'd better hurry up because he didn't know how long he could keep Brown out," Garrison told visiting sports writers.

Also at Oklahoma State, lineman Rusty Martin, explaining why he preferred to play defense over offense, said, "On defense, you really get in there amongst 'em."

Still quoting Martin, who was married during the summer. "I traded Garrison (his former roommate) for a wife and I think I got the better of the deal," he chuckled.

Weaver's Conduct Stuns Neighbors

Kansas State coach Doug Weaver nearly had to walk home from practice the night the Big Eight Skywriters visited the Wildcat campus.

Weaver had stayed around the practice field too long and missed the last bus going back to the campus. His only alternative appeared to be taking a bus downtown, then walking home from there, but fortunately K-State athletic director Bebe Lee came along.

"The people here would really have thought I had cracked up if they had seen me trotting home in my (coaching) shorts," he smiled. "They'd have said, 'he hasn't even played a game yet this season and he's already nutty.' "

"My neighbors are already beginning to wonder," Weaver added. "I have a short running track around my yard and I work out at times. The other night I decided to do it about 11 p.m., so I went out there in my bermudas, no shirt, and a pair of fruity looking slippers my wife gave me. Lights were going on all over the neighborhood."

Help For Fraternities

When Kansas coach Jack Mitchell was asked how many football players he had out for practice, he replied 84.

"But 10 of those are out there only until fraternity rush week ends," he explained. "We always have about 10 who come out during rush week just so they can explain to prospective pledges that they have someone in the house who is on the football team.

"As soon as rush week ends, we'll lose those 10 boys. But we're happy to have them because they help us during the year when we bring in high school prospects."

Defense More Multiple

When Mitchell was asked if his new offense might be described as multiple like Nebraska's, the KU coach answered, "Nebraska's defense is more multiple than its offense. The Nebraska offense is very basic."

K-State's Weaver, explaining how he would set up his traveling squad under the more liberal 40-man limit and with the return to two platoon football, said, "We'll take three teams, plus our specialists and a couple of influential alumni."

Oklahoma State coach Phil Cutchin doesn't feel his Cowboys surprised anyone last year when they won three straight in the conference including what was thought to be an upset over Missouri.

"I don't see how you can say we surprised them," he pointed out. "They knew we were coming up there so they shouldn't have been surprised that we showed up."

Missouri Can't Use New Substitution Rule This Year

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Columbia, Mo—Missouri Coach Dan Devine must feel somewhat like the boy who got permission from his mother to stay out an hour later one night, then couldn't find anyone to stay out with.

"We would have a real good team this year under last year's rule," Devine told the Big Eight Skywriters as they made their final stop here Tuesday night.

While all the other conference coaches are grooming players to go on only defense or offense, Devine is preparing several gridders to go both ways.

The Missouri coach listed 12 of the 22 players who will make up his offensive and defensive platoons as players who are working on both sides in Tiger practice sessions.

"We probably won't use any of them both ways with the possible exception of Johnny Roland unless we have injuries," Devine pointed out. "But we have some players who we would rather play both ways than try to take a chance with a second stringer."

"If Francis Peay (offensive left tackle) should get hurt, we would probably try to play Van Dyke both offensively and defensively for most of the game," the Missouri coach explained. "We feel we have several players who can play 40 minutes going both ways rather than only 30 minutes on one platoon."

This means Devine is splitting his players' practice time into 60 per cent on their specialties and 40 per cent on the other platoon's.

Devine has not had what he hopes will be his starting offensive backfield in tact yet and all four missed the last Missouri scrimmage Sunday because of various ailments.

"We expect them all to be ready though when we open the season against Kentucky," Devine said. This lineup has Gary Lane at quarterback, Charlie Brown and Earl Denny at halfbacks and Carl Reese at fullback.

The Missouri coach considers his backfield as the Tigers' strongest point with the defensive line running a close second. Depth is the major problem as evidenced by his decision to play several players both ways.

Another of the players being groomed for two-way duty is Russell Washington, a 6-6, 274-pound sophomore defensive end. "We plan to use him some on offense and you'd be surprised how," he said, declining to elaborate. Washington has speed to go with his size, having won the intra-mural high hurdle title last winter.

The two question marks because of injuries — offensive halfback Brown and defensive halfback Ken Boston — have both been pronounced fit.

"They have both made a complete recovery," Devine said. "Boston has tested his knee in scrimmage and Brown is ready although his knee hasn't been tested in contact."

Told that some are picking his team to win the league title, Devine expressed little concern. "It doesn't matter to me," he noted, "if we are picked to win on the basis of our backfield, but it does bother me if we are picked on other points."

He then produced a quote from a writer, who he refused to identify, who rated the Tigers a championship contender because of the return of end Bud Abel, a proper number of sophomores and several red shirts.

"Abel has graduated and is playing pro football, we don't have very many good sophomores, and we have absolutely no red shirts," Devine concluded.

GIANTS GRAB 1ST PLACE

. . . FOR SLIM NL EDGE

Los Angeles (AP)—Jim Hart drove in three runs and Bob Shaw and Masanori Murakami combined for a six-hitter as the San Francisco Giants grabbed the National League lead for the first time this season by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-1 Tuesday night.

The Giants, completing a sweep of the two-game series, vaulted past the Dodgers by two percentage points.

The game was the last between the teams—unless there is a playoff—and was played without any incidents resulting from the Juan Marichal - John Roseboro batswinging incident Aug. 22.

Hart knocked in a run with a first-inning single and broke a 1-1 tie with a fifth-inning, two-run homer, helping Shaw gain his 15th victory against eight defeats.

Shaw allowed only five hits before Murakami relieved him with two out in the eighth inning and Maury Wills on first with a single. Murakami stopped the Dodgers the rest of the way.

Jesus Alou and Willie Mays singled in the first inning before Hart made it 1-0 by legging out a topped roller for a single.

Mays was aboard with a walk in the fifth when Hart hit a 415-foot homer into the center field pavilion—his 21st of the year. Hart now has hit seven homers and knocked in 20 runs in his last 13 games.

The Dodgers created a 1-1 tie in the third inning when Wes Parker and John Roseboro doubled.

But Shaw didn't permit another runner to advance past first base until the seventh inning when a single by Lou Johnson and a walk by Parker put the tying runs on base with two out. Shaw worked out of the jam by striking out Roseboro.

The loss knocked the Dodgers out of first place for only the 18th day all season and they have yet to trail by more than one game.

A crowd of 48,576 raised Dodger home attendance over the two million mark for the fourth straight season and the sixth time in the eight years since they moved from Brooklyn to Los Angeles. They've drawn 2,048,099 this year with 14 home dates remaining.

Veteran Backfield Boosts Links' Hopes

. . . QUESTIONS REMAIN IN LINE

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

New coach Andy Loehr still has a few things to learn about his Lincoln High football team, but if the answers to these questions are as pleasing as some of his discoveries to date the Links will make their presence felt during the 1965 season.

The big plus in the early Lincoln High workouts has been the squad's willingness to work. "They have an excellent attitude," Loehr indicates.

Some of the questions still lingering in Loehr's mind involve how the Links will grasp his system. Andy's prime concern in tse early practices was to evaluate the talent.

Now that that phase is over he's trying to get his offense installed.

"They're picking it up pretty good," he observes. "We've had some good days and some bad days, but we're getting real good effort from the kids," he adds.

As might be expected the new mentor is pleased with the quality of his backfield, where 6 of the 11 returning lettermen are found.

Two-year vets Jim Riggins and Charles Garrett and one-year lettermen Reuben Worster, Charles King, Jack Galusha and Dave Will give the Links an excellent backfield nucleus. Most are capable of playing more than one position.

Worster, a 6-2, 196-pound senior, will probably get the call at quarterback. Also working there are Galusha and junior Steve McKelvey.

Riggins, an all-city choice in 1964, is a fixture at fullback with Worster and Will ready to step in if needed.

Lack of consistency is the major problem. "The linemen are giving a good effort and at times some of them show us what we're looking for," he indicates.

Tackle was a potential strong point but some injuries here have clouded the outlook. Don Gabelhouse (245) and Tom Aguirre (196) will miss the early part of the schedule because of injuries.

There are some capable hands remaining, however. Seniors Jay Hendrickson (260) and Loren Ubben (195) are lettermen. Hendrickson is slated for defensive duty.

REUBEN WORSTER

JACK GALUSHA

The offensive spots are still up for grabs with Ubben, Bob Frame, John Walters and Steve David the principal contenders. David, a letterman, is considered a center, but has been learning the tackle assignments as well.

Senior letterman Larry Lyons, up to 180 pounds this year, heads the guard contingent. Junior Craig Roseberger and senior Vincent Victoria are also likely to see considerable action.

Ex-Husker Vike Francis Dead At 47

Omaha (AP) — Funeral services were being arranged Tuesday night for Viscount (Vike) Francis, who died at Veterans Hospital in Omaha late Monday night. Burial will be in Mount Calvary Cemetery at Salina, Kan. at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Francis, 47, had been in ill health for several years.

He was a star on the 1938-40 Nebraska teams and starred as Nebraska was defeated by Stanford in the 1941 Rose Bowl game.

While in school, Francis serviced a juke box route and published a humor paper. He married Yvonne Costello, a campus beauty queen from Walthill.

His widow and three sons, Tray, Colin and Sean, live in Salina.

—IN AFL TRIMMING—

John Huarte Cut From Team

Peekskill, N.Y. (AP)—Quarterback John Huarte, Heisman Trophy winner from Notre Dame and $200,000 bonus rookie for the New York Jets, was cut from the American Football League team's roster Tuesday.

The Jets trimmed five other players and got one below the league limit of 38. Among others dropped were defensive tackle Gordy Holz, a starter last season, and flanker-halfback Bob Schweikert, a rookie from Virginia Tech who reportedly received a $100,000 to sign with New York.

Huarte, selected as the top college player of the year last season and Most Valuable Player in last month's All-Star game at Chicago, ran a poor third in the Jet quarterback sweepstakes behind second-year man Mike Taliaferro and the $400,000 rookie, Joe Namath.

If another AFL club claims Huarte within 24 hours — by 12 a.m. CST Wednesday — the Jets can take him off the waiver list and restore him to their roster. If no other team picks him up within 24 hours the Jets have another 24 hours to remove him from the waiver list and put him on their taxi, or reserve, squad.

If he isn't taken by another club or placed on the Jets' taxi squad, he becomes a free agent.

Schweigert, a versatile athlete who was a leading college quarterback, was put on the injured waiver list — but still can be picked up by other AFL clubs. He has a pulled muscle in his right thigh.

Holz is in his sixth pro season.

The Jets also cut offensive halfback Dave Flemmg, center John Schmitt and defensive tackle Charlie Ragus, who did not report to camp after being obtained last week from the Kansas City Chiefs for defensive tackle Bob McAdams. The Chiefs now will give the Jets a 1965 draft choice for McAdams.

Cornhusker-Tiger Clash Sold Out

His office has set aside a quota of public, student and faculty season tickets, but individual ticket orders for the Nebraska game are no longer being accepted.

With 3600 seats added to Memorial Stadium this summer, the Tiger-Cornhusker game is certain to surpass the stadium record of 52,877 set by the same two teams in 1963.

This is the first sellout of the season for Missouri. An estimated 7,000 Nebraska fans have purchased tickets for the game.

'Big 8 Same As Any Other Conference' Says Stapleton

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Ames, Iowa—Iowa State Coach Clay Stapleton risked banishment from the Big Eight coaching fraternity when he swayed from the party line here Tuesday before the Big Eight Skywriters.

In discussing the Big Eight football picture, Stapleton wandered from the idea being offered elsewhere on the tour of Big Eight campuses that the conference is among the best in the nation, the most balanced and the "any one can win it," theme.

Big Eight Commissioner Wayne Duke flinched as Stapleton told the writers, "the Big Eight is the same as any other conference in the nation.

"It is divided into the halves and the have-nots." He listed the haves as Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma.

"Oklahoma State is a darkhorse," he offered, "but the othes (Iowa State, Kansas State, and Colorado) are trying to catch up and gain the first division.

"Most any team could win on a given weekend, but only a few have the ability to win week in and week out. Those with a head start (the top four) should be good and will be good."

Stapleton, who has offered his choice as the top team in the conference the last two season's to the visiting Big Eight writers, declined the offer to repeat this year, pointing out, "I don't think my coaching brethern appreciate that, so I won't do it." But he did speak frankly about the conference as a whole.

Looking at his own team which had a disappointing 1-8-1 record last season, the Iowa State coach observed, "I feel like I'm starting all over and choosing up sides." This was in reference to the two-platoon situation which faces the Cyclones because of the rule changes on substitution.

"Two-platoon football causes many problems for us," he pointed out. "The main problem is in practice sessions because with a squad of only 55 we have trouble finding enuogh people to work out adequately in platoons. "Stapleton explains that he is against two-platoon football and that he was forced into it. "I thought last year we could win by playing our best boys 40 and 50 minutes, but we found out we couldn't win that way," he notes. "So we just had to decide if we couldn't beat them, we'd have to join them.

"Those with big coachings staffs and big squads can handle the two-platoon system, but it's the case of the rich getting richer and the poor getting poorer."

Stapleton told the writers he is throwing most of the Iowa State eggs this season in one basket — that of quarterback Tim Van Galder. "If he's not the answer to our problems, we're going to be hurting," Stapleton said. "Because he's the only quarterback we have capable of playing Big Eight football."

With Van Galder at the controls, Stapleton also notes the Cyclone attack will include more passing. "We are now working nearly 50 per cent of the time on passing compared to 25 per cent before," Stapleton points out. "We didn't pass more before because we weren't able to complete them in practice so I didn't feel we should try them in a game.

"But this year I feel our line can give Van Galder time to throw, he can throw and in Eppie Barney and Tom Busch we feel we have two boys who can catch them."

"We're going to come off the plane throwing this year," Stapleton promised.

Running with Van Galder in the Iowa State backfield are Leslie Webster, a sophomore tailback from Omaha Tech, Busch at wingback, and Tony Baker at fullback. Baker was a disappointment to the Cyclones last season, but the Iowa State coaching staff feels if he can come back they have top running backs in Baker and Webster.

Chisox Lose To Indians

Chicago (AP)—Chico Salmon's grand slam homer highlighted a 17-hit Cleveland attack which defeated the Chicago White Sox 9-5 Tuesday night.

The loss ended Chicago's four-game winning streak and dropped the second-place White Sox five games behind the American League-leading Minnesota Twins, who were idle.

The White Sox, who blew a four-run lead against the Indians, take on the Twins in a two-game series beginning Wednesday night.

The Sox opened with a four-run first inning against the Indians and appeared headed for an easy triumph which would have cut Minnesota's lead to four games.

Cleveland, however, had other ideas. Salmon's third homer of the season capped a five-run rally in the fifth, and Cleveland put the game away with three more in the sixth.

Singles by Floyd Robinson, John Romano, Bill Skowron, Danny Cater and Ron Hansen plus a boot by shortstop Larry Brown staked the Sox to their four-run lead.

Cleveland picked up a run in the second on singles by Rocky Colavito, Leon Wagner and Joe Azcue, but Skowron offset this with his 17th homer, leading off the third.

Max Alvis opened the big fifth for Cleveland with his 20th homer, and Chuck Hinto followed with a single. Tommy John replaced Juan Pizarro, and Colavito greeted him with the third of his four singles.

Wagner drew a walk before Salmon, who had driven in only six runs all season, homered into the lower deck.

Reds Bomb Pirates, 5-0

Cincinnati (AP) — Frank Robinson hit a two-run double and John Edwards socked a home run Tuesday night as the Cincinnati Reds whipped Pittsburgh 5-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Sammy Ellis.

The victory gave the Reds sole possession of third place in the National League and moved them to within one-half game of first-place.

Ellis gained his 18th victory against eight defeats, striking out 10. He and Pittsburgh's Don Cardwell engaged in a scoreless duel until the fourth inning when the Reds erupted for four runs.

Two runs came across on Robinson's double, but the Reds' otufielder was out trying to score on a passed ball. Edwards followed with his 15th home run.

Charlotte Nips Pepsi

Aberdeen, S.C. (AP) — Charlotte, N.C., won the American Legion's Little World Series Monday night with a 2-1 victory over Omaha, as Charlotte's Garry Hill struck out 19 and drove in one of the runs.

Catcher Skippy Hull drove in the other as the Omaha team played in the second game of the day and ran short of experienced pitchers. Omaha eliminated Memphis, Tenn., 6-3, earlier Monday to gain the finals.

Bill Nosek started for Omaha. Ken Fila, named American Legion Player of the Year, finished up for a tournament total of 21 innings without allowing a run.

Charlotte scored in the first as Ron Lemands walked, stole second and rode home on Hill's single. Daurity's bunt single led off the sixth and he scored on Hull's double.

Larry Gomez walked and scored for Omaha in the sixth on a sacrifice, single and sacrifice fly.

Omaha's George Stilen struck out 11 in the victory over Memphis. Charles Vacek cracked three singles and a double and Bill Myers hit a single and two-run homer. Omaha got 13 hits off Bob Taylor.

Orioles Sweep From Yankees

New York (AP)—Sam Bowens' two-run homer in the first game and a 16-hit attack in the second paced Baltimore to a 4-2, 9-5 doubleheader sweep over the skidding New York Yankees Tuesday, extending the Orioles' winning streak to seven and keeping their American League pennant hopes alive.

The third place Orioles backed Wally Bunker with nine extra-base hits in the second game as they made it four straight victories over New York in two days and climbed to within 6½ games of league-leading Minnesota, which was idle Tuesday.

The Yankees have dropped seven in a row—their longest losing streak of the season—and are one loss away from mathematical pennant elimination.

Bowens' second homer in two days, off Al Downing in the sixth inning, provided the winning margin in the opener. The home run followed a walk to Curt Blefary and it put the Orioles in front 4-0.

Baltimore scored two in the third, one on Robinson's single and the other when Mickey Mantle dropped Bob Johnson's fly ball in left.

Bunker retired the first 13 Yankee hitters in the nightcap before Clete Boyer singled with one out in the fifth. Meanwhile, the Orioles built a 6-0 lead against Jack Cullen and Hal Reniff.

Bunker left for a pinch hitter in the ninth after allowing six more hits—including a two-run homer by Roger Repoz. Dick Hall finished up.

Charlie Lau drove in three runs with a double and single, Boog Powell clubbed a two-run homer and Paul Blair slapped three doubles to lead the Baltimore barrage.

Detroit Halts Boston Victory Streak At Four

Deroit (AP) — Ray Oyler's two-out double in the seventh inning scored rookie Wayne Redmond with the tie-breaking run, and the Detroit Tigers went on for a 5-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night.

Norm Cash hit a two-run homer, capping a three-run Detroit first inning. Al Kaline singled home the first run after Don Wert singled, stole second and moved to third on Russ Nixon's throwing error.

An error by Jerry Lumpe and singles by Nixon and Jim Gosger gave the Red Sox their first run in the third inning.

Boston chased Julio Navarro, making the first start of his major league career, in the fifth.

Nixon doubled, moved to third on a single by Rico Petrocelli and scored on Gosger's sacrifice fly to center. Petrocelli scored the tying run on Dalton Jones' infield hit.

Keane Will Sign One-Year Pact

New York (AP) — Johnny Keane, first-year manager of the slump-ridden New York Yankees, will be signed to a one-year contract to manage the team again in 1966, The Associated Press learned Tuesday night.

A source close to Keane said the grey-haired, 53-year-old pilot already has agreed to terms with the Yankees and only the formal signing remains.

The Yankees have called a news conference at Yankee Stadium for 2 p.m., EST, Wednesday.

Hunting, Fishing Slow In Nebraska

Teal hunters taking advantage of the special nine-day season that opened Saturday were rewarded in varying degrees, the Game Commission reports.

Panhandle and Sand Hills hunters did pretty well. Teal hunting in other parts of the state is pretty spotty, with the big flocks yet to come south.

Fishing has been slow. However, trout fishing has picked up in the panhandle. Merritt Reservoir trout are running 20 inches, and some 4-pound sauger are biting at Lewis and Clark Lake.

A capsule report by area:

SOUTHEAST

Several limits of teal were noted in this area, especially for hunters hitting small potholes. Nemaha River—carp and catfish biting. Burchard Lake—crappie and bullheads going for worms and minnows. Verdon Lake—catfish and bluegill on night crawlers.

NORTHEAST

Teal hunting fair in Tekamah area of Missouri River with blinds in backwaters averaging three birds; Blair area has a few; Wynot and St Helena have good teal numbers. Big blocks yet to arrive. Gavins Point Dam—catfish hitting below powerhouse and white bass active along training dike; blue and channel catfish, running 14 and 17 pounds, being taken in Santee and Weigand areas by jug fishermen; sauger up to 4 pounds biting north of Weigand boat basin.

PANHANDLE

Fair amount of teal and hunters averaging 2 to 3 birds apiece; hunting pressure light. Kilpatrick Lake—crappie biting. Trout Streams—Niobrara River fairly good; 10 to 11 inchers biting at Chadron City Reservoir on grasshoppers; Bordeaux Creek active, and brookies are biting at West Hat Creek.

SOUTHWEST

Sacramento game farm has quite a few teal. Not many anywhere else in southwest. Birds have not moved out of shallow water, potholes, and flooded pastures of Sand Hills and panhandle. Johnson Reservoir—lots of small white bass biting at inlet. Sutherland Reservoir—catfish to 3 pounds biting at inlet. Lake McConaughy—walleye fishing fair to good. Lake Maloney—few catfish and drum biting.

SAND HILLS

Quite a few teal in the area especially around Valentine. Hunting was active the first day but has since slowed down. Merritt Reservoir—20-inch trout being creeled; best at face of dam with worms; mepps spinners work at west end Spencer Dam—sauger and catfish biting. Hackberry—bullheads on worms. Dewey Lake—1 to 1½-pound bass biting. West Long and Clear Lakes—bass on the prowl. Atkinson Recreation Area—carp and bullheads biting.

Knee Injuries Slow Three KU Gridders

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Two key linemen on the Kansas football squad missed practice Tuesday because of knee injuries and another was limping.

Tackle Mike Shinn has missed the last two drills and Richard Pratt, 280 pound senior guard, sat out defensive scrimmage. Guard Bill Perry also was having knee trouble although he did light work.

Adair Batted .276

Semi-Modifieds To Race Today

Semi-modified auto races highlight today's racing activity at the Nebraska State Fair and just about every stock car driver in the state seems to be entered.

More than 70 names are on the entry list to date with only 60 eligible to compete today beginning at 2 p.m.

There are 1932 models through earlier dates entered and a cross-combination of engines and colors and driving techniques.

Six racing events are scheduled, with no time trials being held. The drivers draw for their positions in the various heat races and quality for the feature event by their placement in the heat events.

A study of the entry blanks reveals that the average age of the driver's in today's races is 24 years-old. Officials point out that many of the stars of racing today were former semi-modified competitors.

Viking Roster Trimmed By Departure Of Five

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP) — Four players were cut from the Minnesota Vikings roster Tuesday and a fifth was waived out of the National Football League after he wasn't claimed in time.

The Vikings said they had cut their roster to 43 with the departure of linebacker Bill Swain from Oregon, fullback Bill McWatters of North Texas State, tackle Howard Simpson of Auburn and end Bob Lacey of North Carolina.

Jack Nicklaus' Money Lead Not Threatened

Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus hasn't been to the bank for two weeks, but his lead in golf's money-winning race is not threatened.

Night Train Lane Cut As Lions Trim Roster

Detroit (AP)—Veteran defensive back Dick Night Train Lane was among three Detroit Lions cut Tuesday as the National Football League team pared its roster to 43 players.

Lane, who has played in the NFL for 13 years, was trimmed along with defensive back Dick Compton and rookie linebacker John Flynn of Oklahoma.

Norman, Okla. (AP)—Mike Ringer, sidelined several days because of a rib injury, returned to the University of Oklahoma practice field in a new football position Tuesday.

Jack Nicklaus Golf Favorite

Akron, Ohio, (AP)—Jack Nicklaus never has won a 72-hole tournament at the Firestone Country Club here, but has been installed as the favorite in the fourth annual World Series of Golf at the 7,165-yard course Saturday and Sunday.

First prize in the 36-hole extravaganza is $50,000 and Nicklaus won it the two previous years he qualified for the event.

The World Series is for only the winners of four major tournaments. Nicklaus qualified with his record-breaking performance in the Masters last April. His challengers will be Gary Player of South Africa, the U.S. Open champion; Peter Thomson of Australia, winner of the British open, and Dave Marr of Larchmont, N.Y., the PGA champion.

In last month's American Golf Classic at Firestone, Nicklaus had a 23-over-par 303 for 72 holes. But he has shot par or better in his two previous World Series at the par 70 course.

In the 1962 inaugural he had rounds of 66-69-135 to win by four strokes and his 70-70—140 in 1963 gave him a one-stroke victory. He didn't qualify last year.

Second place in the World Series is worth $15,000. The third-place finisher will get $7,500 and $5,000 will be awarded for fourth place.

The final six holes of each round will be televised by NBC from 4 to 5:30 p.m., EST.

Morrison Named To 2 Committees

Governor Morrison will serve on two committees of the National Governors' Conference, it was learned Tuesday.

Maine Gov. John Reed, conference chairman, named Morrison to the Committees on Human Resources and Natural Resources.

There are eight standing committees, Reed said.

Powder Puffs For KU

Columbia, Mo. — Rounding up notes collected while skipping through the Big Eight and starting with a possible explanation of why Kansas fought extra hard against Nebraska last fall.

"We received a box of powder puffs on the Wednesday before that game," KU quarterback Bob Skahan recalls. "It was addressed to the girls at KU and I don't remember for sure how it was signed but it said something like NU coaches and boys. It certainly created a lot of enthusiasm when we got that."

Also speaking of Nebraska, Skahan points out, "We had some players who were scared to death of Nebraska because they had been on the team that was beaten so badly by Nebraska two years before. But all of them are gone now."

Warning To Kicker

Oklahoma State's Walt Garrison, recalling some of the funnier incidents that have occurred on the football field, remembered the Nebraska game of 1963.

"I remember that was the year Nebraska had that big Bob Brown, and Bob Howard, our lineman who was blocking in front of Brown, told Charles Durkee (O-State's kicker), he'd better hurry up because he didn't know how long he could keep Brown out," Garrison told visiting sports writers.

Also at Oklahoma State, lineman Rusty Martin, explaining why he preferred to play defense over offense, said, "On defense, you really get in there amongst 'em."

Still quoting Martin, who was married during the summer. "I traded Garrison (his former roommate) for a wife and I think I got the better of the deal," he chuckled.

Weaver's Conduct Stuns Neighbors

Kansas State coach Doug Weaver nearly had to walk home from practice the night the Big Eight Skywriters visited the Wildcat campus.

Weaver had stayed around the practice field too long and missed the last bus going back to the campus. His only alternative appeared to be taking a bus downtown, then walking home from there, but fortunately K-State athletic director Bebe Lee came along.

"The people here would really have thought I had cracked up if they had seen me trotting home in my (coaching) shorts," he smiled. "They'd have said, 'he hasn't even played a game yet this season and he's already nutty.' "

"My neighbors are already beginning to wonder," Weaver added. "I have a short running track around my yard and I work out at times. The other night I decided to do it about 11 p.m., so I went out there in my bermudas, no shirt, and a pair of fruity looking slippers my wife gave me. Lights were going on all over the neighborhood."

Help For Fraternities

When Kansas coach Jack Mitchell was asked how many football players he had out for practice, he replied 84.

"But 10 of those are out there only until fraternity rush week ends," he explained. "We always have about 10 who come out during rush week just so they can explain to prospective pledges that they have someone in the house who is on the football team.

"As soon as rush week ends, we'll lose those 10 boys. But we're happy to have them because they help us during the year when we bring in high school prospects."

Defense More Multiple

When Mitchell was asked if his new offense might be described as multiple like Nebraska's, the KU coach answered, "Nebraska's defense is more multiple than its offense. The Nebraska offense is very basic."

K-State's Weaver, explaining how he would set up his traveling squad under the more liberal 40-man limit and with the return to two platoon football, said, "We'll take three teams, plus our specialists and a couple of influential alumni."

Oklahoma State coach Phil Cutchin doesn't feel his Cowboys surprised anyone last year when they won three straight in the conference including what was thought to be an upset over Missouri.

"I don't see how you can say we surprised them," he pointed out. "They knew we were coming up there so they shouldn't have been surprised that we showed up."

Missouri Can't Use New Substitution Rule This Year

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Columbia, Mo—Missouri Coach Dan Devine must feel somewhat like the boy who got permission from his mother to stay out an hour later one night, then couldn't find anyone to stay out with.

"We would have a real good team this year under last year's rule," Devine told the Big Eight Skywriters as they made their final stop here Tuesday night.

While all the other conference coaches are grooming players to go on only defense or offense, Devine is preparing several gridders to go both ways.

The Missouri coach listed 12 of the 22 players who will make up his offensive and defensive platoons as players who are working on both sides in Tiger practice sessions.

"We probably won't use any of them both ways with the possible exception of Johnny Roland unless we have injuries," Devine pointed out. "But we have some players who we would rather play both ways than try to take a chance with a second stringer."

"If Francis Peay (offensive left tackle) should get hurt, we would probably try to play Van Dyke both offensively and defensively for most of the game," the Missouri coach explained. "We feel we have several players who can play 40 minutes going both ways rather than only 30 minutes on one platoon."

This means Devine is splitting his players' practice time into 60 per cent on their specialties and 40 per cent on the other platoon's.

Devine has not had what he hopes will be his starting offensive backfield in tact yet and all four missed the last Missouri scrimmage Sunday because of various ailments.

"We expect them all to be ready though when we open the season against Kentucky," Devine said. This lineup has Gary Lane at quarterback, Charlie Brown and Earl Denny at halfbacks and Carl Reese at fullback.

The Missouri coach considers his backfield as the Tigers' strongest point with the defensive line running a close second. Depth is the major problem as evidenced by his decision to play several players both ways.

Another of the players being groomed for two-way duty is Russell Washington, a 6-6, 274-pound sophomore defensive end. "We plan to use him some on offense and you'd be surprised how," he said, declining to elaborate. Washington has speed to go with his size, having won the intra-mural high hurdle title last winter.

The two question marks because of injuries — offensive halfback Brown and defensive halfback Ken Boston — have both been pronounced fit.

"They have both made a complete recovery," Devine said. "Boston has tested his knee in scrimmage and Brown is ready although his knee hasn't been tested in contact."

Told that some are picking his team to win the league title, Devine expressed little concern. "It doesn't matter to me," he noted, "if we are picked to win on the basis of our backfield, but it does bother me if we are picked on other points."

He then produced a quote from a writer, who he refused to identify, who rated the Tigers a championship contender because of the return of end Bud Abel, a proper number of sophomores and several red shirts.

"Abel has graduated and is playing pro football, we don't have very many good sophomores, and we have absolutely no red shirts," Devine concluded.

GIANTS GRAB 1ST PLACE

. . . FOR SLIM NL EDGE

Los Angeles (AP)—Jim Hart drove in three runs and Bob Shaw and Masanori Murakami combined for a six-hitter as the San Francisco Giants grabbed the National League lead for the first time this season by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-1 Tuesday night.

The Giants, completing a sweep of the two-game series, vaulted past the Dodgers by two percentage points.

The game was the last between the teams—unless there is a playoff—and was played without any incidents resulting from the Juan Marichal-John Roseboro bat-swinging incident Aug. 22.

Hart knocked in a run with a first-inning single and broke a 1-1 tie with a fifth-inning, two-run homer, helping Shaw gain his 15th victory against eight defeats.

Shaw allowed only five hits before Murakami relieved him with two out in the eighth inning and Maury Wills on first with a single. Murakami stopped the Dodgers the rest of the way.

Jesus Alou and Willie Mays singled in the first inning before Hart made it 1-0 by legging out a topped roller for a single.

Mays was aboard with a walk in the fifth when Hart hit a 415-foot homer into the center field pavilion—his 21st of the year. Hart now has hit seven homers and knocked in 20 runs in his last 13 games.

The Dodgers created a 1-1 tie in the third inning when Wes Parker and John Roseboro doubled.

But Shaw didn't permit another runner to advance past first base until the seventh inning when a single by Lou Johnson and a walk by Parker put the tying runs on base with two out. Shaw worked out of the jam by striking out Roseboro.

The loss knocked the Dodgers out of first place for only the 18th day all season and they have yet to trail by more than one game.

A crowd of 48,576 raised Dodger home attendance over the two million mark for the fourth straight season and the sixth time in the eight years since they moved from Brooklyn to Los Angeles. They've drawn 2,048,099 this year with 14 home dates remaining.

Veteran Backfield Boosts Links' Hopes

By DON FORSYTHE
Prep Sports Writer

New coach Andy Loehr still has a few things to learn about his Lincoln High football team, but if the answers to these questions are as pleasing as some of his discoveries to date the Links will make their presence felt during the 1965 season.

The big plus in the early Lincoln High workouts has been the squad's willingness to work. "They have an excellent attitude," Loehr indicates.

Some of the questions still lingering in Loehr's mind involve how the Links will grasp his system. Andy's prime concern in tse early practices was to evaluate the talent.

Now that that phase is over he's trying to get his offense installed.

"They're picking it up pretty good," he observes. "We've had some good days and some bad days, but we're getting real good effort from the kids," he adds.

As might be expected the new mentor is pleased with the quality of his backfield, where 6 of the 11 returning lettermen are found.

Two-year vets Jim Riggins and Charles Garrett and one-year lettermen Reuben Worster, Charles King, Jack Galusha and Dave Will give the Links an excellent backfield nucleus. Most are capable of playing more than one position.

Worster, a 6-2, 196-pound senior, will probably get the call at quarterback. Also working there are Galusha and junior Steve McKelvey.

Riggins, an all-city choice in 1964, is a fixture at fullback with Worster and Will ready to step in if needed.

Lack of consistency is the major problem. "The linemen are giving a good effort and at times some of them show us what we're looking for," he indicates.

Tackle was a potential strong point but some injuries here have clouded the outlook. Don Gabelhouse (245) and Tom Aguirre (196) will miss the early part of the schedule because of injuries.

There are some capable hands remaining, however. Seniors Jay Hendrickson (260) and Loren Ubben (195) are lettermen. Hendrickson is slated for defensive duty.

REUBEN WORSTER

JACK GALUSHA

The offensive spots are still up for grabs with Ubben, Bob Frame, John Walters and Steve David the principal contenders. David, a letterman, is considered a center, but has been learning the tackle assignments as well.

Senior letterman Larry Lyons, up to 180 pounds this year, heads the guard contingent. Junior Craig Roseberger and senior Vincent Victoria are also likely to see considerable action.

Ex-Husker Vike Francis Dead At 47

Omaha (AP) — Funeral services were being arranged Tuesday night for Viscount (Vike) Francis, who died at Veterans Hospital in Omaha late Monday night. Burial will be in Mount Calvary Cemetery at Salina, Kan. at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Francis, 47, had been in ill health for several years.

He was a star on the 1938-40 Nebraska teams and starred as Nebraska was defeated by Stanford in the 1941 Rose Bowl game.

While in school, Francis serviced a juke box route and published a humor paper. He married Yvonne Costello, a campus beauty queen from Walthill.

His widow and three sons, Tray, Colin and Sean, live in Salina.

—IN AFL TRIMMING—

John Huarte Cut From Team

Peekskill, N.Y. (AP)—Quarterback John Huarte, Heisman Trophy winner from Notre Dame and $200,000 bonus rookie for the New York Jets, was cut from the American Football League team's roster Tuesday.

The Jets trimmed five other players and got one below the league limit of 38. Among others dropped were defensive tackle Gordy Holz, a starter last season, and flanker-halfback Bob Schweikert, a rookie from Virginia Tech who reportedly received a $100,000 to sign with New York.

Huarte, selected as the top college player of the year last season and Most Valuable Player in last month's All-Star game at Chicago, ran a poor third in the Jet quarterback sweepstakes behind second-year man Mike Taliaferro and the $400,000 rookie, Joe Namath.

If another AFL club claims Huarte within 24 hours — by 12 a.m. CST Wednesday — the Jets can take him off the waiver list and restore him to their roster. If no other team picks him up within 24 hours the Jets have another 24 hours to remove him from the waiver list and put him on their taxi, or reserve, squad.

If he isn't taken by another club or placed on the Jets' taxi squad, he becomes a free agent.

Schweigert, a versatile athlete who was a leading college quarterback, was put on the injured waiver list — but still can be picked up by other AFL clubs. He has a pulled muscle in his right thigh.

Holz is in his sixth pro season.

The Jets also cut offensive halfback Dave Flemmg, center John Schmitt and defensive tackle Charlie Ragus, who did not report to camp after being obtained last week from the Kansas City Chiefs for defensive tackle Bob McAdams. The Chiefs now will give the Jets a 1965 draft choice for McAdams.

Cornhusker-Tiger Clash Sold Out

His office has set aside a quota of public, student and faculty season tickets, but individual ticket orders for the Nebraska game are no longer being accepted.

With 3600 seats added to Memorial Stadium this summer, the Tiger-Cornhusker game is certain to surpass the stadium record of 52,877 set by the same two teams in 1963.

This is the first sellout of the season for Missouri. An estimated 7,000 Nebraska fans have purchased tickets for the game.

Labor Fighting Ag Bill Riders

. . . MAY OPPOSE WHOLE BILL

Washington (UPI)—Spokesmen for organized labor agreed Tuesday to fight the Senate version of the administration's farm bill unless two riders adopted by the Agriculture Committee are killed.

These riders, adopted last week, include one urging the 'President to drop a shipping regulation which effectively blocks sales of U.S. wheat to Russia.

Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., announced that he expects the Senate to begin debate on the farm bill Wednesday. Mansfield said he hoped to wind up action on the bill this week, even if it means calling the Senate into a Saturday session.

Both Must Go

An AFL-CIO spokesman said the decision that the Senate farm bill will "not be acceptable" to organized labor unless both riders are removed was made Tuesday at a meeting of union legislative representatives.

The second labor-oposed rider would give the secretary of agriculture power now held by Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz to decide if foreign farm labor is needed on U.S. farms. The maritime trades department of the AFL-CIO, in a formal statement, called both riders "obnoxious" and said it will oppose the whole farm bill unless both sections are dropped.

The House already has pased its version of the Johnson bill, which includes controversial new four-year price support programs for crops including wheat, cotton, feed grains, and wool. The Senate Agriculture Committee last week approved its own version of the package, administration — in the cotton and wheat plans.

A strong drive to revive a slightly modified version of the administration-backed house cotton plan was expected on the Senate floor.

Committee Riders

The Senate committee also tacked on the two riders.

One committee proposal would declare the "sense of Congress" that no shipping restrictions should be placed on exports of farm commodities unless the same rules are applied to other commodities.

In effect, this would call on President Johnson to kill a government regulation which requires half of any wheat sold on commercial terms to Russia or her satellites to be carried in American-flag ships.

Critics of this 1963 regulation say it has effectively prevented sales of U.S. wheat to Rusia because freight rates on American vessels are higher than those charged by foreign-flag ships. Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., and a number of other Midwest senators have been campaigning — against labor opposition — for action to drop the shipping regulations.

JFK Trading Rule To Get Panel Check

Washington (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee was asked Tuesday to look into the question of whether treaties and laws are violated by the requirement that half of any wheat sold commercially to Russia and its satellites move in U.S. vessels.

Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., introduced a resolution asking the inquiry and calling for a report to the Senate by Oct. 15. He said he acted on behalf of Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., but fully agreed with the purpose of the resolution.

The requirement was laid down by President John F. Kennedy. Maritime unions had urged it. As a practical matter the requirement has been a barrier to Soviet purchase of wheat here because shipping charges in U.S. vessels are higher than in ships under other flags.

The resolution says the State Department has advised the maritime advisory committee that such restrictions or preference provisions violate commercial treaties of at least 30 nations and that extension of U.S. flag preference into the commercial trade area would arouse violent reaction among friendly nations and constitute a reversal of foreign policy of at least a century's duration.

In addition, the resolution says the State Department advised that the restrictions on licenses for commercial wheat appear to be a violation of the 1949 export control act.

Red China Likely To Cash In

London (UPI)—Communist China, the most probably benevactor of the undeclared Indo-Pakistanwar, is likely to cash in heavily, diplomats said Tuesday.

The flareup has come as a heaven-sent gift to Peking which is losing no time in exploiting the conflict to its own political and diplomatic advantage, an authoritative assessment warned.

It listed these major aims and likely exploits of Red China:

—A general weakening of India, both military and political.

—Dissension and suspicion within the British Commonwealth.

—Embarrassment to the United States and Britain and a threatened weakening of the CENTO and SEATO alignment.

Trouble For Russia

At the same time Peking may hope to cause fresh trouble to Russia, with a new chance to undermine Moscow's prestige in Asia and the unaligned world.

How many of these designs might come to fruition was not immediately clear. But, by diplomatic consensus, Peking was likely to reap a good harvest from the current troubles.

Peking is moreover playing safe in this game, because whatever the stakes, it cannot lose, unless it gets directly involved in the war, the assessment said.

All the indications were that Red China would do her utmost to stir the conflict without getting directly embroiled in it.

Limited By Conflict

Qualified diplomatic sources said Red China's practical assistance to Pakistan can only be limited by the nature of the conflict. Pakistan needs heavy and sophisticated military equipment which Peking is unable and unlikely to supply.

As in the case of Viet Nam, Peking can be relied upon to fish in troubled waters without formally entering the war, they said.

"It's a question of heads I win, tails you lose," as one diplomat put it.

Chen Opening Anti-Indian Africa Drive

Algiers (UPI)—Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi arrived Tuesday for what diplomats said would be an anti-Indian diplomatic drive in Africa.

Chen's arrival coincided with growing fears that the much-postponed second Afro-Asian summit Nov. 5 would again be upset by the Indian-Pakistani war over Kashmir.

Chen arrived after stops in Karachi and Damascus, where he openly endorsed Pakistan's viewpoint and branded India as the aggressor.

Then the Chinese leader is due to fly for an official visit in Mali, and possibly visit other African nations before the Algiers "second Bandung."

Chen Yi, whose government claims that Russia is a rich white nation having no place at the summit of Afro-Asian nations, pointedly skipped an expected stopover in Cairo after President Gamal Abdel Nasser made a strong plea for Russia's admission to the second Afro-Asian conference.

Compensation Hiked

Washington (UPI) — The House voted to increase compensation of service-disabled veterans by between five and 20%. The biggest increases would go to the more severely handicapped.

Red Aim To Encircle Atlantic World

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Tuesday night the common strategy of all the world's communist powers is to win control of Asia, Africa, and Latin America and thus encircle and strangle the Atlantic world.

In a speech to the American Political Science Association, Rusk said there has been some change in communist policy over the past 20 years, but he did not define the change.

Presumably Rusk referred among other things to shifts in Soviet attitudes under former Premier Nikita Khrushchev's "peaceful co-existence" policy and the Soviet view that nuclear war would be extremely dangerous for the whole world.

"This evolution has been the result, in part," Rusk said, "of the free world's successes—in deterring and repelling aggression, in restoring security and prosperity in Western Europe, in supporting economic growth in the Southern Hemisphere.

"I hope that we will see further evolution," he said.

"Some in the communist world appear to realize the prohibitive costs of nuclear war. Some may not. But the strategy of trying to win control of Asia, Africa, and Latin America — thus encircling and strangling the Atlantic world —is common to all."

Rusk recalled that Chinese Communist Defense Minister Lin Piao had recently emphasized the philosophy of Mao Tse-tung, top Red Chinese leader, that the seizure of power by armed force, the settlement of the issues by war, is the central task and the highest form of revolution and that imperialism and the reactionaries are paper tigers.

"I hope," Rusk said, "that a successful defense of South Viet Nam will help to change this judgment . . ."

Lifetime Protection Is Provided Ex-Presidents

Washington (UPI) — Congress voted Tuesday to provide lifetime Secret Service protection for former presidents and up to four years of protection for their widows and younger children.

The House completed final legislative action after being told that there have been threats to the lives of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the two children of Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Earlier, the House passed by voice vote and sent back to the Senate a bill that would permit the government to retain permanently the rifle used to kill the late President John F. Kennedy and other items connected with his assassination.

A collector reportedly has made arrangements to purchase for $10,000 the Italian-made assassination rifle from the widow of Lee Oswald. Rep. Byron Rogers, D-Colo., said that under the bill and the Constitution, the owner would recive "just compensation" for property in question, the exact sums to be determined by a court.

Passage of the bill was urged by House Democratic whip Hale Boggs, La., a member of the Warren Commission which investigated the assassination and recommended the legislation.

Labor Day Toll Record Is Set For Third Year

Chicago (AP) — A record number of persons died during the extended Labor Day holiday in traffic accidents. It was the third holiday record of the year.

These were the statistics for the 78-hour period: traffic accidents—564, boating accidents —25, drownings—45.

The previous record of deaths in traffic accidents during the Labor Day weekend was 557 set in 1963. Last year, there were 531 deaths.

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council, said the record offered proof "that many drivers will not or cannot cope with the complexities of today's traffic, and that far too many miles of local and rural roads present deadly hazards to even careful drivers."

The council had estimated that between 500 and 600 persons would die in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight of Labor Day.

Multiple-death accidents were reported in several states, including Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Texas, West Virginia, North Carolina and Illinois.

The worst accident during the holiday occurred in Wiscousin. Seven young persons —all under 21 — were killed Sunday near Madison. At Lake Genvea, Wis., four other young persons, also under 21, were killed Sunday. Two other accidents in Wisconsin took three lives each for a total of 17 in four accidents in the state.

Five persons were killed in an automobile accident in Philadelphia Monday.

Heavy rain and thunderstorms in wide sections of the country Monday served as an added hazard for motorists bound for home from the summer's last holiday.

'Big 8 Same As Any Other Conference' Says Stapleton

By HAL BROWN
Star Sports Editor

Ames, Iowa—Iowa State Coach Clay Stapleton risked banishment from the Big Eight coaching fraternity when he swayed from the party line here Tuesday before the Big Eight Skywriters.

In discussing the Big Eight football picture, Stapleton wandered from the idea being offered elsewhere on the tour of Big Eight campuses that the conference is among the best in the nation, the most balanced and the "any one can win it," theme.

Big Eight Commissioner Wayne Duke flinched as Stapleton told the writers, "the Big Eight is the same as any other conference in the nation.

"It is divided into the halves and the have-nots." He listed the haves as Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma.

"Oklahoma State is a darkhorse," he offered, "but the othes (Iowa State, Kansas State, and Colorado) are trying to catch up and gain the first division.

"Most any team could win on a given weekend, but only a few have the ability to win week in and week out. Those with a head start (the top four) should be good and will be good."

Stapleton, who has offered his choice as the top team in the conference the last two season's to the visiting Big Eight writers, declined the offer to repeat this year, pointing out, "I don't think my coaching brethern appreciate that, so I won't do it." But he did speak frankly about the conference as a whole.

Looking at his own team which had a disappointing 1-8-1 record last season, the Iowa State coach observed, "I feel like I'm starting all over and choosing up sides." This was in reference to the two-platoon situation which faces the Cyclones because of the rule changes on substitution.

"Two-platoon football causes many problems for us," he pointed out. "The main problem is in practice sessions because with a squad of only 55 we have trouble finding enuogh people to work out adequately in platoons. "Stapleton explains that he is against two-platoon football and that he was forced into it. "I thought last year we could win by playing our best boys 40 and 50 minutes, but we found out we couldn't win that way," he notes. "So we just had to decide if we couldn't beat them, we'd have to join them.

"Those with big coachings staffs and big squads can handle the two-platoon system, but it's the case of the rich getting richer and the poor getting poorer."

Stapleton told the writers he is throwing most of the Iowa State eggs this season in one basket — that of quarterback Tim Van Galder. "If he's not the answer to our problems, we're going to be hurting," Stapleton said. "Because he's the only quarterback we have capable of playing Big Eight football."

With Van Galder at the controls, Stapleton also notes the Cyclone attack will include more passing. "We are now working nearly 50 per cent of the time on passing compared to 25 per cent before," Stapleton points out. "We didn't pass more before because we weren't able to complete them in practice so I didn't feel we should try them in a game.

"But this year I feel our line can give Van Galder time to throw, he can throw and in Eppie Barney and Tom Busch we feel we have two boys who can catch them."

"We're going to come off the plane throwing this year," Stapleton promised.

Running with Van Galder in the Iowa State backfield are Leslie Webster, a sophomore tailback from Omaha Tech, Busch at wingback, and Tony Baker at fullback. Baker was a disappointment to the Cyclones last season, but the Iowa State coaching staff feels if he can come back they have top running backs in Baker and Webster.

Chisox Lose To Indians

Chicago (AP)—Chico Salmon's grand slam homer highlighted a 17-hit Cleveland attack which defeated the Chicago White Sox 9-5 Tuesday night.

The loss ended Chicago's four-game winning streak and dropped the second-place White Sox five games behind the American League-leading Minnesota Twins, who were idle.

The White Sox, who blew a four-run lead against the Indians, take on the Twins in a two-game series beginning Wednesday night.

The Sox opened with a four-run first inning against the Indians and appeared headed for an easy triumph which would have cut Minnesota's lead to four games.

Cleveland, however, had other ideas. Salmon's third homer of the season capped a five-run rally in the fifth, and Cleveland put the game away with three more in the sixth.

Singles by Floyd Robinson, John Romano, Bill Skowron, Danny Cater and Ron Hansen plus a boot by shortstop Larry Brown staked the Sox to their four-run lead.

Cleveland picked up a run in the second on singles by Rocky Colavito, Leon Wagner and Joe Azcue, but Skowron offset this with his 17th homer, leading off the third.

Max Alvis opened the big fifth for Cleveland with his 20th homer, and Chuck Hinto followed with a single. Tommy John replaced Juan Pizarro, and Colavito greeted him with the third of his four singles.

Wagner drew a walk before Salmon, who had driven in only six runs all season, homered into the lower deck.

Reds Bomb Pirates, 5-0

Cincinnati (AP) — Frank Robinson hit a two-run double and John Edwards socked a home run Tuesday night as the Cincinnati Reds whipped Pittsburgh 5-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Sammy Ellis.

The victory gave the Reds sole possession of third place in the National League and moved them to within one-half game of first-place.

Ellis gained his 18th victory against eight defeats, striking out 10. He and Pittsburgh's Don Cardwell engaged in a scoreless duel until the fourth inning when the Reds erupted for four runs.

Two runs came across on Robinson's double, but the Reds' otufielder was out trying to score on a passed ball. Edwards followed with his 15th home run.

Detroit Halts Boston Victory Streak At Four

Deroit (AP) — Ray Oyler's two-out double in the seventh inning scored rookie Wayne Redmond with the tie-breaking run, and the Detroit Tigers went on for a 5-3 victory over the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night.

Norm Cash hit a two-run homer, capping a three-run Detroit first inning. Al Kaline singled home the first run after Don Wert singled, stole second and moved to third on Russ Nixon's throwing error.

An error by Jerry Lumpe and singles by Nixon and Jim Gosger gave the Red Sox their first run in the third inning.

Boston chased Julio Navarro, making the first start of his major league career, in the fifth.

Nixon doubled, moved to third on a single by Rico Petrocelli and scored on Gosger's sacrifice fly to center. Petrocelli scored the tying run on Dalton Jones' infield hit.

Charlotte Nips Pepsi

Aberdeen, S.C. (AP) — Charlotte, N.C., won the American Legion's Little World Series Monday night with a 2-1 victory over Omaha, as Charlotte's Garry Hill struck out 19 and drove in one of the runs.

Catcher Skippy Hull drove in the other as the Omaha team played in the second game of the day and ran short of experienced pitchers. Omaha eliminated Memphis, Tenn., 6-3, earlier Monday to gain the finals.

Bill Nosek started for Omaha. Ken Fila, named American Legion Player of the Year, finished up for a tournament total of 21 innings without allowing a run.

Charlotte scored in the first as Ron Lemands walked, stole second and rode home on Hill's single. Daurity's bunt single led off the sixth and he scored on Hull's double.

Larry Gomez walked and scored for Omaha in the sixth on a sacrifice, single and sacrifice fly.

Omaha's George Stilen struck out 11 in the victory over Memphis. Charles Vacek cracked three singles and a double and Bill Myers hit a single and two-run homer. Omaha got 13 hits off Bob Taylor.

Keane Will Sign One-Year Pact

New York (AP) — Johnny Keane, first-year manager of the slump-ridden New York Yankees, will be signed to a one-year contract to manage the team again in 1966, The Associated Press learned Tuesday night.

A source close to Keane said the grey-haired, 53-year-old pilot already has agreed to terms with the Yankees and only the formal signing remains.

The Yankees have called a news conference at Yankee Stadium for 2 p.m., EST, Wednesday.

Orioles Sweep From Yankees

New York (AP)—Sam Bowens' two-run homer in the first game and a 16-hit attack in the second paced Baltimore to a 4-2, 9-5 doubleheader sweep over the skidding New York Yankees Tuesday, extending the Orioles' winning streak to seven and keeping their American League pennant hopes alive.

The third place Orioles backed Wally Bunker with nine extra-base hits in the second game as they made it four straight victories over New York in two days and climbed to within 6½ games of league-leading Minnesota, which was idle Tuesday.

The Yankees have dropped seven in a row—their longest losing streak of the season—and are one loss away from mathematical pennant elimination.

Bowens' second homer in two days, off Al Downing in the sixth inning, provided the winning margin in the opener. The home run followed a walk to Curt Blefary and it put the Orioles in front 4-0.

Baltimore scored two in the third, one on Robinson's single and the other when Mickey Mantle dropped Bob Johnson's fly ball in left.

Bunker retired the first 13 Yankee hitters in the nightcap before Clete Boyer singled with one out in the fifth. Meanwhile, the Orioles built a 6-0 lead against Jack Cullen and Hal Reniff.

Bunker left for a pinch hitter in the ninth after allowing six more hits—including a two-run homer by Roger Repoz. Dick Hall finished up.

Charlie Lau drove in three runs with a double and single, Boog Powell clubbed a two-run homer and Paul Blair slapped three doubles to lead the Baltimore barrage.

Hunting, Fishing Slow In Nebraska

Teal hunters taking advantage of the special nine-day season that opened Saturday were rewarded in varying degrees, the Game Commission reports.

Panhandle and Sand Hills hunters did pretty well. Teal hunting in other parts of the state is pretty spotty, with the big flocks yet to come south.

Fishing has been slow. However, trout fishing has picked up in the panhandle. Merritt Reservoir trout are running 20 inches, and some 4-pound sauger are biting at Lewis and Clark Lake.

A capsule report by area:

SOUTHEAST

Several limits of teal were noted in his area, especially for hunters hitting small potholes. Nemaha River—carp and catfish biting. Burchard Lake—crappie and bullheads going for worms and minnows. Verdon Lake—catfish and bluegill on night crawlers.

NORTHEAST

Teal hunting fair in Tekamah area of Missouri River with blinds in backwaters averaging three birds; Blair area has a few; Wynot and St Helena have good teal numbers. Big blocks yet to arrive. Gavins Point Dam—catfish hitting below powerhouse and white bass active along training dike; blue and channel catfish, running 14 and 17 pounds, being taken in Santee and Weigand areas by jug fishermen; sauger up to 4 pounds biting north of Weigand boat basin.

PANHANDLE

Fair amount of teal and hunters averaging 2 to 3 birds apiece; hunting pressure light. Kilpatrick Lake—crappie biting. Trout Streams—Niobrara River fairly good; 10 to 11 inchers biting at Chadron City Reservoir on grasshoppers; Bordeaux Creek active, and brookies are biting at West Hat Creek.

SOUTHWEST

Sacramento game farm has quite a few teal. Not many anywhere else in southwest. Birds have not moved out of shallow water, potholes, and flooded pastures of Sand Hills and panhandle. Johnson Reservoir—lots of small white bass biting at inlet. Sutherland Reservoir—catfish to 3 pounds biting at inlet. Lake McConaughy—walleye fishing fair to good. Lake Maloney—few catfish and drum biting.

SAND HILLS

Quite a few teal in the area especially around Valentine. Hunting was active the first day but has since slowed down. Merritt Reservoir—20-inch trout being creeled; best at face of dam with worms; mepps spinners work at west end Spencer Dam—sauger and catfish biting. Hackberry—bullheads on worms. Dewey Lake—1 to 1½-pound bass biting. West Long and Clear Lakes—bass on the prowl. Atkinson Recreation Area—carp and bullheads biting.

Knee Injuries Slow Three KU Gridders

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Two key linemen on the Kansas football squad missed practice Tuesday because of knee injuries and another was limping.

Tackle Mike Shinn has missed the last two drills and Richard Pratt, 280 pound senior guard, sat out defensive scrimmage. Guard Bill Perry also was having knee trouble although he did light work.

Adair Batted .276

Semi-Modifieds To Race Today

Semi-modified auto races highlight today's racing activity at the Nebraska State Fair and just about every stock car driver in the state seems to be entered.

More than 70 names are on the entry list to date with only 60 eligible to compete today beginning at 2 p.m.

There are 1932 models through earlier dates entered and a cross-combination of engines and colors and driving techniques.

Six racing events are scheduled, with no time trials being held. The drivers draw for their positions in the various heat races and quality for the feature event by their placement in the heat events.

A study of the entry blanks reveals that the average age of the driver's in today's races is 24 years-old. Officials point out that many of the stars of racing today were former semi-modified competitors.

Viking Roster Trimmed By Departure Of Five

Minneapolis-St. Paul (AP) — Four players were cut from the Minnesota Vikings roster Tuesday and a fifth was waived out of the National Football League after he wasn't claimed in time.

The Vikings said they had cut their roster to 43 with the departure of linebacker Bill Swain from Oregon, fullback Bill McWatters of North Texas State, tackle Howard Simpson of Auburn and end Bob Lacey of North Carolina.

Jack Nicklaus' Money Lead Not Threatened

Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus hasn't been to the bank for two weeks, but his lead in golf's money-winning race is not threatened.

The Professional Golfers Association said Tuesday that Nicklaus' total earnings for the year stand at $138,633, and his margin over his closest competitor, Tony Lema, is almost $30,000.

Night Train Lane Cut As Lions Trim Roster

Detroit (AP)—Veteran defensive back Dick Night Train Lane was among three Detroit Lions cut Tuesday as the National Football League team pared its roster to 43 players.

Lane, who has played in the NFL for 13 years, was trimmed along with defensive back Dick Compton and rookie linebacker John Flynn of Oklahoma.

Norman, Okla. (AP)—Mike Ringer, sidelined several days because of a rib injury, returned to the University of Oklahoma practice field in a new football position Tuesday.

Jack Nicklaus Golf Favorite

Akron, Ohio, (AP)—Jack Nicklaus never has won a 72-hole tournament at the Firestone Country Club here, but has been installed as the favorite in the fourth annual World Series of Golf at the 7,165-yard course Saturday and Sunday.

First prize in the 36-hole extravaganza is $50,000 and Nicklaus won it the two previous years he qualified for the event.

The World Series is for only the winners of four major tournaments. Nicklaus qualified with his record-breaking performance in the Masters last April. His challengers will be Gary Player of South Africa, the U.S. Open champion; Peter Thomson of Australia, winner of the British open, and Dave Marr of Larchmont, N.Y., the PGA champion.

In last month's American Golf Classic at Firestone, Nicklaus had a 23-over-par 303 for 72 holes. But he has shot par or better in his two previous World Series at the par 70 course.

In the 1962 inaugural he had rounds of 66-69-135 to win by four strokes and his 70-70—140 in 1963 gave him a one-stroke victory. He didn't qualify last year.

Second place in the World Series is worth $15,000. The third-place finisher will get $7,500 and $5,000 will be awarded for fourth place.

The final six holes of each round will be televised by NBC from 4 to 5:30 p.m., EST.

Morrison Named To 2 Committees

Governor Morrison will serve on two committees of the National Governors' Conference, it was learned Tuesday.

There are eight standing committees, Reed said.

The annual conference will be held next June in Los Angeles.

Curtis Asks Senate Reconsider His Plan

Washington (AP) — Nebraska Sen. Carl T. Curtis reports he has again asked the Senate to consider his proposal for a constitutional amendment to end deficit financing and make a start toward paying off the national debt.

Top Role

Hollywood (UPI) — Broadway actor Gene Hackman, who starred in "Any Wednesday," landed a top role in "Hawaii" with Julie Andrews.

Sure beats smoking!

Here's how to enjoy it most:

1. Take a small pinch of wintergreen flavored Skoal between your thumb and forefinger.
2. Place the Skoal between cheek and upper or lower gum.
3. Tuck it in comfortably with your tongue, and just leave it there. Skoal releases its rich tobacco pleasure slowly, without chewing. Every can is dated for freshness.

Faster Omaha Interstate Work Eyed

Officials of the City of Omaha, the state and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads Tuesday laid the groundwork for expediting construction of Interstate highway routes in Omaha.

The officials agreed to work toward faster completion of the costly and time-consuming right-of-way acquisition work for the three Interstate routes in the metropolitan area.

State Engineer John Hossack agreed to provide a schedule outlining plans to complete Route 480 through Omaha by 1970 and Route 80 by 1972, the national target date for completion of the superhighway system.

Hossack said Route 680 to the north can only be completed by 1972 if Congress increases the appropriation for Interstate highways.

Omaha Mayor A. V. Sorensen said every possible step should be taken to insure that the three Omaha Interstate routes are completed by the deadline.

He said Omahans "are all wrought up" because of the possibility all three routes will not be completed in the metropolitan area by 1972.

Hossack noted he receives complaints from all regions of the state and that he has the responsibility to complete the western stretches of the Interstate too.

Robert Anderson, division engineer for the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, said planning for Route 480 should be made "without regard for the rural-urban spending formula."

The formula, based on cost estimates of the superhighway system in the state, provides that no more than 24.7% of the Interstate funds can be spent in urban areas.

"One fourth of the right-of-way costs are in rural areas, and three-fourths are in urban areas, but the formula limits your right-of-way spending in urban areas, and the right-of-way spending is what must come first," Anderson said. "We have to put more dollars in the urban program."

The meeting was called by Gov. Frank Morrison to discuss problems related to Interstate construction progress in Omaha.

Participants included Morrison, Sorensen, Anderson, Hossack, Omaha Public Works Director L. N. Ress, Deputy State Engineer G. C. Strobel, and Willard Townsend, a former roads department trouble shooter.

They agreed to:

—Inform all property owners in areas affected by the Interstate routes that planning will be expedited and negotiations would begin as soon as possible.

—Push appraisers to complete their tasks promptly.

—Consider building Route 480 from the Missouri River Bridge, now under construction, westward, instead of from west to east.

—Increase communications between the agencies involved.

Gov. Morrison noted that "confusion permeates" the Interstate construction program in Omaha, but increased cooperation between agencies could solve many of the problems.

State To Receive $31.7 Million In Road Funds For Fiscal Year

Nebraska will receive $31,701,792 in road funds from the federal government for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1966, the State Roads Department announced Tuesday.

George Welty, chief of records and audits for the department, said the lion's share of the federal money — $16,813,950—is earmarked for Interstate highway projects.

The federal government pays 90% of Interstate building costs, and the state foots the rest of the bill.

For primary roads, $7,845,651 was apportioned to the state, Welty said. A total of $5,600,540 went to the secondary road system and $1,441,651 was set aside for urban construction.

State Engineer John Hossack said the $31.7 million allotment was "about what we had figured on."

Hossack expressed concern earlier that delays in receiving the federal apportionment might delay awarding contracts for urban and Interstate work because of a fund shortage in the two categories.

Welty said Nebraska, for this fiscal year, received $31,633,515 from the federal government. Following is the breakdown: primary, $8,102,375; secondary, $5,772,330; urban, $1,445,310; and Interstate, $16,313,500.

Welty noted that Nebraska's Interstate allocation was increased more than $500,000 for fiscal 1967.

He said the reason for an increase in Interstate funds to all states was an effort to assure completion of the highway network by the 1972 target date set by the federal government.

Central City Man Selected For Agresearch Committee

Appointment of Tom Moates of Central City to the Agresearch Program's advisory committee was announced Tuesday by Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan.

Moates, a graduate of the University of Nebraska Agricultural College, is a partner of a farm management and real estate firm.

He succeeds Vince Rossiter, a Hartington banker who resigned to accept appointment on the Governor's Tax Study Committee.

Finigan also announced that the advisory committee accepted several research proposals, including one by the Midwest Research Farms of York to evaluate the growth stimulating properties of an experimental seed treatment product.

The Harris Laboratories Inc.'s Lexington division will test another research proposal increasing the use of alfalfa as a complete protein feed by addition of soil nutrients.

Sharing Studied

Washington (UPI) — The Justice Department said it has decided not to challenge an agreement among San Francisco newspapers to share production costs. But it said it is carefully studying the "difficult antitrust problems" involved in such arrangements.

Labor Fighting Ag Bill Riders

. . . MAY OPPOSE WHOLE BILL

Washington (UPI)—Spokesmen for organized labor agreed Tuesday to fight the Senate version of the administration's farm bill unless two riders adopted by the Agriculture Committee are killed.

These riders, adopted last week, include one urging the President to drop a shipping regulation which effectively blocks sales of U.S. wheat to Russia.

Senate majority leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., announced that he expects the Senate to begin debate on the farm bill Wednesday. Mansfield said he hoped to wind up action on the bill this week, even if it means calling the Senate into a Saturday session.

Both Must Go

An AFL-CIO spokesman said the decision that the Senate farm bill will "not be acceptable" to organized labor unless both riders are removed was made Tuesday at a meeting of union legislative representatives

The second labor-oposed rider would give the secretary of agriculture power now held by Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz to decide if foreign farm labor is needed on U.S. farms. The maritime trades department of the AFL-CIO, in a formal statement, called both riders "obnoxious" and said it will oppose the whole farm bill unless both sections are dropped.

The House already has pased its version of the Johnson bill, which includes controversial new four-year price support programs for crops including wheat, cotton, feed grains, and wool. The Senate Agriculture Committee last week approved its own version of the package, administration — in the cotton and wheat plans

A strong drive to revive a slightly modified version of the administration-backed house cotton plan was expected on the Senate floor.

Committee Riders

The Senate committee also tacked on the two riders.

One committee proposal would declare the "sense of Congress" that no shipping restrictions should be placed on exports of farm commodities unless the same rules are applied to other commodities.

In effect, this would call on President Johnson to kill a government regulation which requires half of any wheat sold on commercial terms to Russia or her satellites to be carried in American-flag ships.

Critics of this 1963 regulation say it has effectively prevented sales of U.S. wheat to Rusia because freight rates on American vessels are higher than those charged by foreign-flag ships. Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., and a number of other Midwest senators have been campaigning — against labor opposition — for action to drop the shipping regulations.

JFK Trading Rule To Get Panel Check

Washington (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee was asked Tuesday to look into the question of whether treaties and laws are violated by the requirement that half of any wheat sold commercially to Russia and its satellites move in U.S. vessels

Sen Stuart Symington, D-Mo., introduced a resolution asking the inquiry and calling for a report to the Senate by Oct 15. He said he acted on behalf of Sen. George S McGovern, D-S.D., but fully agreed with the purpose of the resolution.

The requirement was laid down by President John F. Kennedy. Maritime unions had urged it As a practical matter the requirement has been a barrier to Soviet purchase of wheat here because shipping charges in U.S. vessels are higher than in ships under other flags.

The resolution says the State Department has advised the maritime advisory committee that such restrictions or preference provisions violate commercial treaties of at least 30 nations and that extension of U.S. flag preference into the commercial trade area would arouse violent reaction among friendly nations and constitute a reversal of foreign policy of at least a century's duration.

In addition, the resolution says the State Department advised that the restrictions on licenses for commercial wheat appear to be a violation of the 1949 export control act.

Red China Likely To Cash In

London (UPI)—Communist China, the most probably benevactor of the undeclared Indo-Pakistanwar, is likely to cash in heavily, diplomats said Tuesday.

The flareup has come as a heaven-sent gift to Peking which is losing no time in exploiting the conflict to its own political and diplomatic advantage, an authoritative assessment warned.

It listed these major aims and likely exploits of Red China·

—A general weakening of India, both military and political.

—Dissension and suspicion within the British Commonwealth.

—Embarrassment to the United States and Britain and a threatened weakening of the CENTO and SEATO alignment.

Trouble For Russia

At the same time Peking may hope to cause fresh trouble to Russia, with a new chance to undermine Moscow's prestige in Asia and the unaligned world.

How many of these designs might come to fruition was not immediately clear. But, by diplomatic consensus, Peking was likely to reap a good harvest from the current troubles.

Peking is moreover playing safe in this game, because whatever the stakes, it cannot lose, unless it gets directly involved in the war, the assessment said.

All the indications were that Red China would do her utmost to stir the conflict without getting directly embroiled in it.

Limited By Conflict

Qualified diplomatic sources said Red China's practical assistance to Pakistan can only be limited by the nature of the conflict. Pakistan needs heavy and sophisticated military equipment which Peking is unable and unlikely to supply.

As in the case of Viet Nam, Peking can be relied upon to fish in troubled waters without formally entering the war, they said.

Chen Opening Anti-Indian Africa Drive

Algiers (UPI)—Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi arrived Tuesday for what diplomats said would be an anti-Indian diplomatic drive in Africa.

Chen's arrival coincided with growing fears that the much-postponed second Afro-Asian summit Nov. 5 would again be upset by the Indian-Pakistani war over Kashmir.

Then the Chinese leader is due to fly for an official visit in Mali, and possibly visit other African nations before the Algiers "second Bandung."

Red Aim To Encircle Atlantic World

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Tuesday night the common strategy of all the world's communist powers is to win control of Asia, Africa, and Latin America and thus encircle and strangle the Atlantic world.

In a speech to the American Political Science Association, Rusk said there has been some change in communist policy over the past 20 years, but he did not define the change.

Presumably Rusk referred among other things to shifts in Soviet attitudes under former Premier Nikita Khrushchev's "peaceful co-existence" policy and the Soviet view that nuclear war would be extremely dangerous for the whole world.

"This evolution has been the result, in part," Rusk said, "of the free world's successes—in deterring and repelling aggression, in restoring security and prosperity in Western Europe, in supporting economic growth in the Southern Hemisphere.

"I hope that we will see further evolution," he said.

"Some in the communist world appear to realize the prohibitive costs of nuclear war. Some may not. But the strategy of trying to win control of Asia, Africa, and Latin America — thus encircling and strangling the Atlantic world —is common to all."

Rusk recalled that Chinese Communist Defense Minister Lin Piao had recently emphasized the philosophy of Mao Tse-tung, top Red Chinese leader, that the seizure of power by armed force, the settlement of the issues by war, is the central task and the highest form of revolution and that imperialism and the reactionaries are paper tigers.

"I hope," Rusk said, that a successful defense of South Viet Nam will help to change this judgment . . ."

Lifetime Protection Is Provided Ex-Presidents

Washington (UPI) — Congress voted Tuesday to provide lifetime Secret Service protection for former presidents and up to four years of protection for their widows and younger children.

The House completed final legislative action after being told that there have been threats to the lives of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and the two children of Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Earlier, the House passed by voice vote and sent back to the Senate a bill that would permit the government to retain permanently the rifle used to kill the late President John F. Kennedy and other items connected with his assassination.

A collector reportedly has made arrangements to purchase for $10,000 the Italian-made assassination rifle from the widow of Lee Oswald. Rep. Byron Rogers, D-Colo., said that under the bill and the Constitution, the owner would recive "just compensation" for property in question, the exact sums to be determined by a court.

Passage of the bill was urged by House Democratic whip Hale Boggs, La., a member of the Warren Commission which investigated the assassination and recommended the legislation.

Labor Day Toll Record Is Set For Third Year

Chicago (AP) — A record number of persons died during the extended Labor Day holiday in traffic accidents It was the third holiday record of the year

Howard Pyle, president of the National Safety Council said the record offered proof "that many drivers will not or cannot cope with the complexities of today's traffic, and that far too many miles of local and rural roads present deadly hazards to even careful drivers "

The council had estimated that between 500 and 600 persons would die in traffic accidents between 6 p m Friday and midnight of Labor Day.

Multiple-death accidents were reported in several states, including Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Texas, West Virginia, North Carolina and Illinois.

The worst accident during the holiday occurred in Wiscousin. Seven young persons —all under 21 — were killed Sunday near Madison. At Lake Genvea, Wis., four other young persons, also under 21, were killed Sunday. Two other accidents in Wisconsin took three lives each for a total of 17 in four accidents in the state.

Five persons were killed in an automobile accident in Philadelphia Monday

Heavy rain and thunderstorms in wide sections of the country Monday served as an added hazard for motorists bound for home from the summer's last holiday.

Compensation Hiked

Washington (UPI) — The House voted to increase compensation of service-disabled veterans by between five and 20%. The biggest increases would go to the more severely handicapped.

Pearson Calls Canadian Election For November

Ottawa (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson scheduled national elections Tuesday night for Nov. 8 in hopes of giving his minority Liberal Party a new mandate in Canada's House of Commons.

Pearson told a nationwide radio-television audience he had asked Gov.-Gen. Georges Vanier to dissolve Parliament immediately to set the stage for the election.

The Liberals have been in office less than 2½ years. Their lack of a clear-cut majority over the combined opposition has hampered them in their efforts to deal effectively with the grave constitutional problems resulting from the power struggle between English and French-speaking Canada.

Diefenbaker Critical

The Liberals hold 127 seats in the 265-member House of Commons, but they are outnumbered by the combined opposition of Conservatives, 92, New Democrats, 18, Creditistes, 13, Social Credit members, 9, and Independents, 2. There are four vacancies.

Pearson said he does not think the government can follow a steady course without a parliamentary majority.

"I believe that this decision is in the national interest," he said. "I believe that the Canadian people want to solve the big problems; to get on with the important tasks facing them; to get on with the job of building the new Canada.

"For this high purpose, they can best be served by a government at Ottawa which has the confidence of Canadians in every part of the country, as represented by a majority of supporters in the House of Commons."

Pearson noted that the Libdrals' position in Parliament had become increasingly shaky during the summer. Opposition leaders recently announced they would be able to muster enough votes to topple the government at the scheduled reconvening of Commons this month.

In remarks following Pearson's broadcast Diefenbaker also charged that Pearson was afraid to face embarrassing questions in Commons over the Dorion Report. This resulted from an official inquiry into alleged links between members of Pearson's government and the underworld.

Criticism of Pearson also came quickly from the leaders of the three other opposition parties, but they said they were ready to take their case before Canada's 10.7 million electors.

Last One In 1963

Canadians last voted April 8, 1963. In that election the Liberals lost two seats and the Conservatives five. Under the Canadian system, the House of Commons may stay in office up to five years.

The election will be Canada's fifth in eight years.

Pearson called earlier in the day on the governor-general who must ratify the prime minister's decision in the name of the queen.

Ex-Secretary Of Stock Exchange At Sioux City Dies

Sioux City, Iowa (AP) — Don Cunningham, 79, retired secretary of the Sioux City Livestock Exchange, died of pneumonia Monday night at a Sioux City hospital, where he had been a patient for 13 weeks.

Mr. Cunningham, born at Gilman, Iowa, was a livestock auctioneer before coming here in 1935. The next year he was elected secretary of the exchange, serving until his retirement in 1961.

He wrote a column for a number of weekly newspapers in this area. Last year he was awarded a Valley Forge Freedoms Award for a column on citizenship.

Curtis: Job Corps Costs High

Washington (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said Tuesday the costs are high for the benefits received at the Job Corps Training Center for Women at Omaha.

Discussing an exchange of correspondence with Director Sargent Shriver of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Curtis said the annual cost for each enrollee is $3,718.

This, he said, is about double the cost for a year at most Nebraska colleges.

Shriver wrote Curtis that as of the end of July, 98 persons were employed at the center. He said it is anticipated there will be an annual payroll of about $1,250,000, based on full capacity enrollment of 325 persons and a full center staff of 118.

Afterthought Of Neighbor Saves Family

Mrs. Merrill said the family failed to hear the civil defense warning sirens during Tuesday's disastrous Omaha flood. They slept through it all when their neighborhood was being evacuated.

Mrs. Merrill, who only has one leg, said her husband was a trucker and was enroute to Virginia.

She said a neighbor had returned to his home after the evacuation to pick up something. As an afterthought, he banged on her door. The knocking roused the family.

Mrs. Merrill said she, her three boys and daughter moved everything in their house "as high as we could" and left. She said her neighbor expressed fear the roads would be out if they waited any longer.

"The only thing I took with me were the kids' birth papers," she said. "There was no time to take anything out. We just got dressed and ran."

Fowler Stayed In Flood Area Protecting Pups

The Fowlers with their four-month-old daughter, Vera Yvonne, were returning from Greenville, Ky., where they had been called by the illness of Mrs. Fowler's father. Their two sons, Ruben, 11 and David, 9, were staying with neighbors in Omaha.

"I saw water all around it but we couldn't get through," Mrs. Fowler said. "My husband jumped out and started wading toward the house. He yelled at me to get out of there and I did."

Mrs. Fowler and Vera Yvonne were among 76 evacuees who spent the night at a downtown hotel, anxiously awaiting word of her husband. Fowler spent most of the night alone in their partially flooded house, caring for nine-week-old Pekinese puppies.

"I haven't been to bed since Sunday night," Fowler said. "I drove all Monday night coming home." He estimated his flood losses would reach $3,000 or $4,000.

Rev. Jones Is Leaving Omaha For K.C. Charge

Omaha (AP)—The Rev. Kelsey Jones, pastor of Cleves Temple Christian Methodist Episcopal Church and president of the Citizens Co-Ordinating Committee for Civil Liberties, is leaving Omaha for a new charge.

The Rev. Mr. Jones has been named pastor of St. Mathews Church, Wichita, Kan., Charles Washington, a spokesman for the Omaha congregation, said. The transfer was made at the church's Kansas-Missouri conference in Kansas City.

The Rev. Mr. Jones came to Omaha in September, 1962. He will be succeeded in Omaha by the Rev. Charles Shine Jr., Dayton, Ohio, Washington said.

Crop Growth Slowed By Cool Temps

This word came Tuesday from the State-Federal Bureau of Agricultural Statistics in its weekly crop-weather report.

More than the usual amount of the acreage of corn, sorghum and soybeans was planted or replanted late in the season and this replanted grain will need a longer than usual growing season to mature grain, the report said.

At the close of the week about 61% of the corn was in the dent stage with nearly 9% considered mature, the bureau reported. This was just a little ahead of last year and slightly ahead of normal. Some early fields of grain sorghum were nearing maturity and will be harvested as soon as fields dry, according to the bureau.

Other comments:

Soybeans were benefited by rain with plants in many of the early planted fields starting to drop leaves. Harvest of dry beans continues but on a rather limited scale. Yields are very irregular ranging from low to very high, depending upon the date of planting and the damage received from hail and flooding.

Planting of winter wheat has started in the Panhandle and some other local areas. Moisture conditions are quite favorable for good germination. Seeding of rye and legumes continue under favorable soil moisture conditions.

Harvest of the third cutting of alfalfa is nearing completion and some of the fourth cutting is now being taken on irrigated fields as well as dryland areas where rainfall has been generous.

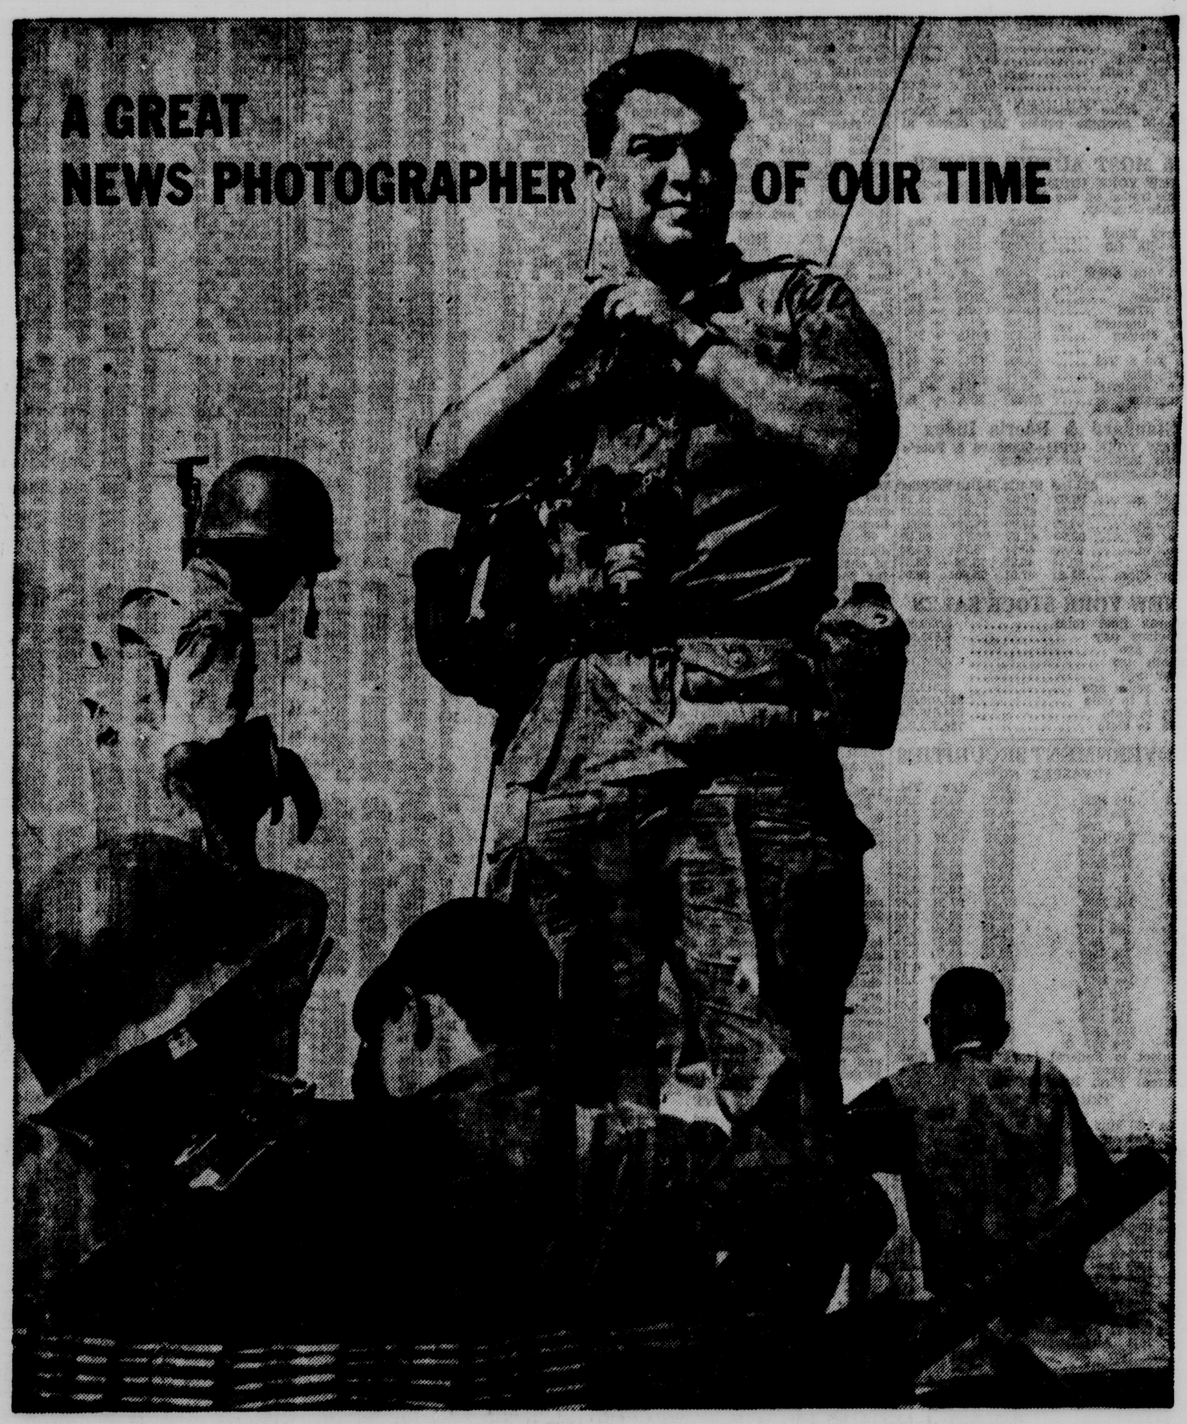
Woman's Body Found; Believed Cave-In Victim

Omaha (AP)—An Army Engineer inspection boat crew Tuesday located the body of a woman in the Missouri River believed to be the second victim of a sewer cave-in eight days ago in South Omaha.

The body was tentatively identified as that of Jeanette Stanich, 43, who police think was with John Smejkal when his car dropped partly into a hole. Smejkal's body was found at a sewer outlet near the Missouri River.



HORST FAAS of The Associated Press

Armed only with a camera, Horst Faas has served side by side with combat troops in Viet Nam since 1962—photographing the tragic action of a seemingly endless war. Before that he photographed the turbulent Congo and rebellious Algeria. His achievements in Viet Nam won for him the 1965 Pulitzer Prize for "daring and courageous combat photography" and the Robert Capa Award for "superlative photography requiring exceptional courage and enterprise." Faas' pictures and eyewitness stories appear in...

Steels Dip In Strong Stock Mart

New York (AP) — The stock market staged its post-Labor Day debut by making another advance Tuesday despite weakness in steels.

In early trading the steels were a little higher but they melted away to some sharp losses. Steel producers were said to be concerned over the high costs of the new labor agreement.

Additionally, hedge buying against the possibility of a steel strike was regarded as having built up enough inventory so that sales and profits would probably decline for steel companies in the near future. Some difference of opinion existed on that point. A decrease in weekly steel production, however, tended to underline this opinion in the minds of investors.

Losses by steels were more than balanced by gains of other key stocks. The leading auto stocks were solidly higher. Blue chips among chemicals and nonferrous metals made some sharp gains.

It was the market's fourth straight daily advance. The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.14 to 91.011.

Of 1,391 issues traded, 659 rose and 481 fell. New highs for the year totaled 76 and new lows 14.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks made a small gain of .4 at 337.0 with industrials off .1, rails up .4 and utilities up .9. U.S. Steel was the only one of its group to place among the 15 most-active stocks. A dozen of these advanced and three declined.

Motorola advanced 1⅝. Union Carbide and Du Pont rose 1¾ each. Xerox 3½, Boeing 1 and Zenith 1¼.

Faster Omaha Interstate Work Eyed

Officials of the City of Omaha, the state and the U S Bureau of Public Roads Tuesday laid the groundwork for expediting construction of Interstate highway routes in Omaha

The officials agreed to work toward faster completion of the costly and time-consuming right-of-way acquisition work for the three Interstate routes in the metropolitan area.

State Engineer John Hossack agreed to provide a schedule outlining plans to complete Route 480 through Omaha by 1970 and Route 80 by 1972, the national target date for completion of the superhighway system.

Hossack said Route 680 to the north can only be completed by 1972 if Congress increases the appropriation for Interstate highways.

Omaha Mayor A V Sorensen said every possible step should be taken to insure that the three Omaha Interstate routes are completed by the deadline

He said Omahans "are all wrought up" because of the possibility all three routes will not be completed in the metropolitan area by 1972

Hossack noted he receives complaints from all regions of the state and that he has the responsibility to complete the western stretches of the Interstate too

Robert Anderson, division engineer for the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads, said planning for Route 480 should be made "without regard for the rural-urban spending formula."

The formula, based on cost estimates of the superhighway system in the state, provides that no more than 24 7% of the Interstate funds can be spent in urban areas.

"One fourth of the right-of-way costs are in rural areas, and three-fourths are in urban areas, but the formula limits your right-of-way spending in urban areas, and the right-of-way spending is what must come first," Anderson said. "We have to put more dollars in the urban program."

The meeting was called by Gov. Frank Morrison to discuss problems related to Interstate construction progress in Omaha.

Participants included Morrison, Sorensen, Anderson, Hossack Omaha Public Works Director L N Ress, Deputy State Engineer G. C. Strobel, and Willard Townsend, a former roads department trouble shooter

They agreed to:

—Inform all property owners in areas affected by the Interstate routes that planning will be expedited and negotiations would begin as soon as possible

—Push appraisers to complete their tasks promptly.

—Consider building Route 480 from the Missouri River Bridge, now under construction, westward, instead of from west to east.

—Increase communications between the agencies involved

Gov. Morrison noted that "confusion permeates" the Interstate construction program in Omaha, but increased cooperation between agencies could solve many of the problems.

State To Receive $31.7 Million In Road Funds For Fiscal Year

Nebraska will receive $31,701,792 in road funds from the federal government for the fiscal year starting July 1, 1966, the State Roads Department announced Tuesday.

George Welty, chief of records and audits for the department, said the lion's share of the federal money — $16,813,950—is earmarked for Interstate highway projects.

The federal government pays 90% of Interstate building costs, and the state foots the rest of the bill

For primary roads, $7,845,651 was apportioned to the state, Welty said. A total of $5,600,540 went to the secondary road system and $1,441,651 was set aside for urban construction

State Engineer John Hossack said the $31.7 million allotment was "about what we had figured on."

Hossack expressed concern earlier that delays in receiving the federal apportionment might delay awarding contracts for urban and Interstate work because of a fund shortage in the two categories

Welty said Nebraska, for this fiscal year, received $31,633,515 from the federal government. Following is the breakdown: primary, $8,102,375; secondary, $5,772,330; urban, $1,445,310; and Interstate, $16,313,500.

Welty noted that Nebraska's Interstate allocation was increased more than $500,000 for fiscal 1967.

He said the reason for an increase in Interstate funds to all states was an effort to assure completion of the highway network by the 1972 target date set by the federal government.

Central City Man Selected For Agresearch Committee

Appointment of Tom Moates of Central City to the Agresearch Program's advisory committee was announced Tuesday by Agriculture Director Pearle Finigan.

Moates, a graduate of the University of Nebraska Agricultural College, is a partner of a farm management and real estate firm.

He succeeds Vince Rossiter, a Hartington banker who resigned to accept appointment on the Governor's Tax Study Committee.

Finigan also announced that the advisory committee accepted several research proposals, including one by the Midwest Research Farms of York to evaluate the growth stimulating properties of an experimental seed treatment product.

The Harris Laboratories Inc.'s Lexington division will test another research proposal increasing the use of alfalfa as a complete protein feed by addition of soil nutrients.

Sharing Studied

Washington (UPI) — The Justice Department said it has decided not to challenge an agreement among San Francisco newspapers to share production costs. But it said it is carefully studying the "difficult antitrust problems" involved in such arrangements.

Consumer Likely To Foot Steel Contract Bill

By NEIL GILBRIDE

Pittsburgh (AP)—The big question after the multimillion dollar steel settlement is how much of the added labor costs will be passed on to the public in price increases over the next three years.

No one will say so, but the indications are strong that at least some of it will eventually be tacked onto steel products from nuts and bolts to automobiles.

However, informed sources do not expect the kind of hefty price increases on basic steel prices that roused the ire of the late President John F. Kennedy in 1962.

Incredible Total

The steel package adds up to the seemingly incredible total of nearly $1 billion in new labor costs over the life of the contract. From the third year on, when the full cost of the settlement is in effect, it will add $500 million every year.

This is based on government estimates that every penny in steel labor costs is worth $10 million a year. Both the union and industry decline to put a total cost estimate on the settlement, but privately do not quarrel with the government figure.

The automation began in earnest after Kennedy beat back $6 per ton increases forcing the industry to seek other means of making up for increased labor costs.

Exceeds Guidelines

Government sources added that steel prices will be closely observed following the settlement.

Sources who took part in the White House talks said they believed Johnson, in calling for a non-inflationary settlement, was giving the industry notice that he would not like to see major price increases.

"He never said a harsh word but everybody got the message," one source said of Johnson's role in the steel talks.

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

New trophies were designed this year for winners in the State Fair photography competition "to promote the state not only at the fair, but also in the years to come when they are displayed in people's homes."

Money Incidental

"The money is so incidental to even first place winners," Pickel pointed out, noting the $1.25 prize offered in many first place categories in other classes. "It's an honorary thing to win," he said, "and a trophy cites that honor while on display."

STAR PHOTO

The photography class is open to all Nebraska amateurs, with an "amateur" section for those who take the picture but have it processed by others and an "advanced amateur" section for entrants who not only take the picture but develop and process it by themselves.

Children Have Won

Children as young as 8 or 9 years old have won prizes in competition judged on composition, interest and technique, Pickel pointed out.

Noting that pretty girls, children and animals draw the most interest and comment from spectators, Pickel pointed out two pictures taken by Dave Yeats of Lincoln showing "typical actions of youngsters."

A cute little boy was caught by the photographer kissing an accommodating girlfriend in a shot labeled, "Time Out." But in another the small tyke was pouring a bucket of sand on the girl's head in "Here, Take This!"

"There's a lot of speculation about what one happened first," the superintendent said.

Johnson's First Name 'President' . . . SAYS MISSY

Away across the ocean, mused Laura Lee Dean, "we're fighting a bunch called the Viets. I don't think the war is very good. The good guys get killed."

None of them knew the names of the Phoenix mayor nor Arizona Gov. Sam Goddard but Laura said she knows what the governor does.

"No," answered Missy Pennell. "His first name is President."

A chorus of groans erupted when it was pointed out that school would put a stop to some television-watching.

"We're going to miss it," they grimaced. "We watch TV all day."

Last Hikers Make It Out To Safety

Zion National Park, Utah (AP) —The last of 42 wilderness hikers trapped nearly three days by the rampaging Virgin River in a deep, narrow gorge made it to safety Tuesday.

"If there was anybody up there who didn't believe in God, he does now," said Les Frazin of Los Angeles when he came out in the first group of 16 Tuesday.

Frazin was one of five California outdoorsmen earlier listed as missing. Those five stood on a ledge, clung to trees or hid under a waterfall during the flood's fury.

The final nine—four men and five children—waded out Tuesday afternoon. One of the men, Alan Keller of Provo, Utah, was limping. His leg had been hit by a log crashing down the gorge at the height of the flood.

The other 17 got out Monday.

Chiefs Call Khrushchev Russian Don Quixote

Moscow (AP)—Soviet authorities released Tuesday new criticism of deposed Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, calling him a Russian Don Quixote who caused confusion, raised false hopes and showed "impaired vision."

The fresh denunciations came in the official record of a full meeting of the Communist Party Central Committee March 24-26. The document went on sale at bookstores.

Khrushchev, 71, was the object of severe denunciations after his ouster last October but in recent months Soviet propagandists have relaxed the anti-Khrushchev campaign. His daughter, Mrs. Rada Adzhubei, said last week he had returned to his country home outside Moscow after a hospital checkup.

"Now we are talking softly," Kunayev said, "but everybody knows it was the work of comrade Khrushchev.

"Remember how the beef and cattle breeding problem was handled. First we were told to milk, then not to milk. We were told to tether cattle, then to let them graze freely. We simply got confused."

Ukrainian Communist leader Piotr Shelest said: "We remember the slogans—to overtake the United States in production of meat and milk per capita, to complete a seven-year plan in three or four years, to say we live well today and tomorrow we will live better. And at the same time we had lines in front of our bread stores."

Veli Akhundov, Azerbaijan party boss, said the whole party condemned Khrushchev's "arbitrary will, Don Quixote-like behavior, and ignoring economic laws—which caused his huge losses."

Leonid Brezhnev, the new Communist Party leader, made no mention of Khrushchev, according to the report.

26 Counties Meet 10% Mark In Tax Petition Drive

Omaha (AP)—Twenty-six counties have gone over the 10% mark in the income tax petition drive.

Signatures from 10% of the voters in the last election for governor would serve as an injunction against putting the new income tax law into effect. Signatures from 5% of the voters would place the issue on the ballot.

The petitions must be filed with the Secretary of State within 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Increase Due In Offutt Personnel

Omaha (AP)—The number of service personnel at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha reportedly will be increased by about 1,000 officers and airmen over a two-year period beginning early next summer.

Col. Elkens Read Jr., base commander, said the increase will mean a construction project to provide living quarters for the new Air Force men and their families.

At present, Offutt, headquarters of the Strategic Air Command, has 12,622 personnel.

Read said the number of persons at the Offutt military community, including personnel and their dependents, now numbers about 37,000.

August Frontier Gains Set Record

Denver, Colo. (UPI) — August passenger gains by Frontier Airlines topped those of any month in the 19-year history of the Denver-based carrier, Frontier President Lewis W. Dymond said.

A record total of 74,245 passengers flew on Frontier flights during August for a 21% increase over the 61,290 passengers flown during the same month one year ago.

Pearson Calls Canadian Election For November

Ottawa (AP)—Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson scheduled national elections Tuesday night for Nov. 8 in hopes of giving his minority Liberal Party a new mandate in Canada's House of Commons.

Pearson told a nationwide radio-television audience he had asked Gov.-Gen. Georges Vanier to dissolve Parliament immediately to set the stage for the election.

The Liberals have been in office less than 2½ years. Their lack of a clear-cut majority over the combined opposition has hampered them in their efforts to deal effectively with the grave constitutional problems resulting from the power struggle between English and French-speaking Canada.

Diefenbaker Critical

The Liberals hold 127 seats in the 265-member House of Commons, but they are outnumbered by the combined opposition of Conservatives, 92, New Democrats, 18, Creditistes, 13, Social Credit members, 9, and Independents, 2. There are four vacancies.

Pearson said he does not think the government can follow a steady course without a parliamentary majority.

"I believe that this decision is in the national interest," he said. "I believe that the Canadian people want to solve the big problems; to get on with the important tasks facing them; to get on with the job of building the new Canada.

"For this high purpose, they can best be served by a government at Ottawa which has the confidence of Canadians in every part of the country, as represented by a majority of supporters in the House of Commons."

Pearson noted that the Libdrals' position in Parliament had become increasingly shaky during the summer. Opposition leaders recently announced they would be able to muster enough votes to topple the government at the scheduled reconvening of Commons this month.

In remarks following Pearson's broadcast Diefenbaker also charged that Pearson was afraid to face embarrassing questions in Commons over the Dorion Report. This resulted from an official inquiry into alleged links between members of Pearson's government and the underworld.

Criticism of Pearson also came quickly from the leaders of the three other opposition parties, but they said they were ready to take their case before Canada's 10.7 million electors.

Last One In 1963

Canadians last voted April 8, 1963. In that election the Liberals lost two seats and the Conservatives five. Under the Canadian system, the House of Commons may stay in office up to five years.

The election will be Canada's fifth in eight years.

Pearson called earlier in the day on the governor-general who must ratify the prime minister's decision in the name of the queen.

Ex-Secretary Of Stock Exchange At Sioux City Dies

Sioux City, Iowa (AP) — Don Cunningham, 79, retired secretary of the Sioux City Livestock Exchange, died of pneumonia Monday night at a Sioux City hospital, where he had been a patient for 13 weeks.

Mr. Cunningham, born at Gilman, Iowa, was a livestock auctioneer before coming here in 1935. The next year he was elected secretary of the exchange, serving until his retirement in 1961.

He wrote a column for a number of weekly newspapers in this area. Last year he was awarded a Valley Forge Freedoms Award for a column on citizenship.

Quintet Of Shapely Misses

Curtis: Job Corps Costs High

Washington (AP)—Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb., said Tuesday the costs are high for the benefits received at the Job Corps Training Center for Women at Omaha.

Discussing an exchange of correspondence with Director Sargent Shriver of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Curtis said the annual cost for each enrollee is $3,718.

This, he said, is about double the cost for a year at most Nebraska colleges.

"These temporary programs by the federal government are a costly and inefficient way of doing it," Curtis said. "There is one staff member for each enrollee."

Shriver wrote Curtis that as of the end of July, 98 persons were employed at the center. He said it is anticipated there will be an annual payroll of about $1,250,000, based on full capacity enrollment of 325 persons and a full center staff of 118.

Crop Growth Slowed By Cool Temps

This word came Tuesday from the State-Federal Bureau of Agricultural Statistics in its weekly crop-weather report.

More than the usual amount of the acreage of corn, sorghum and soybeans was planted or replanted late in the season and this replanted grain will need a longer than usual growing season to mature grain, the report said.

At the close of the week about 61% of the corn was in the dent stage with nearly 9% considered mature, the bureau reported. This was just a little ahead of last year and slightly ahead of normal. Some early fields of grain sorghum were nearing maturity and will be harvested as soon as fields dry, according to the bureau.

Other comments:

Soybeans were benefited by rain with plants in many of the early planted fields starting to drop leaves. Harvest of dry beans continues but on a rather limited scale. Yields are very irregular ranging from low to very high, depending upon the date of planting and the damage received from hail and flooding.

Planting of winter wheat has started in the Panhandle and some other local areas. Moisture conditions are quite favorable for good germination. Seeding of rye and legumes continue under favorable soil moisture conditions.

Harvest of the third cutting of alfalfa is nearing completion and some of the fourth cutting is now being taken on irrigated fields as well as dryland areas where rainfall has been generous.

Moisture received during the week ending Monday included:

Woman's Body Found; Believed Cave-In Victim

Omaha (AP)—An Army Engineer inspection boat crew Tuesday located the body of a woman in the Missouri River believed to be the second victim of a sewer cave-in eight days ago in South Omaha.

The body was tentatively identified as that of Jeanette Stanich, 43, who police think was with John Smejkal when his car dropped partly into a hole. Smejkal's body was found at a sewer outlet near the Missouri River.

Afterthought Of Neighbor Saves Family

Mrs. Merrill said the family failed to hear the civil defense warning sirens during Tuesday's disastrous Omaha flood. They slept through it all when their neighborhood was being evacuated.

Mrs. Merrill, who only has one leg, said her husband was a trucker and was enroute to Virginia.

She said a neighbor had returned to his home after the evacuation to pick up something. As an afterthought, he banged on her door. The knocking roused the family.

Mrs. Merrill said she, her three boys and daughter moved everything in their house "as high as we could" and left. She said her neighbor expressed fear the roads would be out if they waited any longer.

"The only thing I took with me were the kids' birth papers," she said. "There was no time to take anything out. We just got dressed and ran."

Fowler Stayed In Flood Area Protecting Pups

The Fowlers with their four-month-old daughter, Vera Yvonne, were returning from Greenville, Ky., where they had been called by the illness of Mrs. Fowler's father. Their two sons, Ruben, 11 and David, 9, were staying with neighbors in Omaha.

When they heard the news of the flood the Fowlers hurried on toward Omaha but could get only within three houses of their home.

"I saw water all around it but we couldn't get through," Mrs. Fowler said. "My husband jumped out and started wading toward the house. He yelled at me to get out of there and I did."

Mrs. Fowler and Vera Yvonne were among 76 evacuees who spent the night at a downtown hotel, anxiously awaiting word of her husband. Fowler spent most of the night alone in their partially flooded house, caring for nine-week-old Pekinese puppies.

"I haven't been to bed since Sunday night," Fowler said. "I drove all Monday night coming home." He estimated his flood losses would reach $3,000 or $4,000.

Rev. Jones Is Leaving Omaha For K.C. Charge

Omaha (AP)—The Rev Kelsey Jones, pastor of Cleves Temple Christian Methodist Episcopal Church and president of the Citizens Co-Ordinating Committee for Civil Liberties, is leaving Omaha for a new charge.

The Rev. Mr. Jones has been named pastor of St. Mathews Church, Wichita, Kan., Charles Washington, a spokesman for the Omaha congregation, said. The transfer was made at the church's Kansas-Missouri conference in Kansas City.

The Rev. Mr. Jones came to Omaha in September, 1962. He will be succeeded in Omaha by the Rev. Charles Shine Jr., Dayton, Ohio, Washington said.

Steels Dip In Strong Stock Mart

New York (AP) — The stock market staged its post-Labor Day debut by making another advance Tuesday despite weakness in steels.

In early trading the steels were a little higher but they melted away to some sharp losses. Steel producers were said to be concerned over the high costs of the new labor agreement.

Additionally, hedge buying against the possibility of a steel strike was regarded as having built up enough inventory so that sales and profits would probable decline for steel companies in the near future. Some difference of opinion existed on that point. A increase in weekly steel production, however, tended to underline this opinion in the minds of investors.

Losses in steels were more than balanced by gains of other key stocks. The leading auto stocks were solidly higher. Blue chips among chemicals and nonferrous metals made some sharp gains.

It was the market's fourth straight daily advance. The Dow Jones industrial average rose 2.14 to 910.11.

Of 1,391 issues traded, 679 rose and 481 fell. New highs for the year totaled 76 and new lows 14.

Volume was 5.84 million shares compared with 6.02 million Friday.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks made a small gain of .4 at 337.0 with industrials off .1, rails up .4 and utilities up .9. U.S. Steel was the only one of its group to place among the 15 most-active stocks. A dozen of these advanced and three declined.

Motorola advanced 1⅝. Union Carbide and Du Pont rose 1¾ each, Xerox 3½, Boeing 1 and Zenith 1¼.

Consumer Likely To Foot Steel Contract Bill

By NEIL GILBRIDE

Pittsburgh (AP)—The big question after the multimillion dollar steel settlement is how much of the added labor costs will be passed on to the public in price increases over the next three years.

No one will say so, but the indications are strong that at least some of it will eventually be tacked onto steel products from nuts and bolts to automobiles.

However, informed sources do not expect the kind of hefty price increases on basic steel prices that roused the ire of the late President John F. Kennedy in 1962.

Incredible Total

The steel package adds up to the seemingly incredible total of nearly $1 billion in new labor costs over the life of the contract. From the third year on, when the full cost of the settlement is in effect, it will add $500 million every year.

This is based on government estimates that every penny in steel labor costs is worth $10 million a year. Both the union and industry decline to put a total cost estimate on the settlement, but privately do not quarrel with the government figure.

A big factor tending to offset the extent of price hikes is the rapid automation of steel mills to produce more cheaply and efficiently.

The automation began in earnest after Kennedy beat back $6 per ton increases forcing the industry to seek other means of making up for increased labor costs.

Exceeds Guidelines

President Johnson called the current steel settlemen5 a non-inflationary one, but it obviously exceeded White House wage-price guidelines.

Government sources added that steel prices will be closely observed following the settlement.

Sources who took part in the White House talks said they believed Johnson, in calling for a non-inflationary settlement, was giving the industry notice that he would not like to see major price increases.

"He never said a harsh word but everybody got the message," one source said of Johnson's role in the steel talks.

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer

New trophies were designed this year for winners in the State Fair photography competition "to promote the state not only at the fair, but also in the years to come when they are displayed in people's homes."

Money Incidental

"The money is so incidental to even first place winners," Pickel pointed out, noting the $1.25 prize offered in many first place categories in other classes. "It's an honorary thing to win,"he said, "and a trophy cites that honor while on display."

Pickel, 3311 Prescott, a store manager and amateur photographer himself, declared that the photo exhibit is the "biggest ever," with 435 colored slides and between 225 and 250 black and white or color prints entered.

The photography class is open to all Nebraska amateurs, with an "amateur" section for those who take the picture but have it processed by others and an "advanced amateur" section for entrants who not only take the picture but develop and process it by themselves.

Children Have Won

Children as young as 8 or 9 years old have won prizes in competition judged on composition, interest and technique, Pickel pointed out.

Noting that pretty girls, children and animals draw the most interest and comment from spectators, Pickel pointed out two pictures taken by Dave Yeats of Lincoln showing "typical actions of youngsters."

A cute little boy was caught by the photographer kissing an accommodating girlfriend in a shot labeled, "Time Out." But in another the small tyke was pouring a bucket of sand on the girl's head in "Here. Take This!"

"There's a lot of speculation about what one happened first," the superintendent said.

Chiefs Call Khrushchev Russian Don Quixote

Moscow (AP)—Soviet authorities released Tuesday new criticism of deposed Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, calling him a Russian Don Quixote who caused confusion, raised false hopes and showed "impaired vision."

The fresh denunciations came in the official record of a full meeting of the Communist Party Central Committee March 24-26. The document went on sale at bookstores.

Khrushchev, 71, was the object of severe denunciations after his ouster last October but in recent months Soviet propagandists have relaxed the anti-Khrushchev campaign. His daughter, Mrs. Rada Adzhubei, said last week he had returned to his country home outside Moscow after a hospital checkup.

"Now we are talking softly," Kunayev said, "but everybody knows it was the work of comrade Khrushchev.

"Remember how the beef and cattle breeding problem was handled. First we were told to milk, then not to milk. We were told to tether cattle, then to let them graze freely. We simply got confused."

Ukrainian Communist leader Piotr Shelest said: "We remember the slogans—to overtake the United States in production of meat and milk per capita, to complete a seven-year plan in three or four years, to say we live well today and tomorrow we will live better. And at the same time we had lines in front of our bread stores."

Veli Akhundov, Azerbaijan party boss, said the whole party condemned Khrushchev's "arbitrary will, Don Quixote-like behavior, and ignoring economic laws—which caused his huge losses."

Leonid Brezhnev, the new Communist Party leader, made no mention of Khrushchev, according to the report.

Johnson's First Name 'President' . . . SAYS MISSY

Phoenix, Ariz. (AP)— Five 6-year-olds, registering for their first day in school, sat panel-style, serious, cute, wriggly and tiny—bursting with fresh comments on the world situation.

Away across the ocean, mused Laura Lee Dean, "we're fighting a bunch called the Viets. I don't think the war is very good. The good guys get killed."

None of them knew the names of the Phoenix mayor nor Arizona Gov. Sam Goddard but Laura said she knows what the governor does.

But they all knew the name of the President—at least partly.

A chorus of groans erupted when it was pointed out that school would put a stop to some television-watching.

Last Hikers Make It Out To Safety

Zion National Park, Utah (AP)—The last of 42 wilderness hikers trapped nearly three days by the rampaging Virgin River in a deep, narrow gorge made it to safety Tuesday.

"If there was anybody up there who didn't believe in God, he does now," said Les Frazin of Los Angeles when he came out in the first group of 16 Tuesday.

Frazin was one of five California outdoorsmen earlier listed as missing. Those five stood on a ledge, clung to trees or hid under a waterfall during the flood's fury.

The final nine—four men and five children—waded out Tuesday afternoon.One of the men, Alan Keller of Provo, Utah, was limping. His leg had been hit by a log crashing down the gorge at the height of the flood.

The other 17 got out Monday.

26 Counties Meet 10% Mark In Tax Petition Drive

Omaha (AP)—Twenty-six counties have gone over the 10% mark in the income tax petition drive.

The income tax referendum headquarters reports the latest counties to go over the goal are Washington, Boone, Knox, Richardson and Butler.

Signatures from 10% of the voters in the last election for governor would serve as an injunction against putting the new income tax law into effect. Signatures from 5% of the voters would place the issue on the ballot.

The petitions must be filed with the Secretary of State within 90 days after adjournment of the legislature.

Increase Due In Offutt Personnel

Omaha (AP)—The number of service personnel at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha reportedly will be increased by about 1,000 officers and airmen over a two-year period beginning early next summer.

Col. Elkens Read Jr., base commander, said the increase will mean a construction project to provide living quarters for the new Air Force men and their families.

At present, Offutt, headquarters of the Strategic Air Command, has 12,622 personnel.

Read said the number of persons at the Offutt military community, including personnel and their dependents, now numbers about 37,000.

August Frontier Gains Set Record

Denver, Colo. (UPI) — August passenger gains by Frontier Airlines topped those of any month in the 19-year history of the Denver-based carrier, Frontier President Lewis W. Dymond said.

A record total of 74,245 passengers flew on Frontier flights during August for a 21% increase over the 61,290 passengers flown during the same month one year ago.

The 11 cities in Nebraska served by Frontier recorded 9,865 passengers for a 16% increase over August of 1964.

Alliance boarded 13 passengers on Frontier flights, Chadron 262, Grand Island 928, Hastings 373, Kearney 326, Lincoln 2,769, McCook 240, North Platte 878, Omaha 2,696, Scottsbluff 1,049, and Sidney 151.

The opening of Ross Melton's new drugstore in Mt. Sterling, Ky., was hardly a success. Burglars robbed him first night of $130.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

is L O N G F E L O W

One letter simply stands for another in this example, A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures gives you. The opening of Ross Melton's new drugstore in Mt. Sterling, Ky., was hardly a success. Burglars robbed him first night of $130.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

to L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another in this example. A is used for the three L's. X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Here is a practical little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add three. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures given you.
